ALCOHOL AWARENESS WEEK

IS IT REALLY TRUE THAT ...

ALCOHOL IS A SEXUAL STIMULANT

CONTRARY TO POPULAR BELIEF, THE MORE YOU DRINK THE LESS YOUR SEXUAL CAPACITY. ALCOHOL MAY STIMULATE INTEREST IN SEX, BUT IT INTERFERES WITH THE ABILITY TO PERFORM.

ALCOHOL ISN'T REALLY A DRUG

WRONG. ALCOHOL IS A CENTRAL NERVOUS SYSTEM DEPRESSANT. NOT ONLY IS ALCOHOL A DRUG, IT IS THE #1 ABUSED DRUG IN OUR SOCIETY.

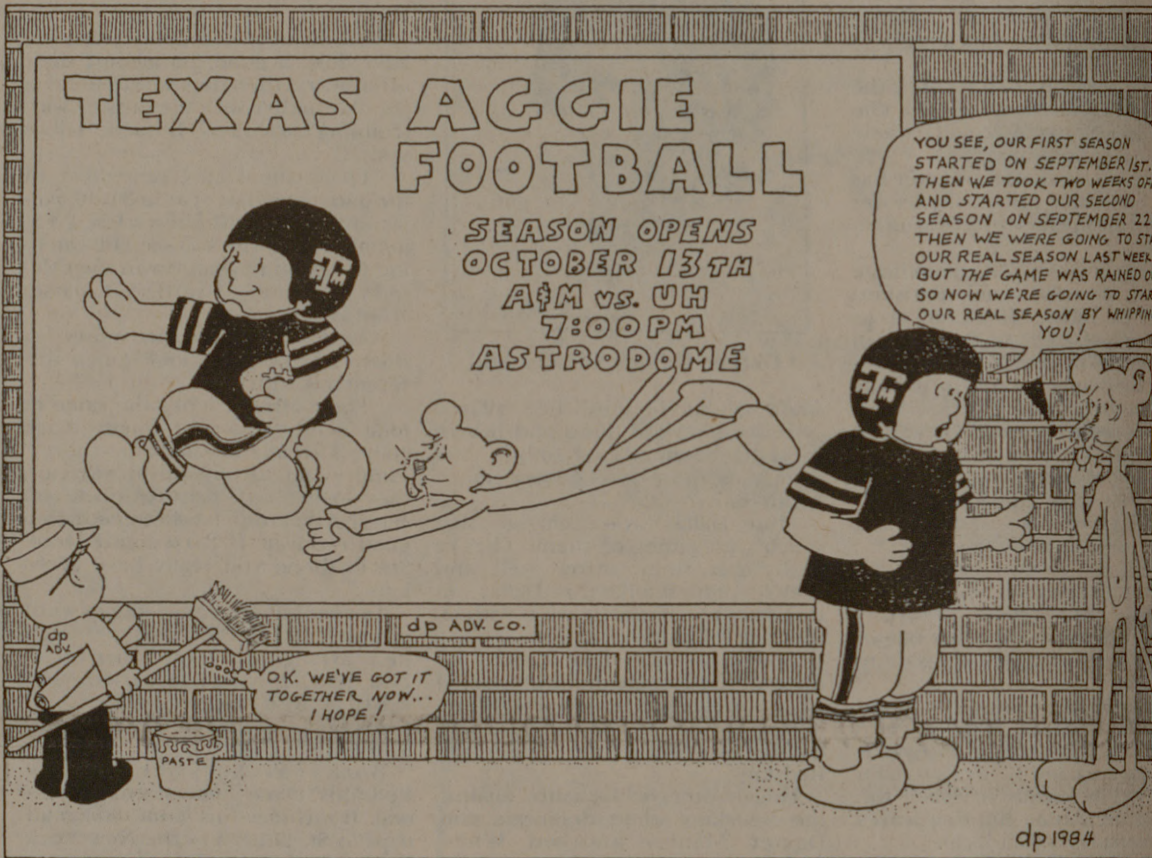

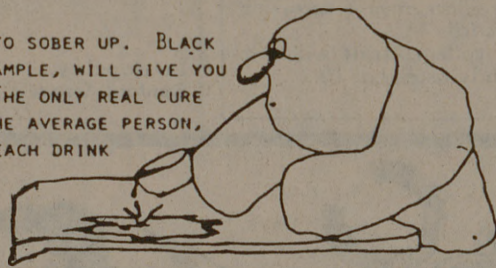

PEOPLE CAN DRIVE SAFELY AFTER 3 OR 4 BEERS

No. You may think you can because the first few drinks create a false sense of well-being and lessen your ability of self-criticism. DRIVERS WITH A BLOOD ALCOHOL LEVEL OF THIS DEGREE (.06% to .08%) ARE SIGNIFICANTLY MORE LIKELY TO BE INVOLVED IN AN ACCIDENT.

BLACK COFFEE AND A COLD SHOWER WILL SOBER YOU UP

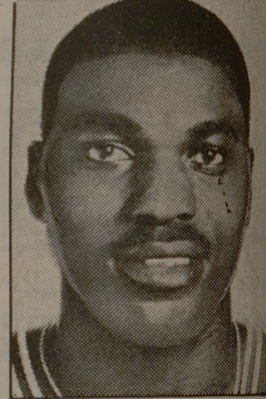

THERE ARE MANY MYTHS ABOUT WAYS TO SOBER UP. BLACK COFFEE AND A COLD SHOWER, FOR EXAMPLE, WILL GIVE YOU A COLD, WET, WIDE-AWAKE DRUNK. THE ONLY REAL CURE FOR INTOXICATION IS TIME. FOR THE AVERAGE PERSON, IT TAKES ONE HOUR TO METABOLIZE EACH DRINK THEY'VE HAD.

Sampson, Olajuwon fulfill Rockets' dream

United Press International
NEW YORK — Last season, the Houston Rockets had a 7-foot-4 center who averaged 21 points and more than 11 rebounds a game and was named Rookie of the Year. So what did the Rockets do on draft day? They selected a 7-foot center. To some, that appears to be a mistake, especially since Houston could have had Michael Jordan, the College Player of the Year. And history says it is difficult to mesh the talents of two big men on one court. But Bill Fitch figured he take a chance at history — a chance to have Ralph Sampson and Akeem Olajuwon in the same frontcourt. Selecting No. 1 in the draft for the second straight year, Houston stayed within the city limits and chose Olajuwon, college basketball's most devastating shot-blocker. With