Bears maul Aggies

While many students spent a long Easter weekend at home, the Texas A&M baseball team had two game days in Waco, and brought back a loss for each day. The losses dropped the Aggies into second place in the Southwest Conference standings.

On Friday, Kenneth Patterson hit two home runs and Richard Gough added a grand slam to lead Baylor to a 17-12 victory over the 10th-ranked Aggies.

The Bears, accumulated 20 hits off four Texas A&M pitchers and had 10 extra base hits. Starter Tom Arrington, 8-2, received the loss for the Aggies.

Baylor pitchers Craig Gummel and Don Dumas survived 15 A&M hits. Dumas, 4-4, pitched the final five innings to earn the victory.

Keith Shepherd had three doubles for Baylor and Brad Meyer had five RBIs with a pair of doubles.

Astros, Rangers win big road games

United Press International
Sunday was a successful day for both Texas major league ballclubs, with the Houston Astros downing the Atlanta Braves by a 3-1 margin and the Texas Rangers shutting out the New York Yankees for a 4-0 victory.

In Atlanta, Joe Niekro combined with three relievers on a five-hitter and Craig Reynolds and Enos Cabell belted third-inning solo homers to pace the Astros over the Braves.

Niekro, 2-3, permitted two hits over five innings to earn the victory. Reliever Dave Smith surrendered two hits in two innings, Vern Ruhle allowed one hit in 1-3 of an inning and Frank DiPino picked up his third save by holding the Braves hitless over the final 1 2-3 innings.

In New York, pinch hitter Pete O'Brien singled in two runs to cap a four-run eighth inning that carried Danny Darwin and the Rangers past the Yankees.

In capturing the rubber game of the three-game series, the Rangers extended the Yankees' scoreless streak to 24 innings.
