"I always thought Earl was a good back," said Phillips, who built his en-tire offense around Campbell dur-ing his days as Oilers' coach. "We're obviously happy to get him. I've never had too many good players.

"This gives us a heck of a backfield. I doubt if he and George would play in the same backfield in too many situations, but they might too many situations, but they might. Earl is a tailback in the I-formation. That's what he does best

"I never talked to the Oilers about this (trade) before. Ladd called Pat Peppler (Saints director of football operations) early this afternoon. Campbell's current contract runs through the 1985 season. New Orleans has a 3-3 record and will be battling this year to win its first playoff spot ever. The Saints are the only current NFL team never to have played a post-season game.

Oilers' coach Hugh Campbell, in his first year on the job and still with-out an NFL victory, said Earl Campbell's attitude was not a problem during the dismal start to the season.

Earl was most cooperative in the ear that I've worked with him and it hurts to see him go," the coach said.
"But I'm glad to see him go where he will have a coach that will take care of him.

"We are very happy to have this additional pick in the first round, and know that it will be a very high quality player who will be selected

Sparky names his coach of the year

SAN DIEGO — Sparky Anderson knows better than to stick his nose into someone else's business.

That's not what he has in mind when he says he has the perfect can-didate for Montreal or any other club looking for a manager.
You know how uninhibited and straight out Detroit's white-haired little leader can be. He doesn't hold anything back. The Expos merely happen to be the club being discussed. He made it pretty plain that what you have to say could be applied to any of the other clubs like the Red Sox, Giants or Mariners without anyone in the manager's chair at the moment.

"The most qualified man to manage anywhere is Roger Craig," he says with a conviction that's nothing any complaints at all. To me, all my less than absolute. Anderson doesn't qualify that one bit. He tells you up and down without any hesitation at all that Craig is entirely responsible for the success of the Tigers' pitching staff and that there isn't anyone better in all baseball at spotting flaws and picking up signs across the field.

He'll also tell you Roger Craig is his good right arm and that without to miss the most.' him, the Tigers might not even be in this World Series with the Padres. That's what Sparky Anderson thinks of his gangling 54-year-old pitching coach. So what's all this talk about "My coaches told me I won too many," Craig laughs.
