Fifteen musicians to compete in Dallas

United Press International
 DALLAS — Fifteen young violinists, violists and cellists from 11 states and Scotland have been selected as semifinalists in the 53-year-old Dallas Morning News G.B. Dealey Awards competition. The contest, whose past winners include Van Cliburn and Santiago Rodriguez, awards the winner a $7,500 cash prize and a solo appearance with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra during the 1985-86 season.

The semifinalists were chosen from among 91 contestants from 24 states and six foreign countries who competed at auditions in Dallas, New York City, Los Angeles and Bloomington, Ind. Semifinals will be held in Dallas May 2-5, and the three finalists will compete in a free public performance on May 6.