rookies and numerous trades, other NBA clubs have also beehived up their strength, mounting a major challenge to the Boston Celtics. The Celtics, the defending champions, begin their quest for a 16th title in the season opener Oct. 26 at Detroit. Boston beat the Los Angeles Lakers in a classic seven-game series that pitted the bruising Eastern Conference style against the run-and-gun Western format. Of all the off-season moves in the NBA, Houston's draft day coup seemed to be the most significant. "When we got Akeem this year, I was stunned," says Fitch. "Like I told someone after the coin flip, 'Just because you go to Las Vegas, doesn't mean you expect to hit the jackpot.'" Thus, the mightiest of the University of Houston's "Phi Slamma Jamma" fraternity, combines with Sampson, who will shift to power forward, for two-thirds of a front-line that is potentially awesome. Potentially is the key word here. The Sampson-Olajuwon combination recalls another such experiment with two dominant centers — the 1964-65 season when the San Francisco Warriors teamed Wilt Chamberlain and Nate Thurmond. After losing 16 of their first 21 games, the Warriors shipped Chamberlain to Philadelphia in mid-season. "The sure and proven thing to do would be to take three veteran players in a trade," Fitch admits. "But we think these guys will complement each other and be around awhile." Houston's Akeem Olajuwon

Sampson says he doesn't mind switching to forward. "Under any circumstances, I'm happy we're getting Akeem," Sampson said. Olajuwon is equally thrilled to be Sampson's teammate. "I'm excited about playing with Ralph," said the 20-year-old Nigerian, who signed a 6-year contract. "Houston is the city I know and like best in America and it's where I wanted to play all along. The fact that we have Ralph and myself here makes it even better. I think we can win a championship." However, Oct. 26 is the day that court matters become history.
