Landry speaks at banquet for Christian athletes' club

Coaches and athletes gathered in the Brazos Center Thursday night for the second annual spring banquet of the Brazos Valley Adult Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Dallas Cowboys coach Tom Landry spoke to the crowd of 830 about his desire to get prayer back in the public schools.

"We need to put God back in the marketplace," Landry said. "By not having the Constitutional amendment, we took God out of every place except the church and that promotes the type of moral decay we're seeing today.

"Our kids are being raised on the streets and by peer pressure and we need to put God back in the marketplace.

"We need to make prayer and religion an alternative.

"The Constitution was written to keep government out of the church, not church out of the government.

"I went to Washington to speak before a Congressional committee to try and get an amendment passed, but we failed."

He also discussed his strong religious beliefs.

Landry said that even with all of his success in collegiate and professional football, he still asked himself time and again if this was all life had to offer.

"I kept telling myself that if you're really successful there shouldn't be restlessness or emptiness in your life."

Former Texas A&M free safety Carl Grulich announced that he was returning to the Bryan-College Station area to become the first area director of the FCA.

Grulich promoted the 1984 FCA national summer conference, to be held at Texas A&M June 18-22.

Caldwell High School football coach Bobby Goforth shared Grulich's optimism about the conference and expressed his excitement at being seated next to Landry.

"It's a great honor for a coach from Caldwell to be in a place like this," Goforth said. "It's just an honor to sit next to the coach."

FCA State Director Dennis Conner compared his regime at the organization's Dallas office with that of Landry.

"I feel like Coach Landry, because I'm putting out the Dan Reeves, the Mike Ditka's and the John Makovic's," Conner said, in reference to Grulich's return to the area from the Dallas office.

"We're on the verge of something good here in the next 12 months," Conner said. "I'm looking forward to coming back in a year and seeing the progress."

Accused say they were brainwashed

United Press International
KERRVILLE — A defense attorney for Mark Hamilton, a ranch hand charged with murder in the death of a drifter, said his client was brainwashed by three members of a ranch family also charged with torturing the man to death.

Attorney Bob Denson said Thursday he will file a lawsuit seeking damages for 22-year-old Hamilton against rancher Walter Wesley Ellebracht, 53; his son, Wesley Jr., 31; and daughter-in-law, Joyce, 29.

The Ellebrachts, Hamilton and two other men were charged with murder in the March 13 death of Huntsville, Ala., drifter Anthony Bates.

"Brainwashing may have occurred," Denson said. "I've talked with my client, and there's a lot of damage done to him and his wife. They were shocked, handcuffed. What kind of shape would you be in?"

Hamilton, a ranch employee and Los Angeles native who claimed he and his wife were held captive and tortured, said in a deposition that Bates was tortured to death and cremated.

The Ellebrachts, also charged with aggravated kidnapping, are being held on $200,000 bonds in Kerrville. Hamilton, and defendant Darryl Hunsaker are being held on $50,000 bonds. Bond for defendant Carlton Cardwell, 19, of Taos, N.M., was set at $100,000.

State and federal officials raided the ranch April 6 and freed six people, including Hamilton and Hunsaker, who claimed they were enslaved, tortured and chained in a barn at night.

"When I Went Off to College My Dad Sure Got Smart."

He bought a Cripple Creek Condominium. Now he's enjoying the tax advantages of ownership—he's building equity and he'll have prime rental property after I've graduated. That's important to my dad. But, I'm interested in the amenities Cripple Creek offers—microwave ovens, automatic icemakers, large walk-in closets, tennis courts, a swimming pool, and a hot tub. And Cripple Creek is located in the heart of student living, close to restaurants, shopping, clubs, banking facilities, and it's right on the shuttle bus route. Living at Cripple Creek says that I have style and my dad has a solid investment. My college education will reap benefits for both of us.

Cripple Creek Condominiums start at $39,950.
