Campus traffic was temporarily hampered Wednesday afternoon near the intersection of Ross and Ireland Streets by a cement truck which blocked half the street while making a delivery. The cement was used in the construction of a new manhole which will better facilitate the repair of underground telephone wires.

Health department wants bear killed

'Puppy' the bear bites beer buddy

United Press International
FORT WORTH — The city Health Department Wednesday was literally after the head of Puppy the bear, who bit a woman with whom it had shared a few beers.
"State law requires that wild animals that bite a human — no matter why they bite a human — be killed and their heads be examined for rabies," said Charles Vaught of the Fort Worth Health Department.
Puppy the pet bear bit Dorothy Airehart of Arlington on the right hand and arm Sunday night.

A police report indicated Airehart had had five beers that night and had given some beer to the bear.
She was in good condition Wednesday at Arlington Memorial Hospital.
Puppy came within two hours of being "executed" Tuesday by the Health Department, but a judge intervened and advised the city to wait until Puppy's owner, Johnny Morrow, can decide what legal action to take.

Willie comes back to Texas for July 4

United Press International
AUSTIN — Country music superstar Willie Nelson said Wednesday he's staging his annual Fourth of July picnic-concert in Austin this year because "everybody wanted it to come back to Texas."
The day-long outdoor musical extravaganza has not been held in Texas since 1980, when it was staged at Nelson's lakeside country club studio in Austin.
"I hated to leave Texas those years, but it got to be problem finding sites," said Nelson. "It was six months work for me to promote it another six months to take care of lawsuits."
Nelson said he hoped the picnic will become an annual event in the Texas capital now that a permanent home has apparently been found at an 11-acre outdoor concert site that is being refurbished by a Houston promoter.
"I hope there's one next year and I hope it's in Austin," he said. "Everybody wanted to come back to Texas, the people, the pickers, everybody."
Last year, Nelson's Fourth of July concerts were split between Atlanta, East Rutherford, N.J. and Syracuse, N.Y.
The picnic began in 1972 with a concert in Dripping Springs, which is just outside Austin. With the exception of a 1977 picnic in Tulsa, Okla., the concerts were held at different sites in Texas until last year.

Dow Jones stays the same in slow stock day

United Press International
NEW YORK — The stock market went just about nowhere Wednesday in one of the slowest sessions of the year with investors large and small biding their time until the end of the second quarter.
The bond market rebounded a bit following reports that retail sales declined in May and automobile sales declined in the first part of June.

But Argentina's debt problems created some nervousness.
Jewel Cos. attracted attention on takeover speculation. But Walt Disney dropped for the third consecutive session on investor outrage over its buyback of shares from investor Saul Steinberg.
The Dow Jones industrial average, up 5 at the outset after surrendering 5.08 Tuesday, closed at 1,110.53, unchanged. That's the first time that's happened since May 5, 1982 when it closed at 845.45.
The Dow transportation average rose 2.05 to 465.12 but the Dow utilities average lost 0.09 at 123.22.
The New York Stock Exchange index shed 0.07 to 87.74 and the price of an average share decreased two cents. Declines led advances

Among the performers Nelson handpicked to join him this year are Waylon Jennings, Kris Kristofferson, Jessi Colter, Leon Russell, David Allan Coe, Moe Bandy, Johnny Rodriguez, Carl Perkins, Jerry Jeff Walker, Billy Joe Shaver, Gary Busey, Johnny Bush, Faron Young, Floyd Tillman, Steve Fromholz and the Geezenslaw Brothers.
Promoters said only 30,000 tickets — at $16.75 each — will be sold since that is the capacity of the concert site.
Nelson, wearing his familiar pig-tails, jeans and t-shirt, appeared at a news conference to explain why the picnic was returning to Texas after a four-year absence.
"The reason we came back to Austin was because a lot of people wanted us to and because there was facility available," he said.
The 1980 concert at his property produced complaints from his neighbors because of the crush of 60,000 fans and bumper-to-bumper traffic.
"I think anytime you have an event that offends anyone, it's no good for the event," he said. "The places we've had picnics in the past were not the best in the world because there were neighbors."
"Those people moved out to the country to be by themselves," Nelson added. "They have a right to be a little concerned if they wake up and see 50,000 hippies in their front yard."
Vaught said the Health Department had stopped its push for the bear's immediate disposal on the advice of the city legal department.
"We're going to sit right here and wait for our legal department to tell us what to do," he said.
Vaught said the law requires that any wild animal that bites a human be killed immediately and its head removed to be checked for rabies.
"There's no safe quarantine period," he said.
