Auburn ready for Hurricanes

AUBURN, Ala. — Auburn coach Pat Dye says his 1984 team is the "fastest, strongest, best-conditioned football squad" he's had in his four years on the Plains, but don't ask him for specifics.

Dye has decreed that information such as his player's times in the 40-yard dash and bench and leg press totals be kept top secret.

He has also announced the Tigers will hold three major scrimmages before their Aug. 27 Kickoff Classic date with the defending national champion Miami Hurricanes. Dye says he is pleased with the condition of his players.

"Overall, from a speed, strength and conditioning standpoint, from what I've seen so far, this is the fastest, strongest, best-conditioned football squad we've had since I've been at Auburn," Dye said. "That includes our freshman class."

King, a senior and all-American candidate, agreed, saying the dream of the national championship that escaped the Tigers last season had pushed them to their limits getting ready for this year.

"I can't think of another team in the country that can be in this kind of condition," he said. "We've all paid a price this summer for something that eluded us last year."

Pursuit Of The Puck
