Dear Joe:

I applaud your courageous decision to seek election to Congress from the sixth congressional district of Texas. I believe that we will be working from a position of strength this year, and candidates like you will enable us to translate that strength into victories in the House of Representatives.

I am tremendously encouraged by the direction that this country is taking and the progress that has been made toward economic recovery. If we are to reach our final goal, sustained recovery throughout America, we need leaders like you in the House. We need representatives who will provide foresight, wisdom, and courage.

In the next several months you and I will be asking the American people for their vote. Their answer will indicate whether we continue the policies that are bringing change in America or whether we revert to the failed policies of the past. I am confident that your record of leadership and service to your community and State will provide you the winning margin on election day.

You may be sure that I look forward to working with you in the 99th Congress.

Sincerely,

Ronald Reagan

Hogs only 3 yards from major upset

United Press International
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — Arkansas coach Ken Hatfield Sunday didn't sound like a man whose team had come three yards from an upset of the nation's No. 3 college football team.

The Razorbacks trailed, 24-3, to Texas at Austin early in the fourth quarter, but scored two touchdowns and almost came up with a third on the game's last play in the 24-18 loss.

"In that environment, with a sell-out crowd, bad conditions and five turnovers in the first half, we could have been blown out," Hatfield said. "But our players didn't give up. That's the spirit we've been trying to capture as a coaching staff."

"One of the big reasons an athlete comes to Arkansas is to play in this game. We played as a fighting, scrapping team the whole game."

For three quarters, most of the 77,809 fans at Memorial Stadium didn't know or care if it was a blow-out. Arkansas senior quarterback Brad Taylor failed to complete a pass until the fourth quarter, while the Longhorns, led by safety Jerry Gray, picked off four Taylor passes.

The Hogs and Longhorns each finished with six turnovers on a day that began rainy and ended in sunshine.

"In the first half, our game plan just didn't work," Hatfield said at Fayetteville. "We couldn't maintain our blocks. They really played our passes well. Twice in the first half we had their cornerbacks beaten deep and Jerry Gray came out of nowhere to make interceptions."

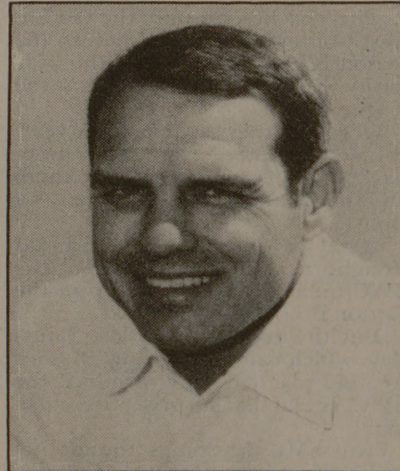

In the second half, the Hogs were able to change their pass patterns to crossing routes because the heat and humidity slowed the Texas pass rush, Hatfield said.

After Texas' final score, a 23-yard Jeff Ward field goal with 13:36 left, "We only ran two plays the rest of the day that we had practiced (last week)," Hatfield said.

In the final 13:36, Taylor hit 14 of 22 passes for 201 yards, with seven of those, including a 54-yard scoring play, going to sophomore James Shibe.

"We had some great individual efforts in the fourth quarter," Hatfield said.

The Arkansas defense aided the comeback by forcing two turnovers — a Terry Orr fumble as he leaped for an apparent touchdown. The fumble, which led to a 99-yard scoring drive, and an interception by Nathan Jones after the Razorbacks cut the lead to 24-18.

Arkansas Coach Ken Hatfield

"To win the Southwest Conference, you have to have great defense," Hatfield said. "No one has ever come into this league and won a championship with offense, and it won't be any different this year. Texas has a great defense."

After the interception, Taylor marched the Hogs to the Texas 13 with 1:16 left. Hatfield then called a pass for halfback Bobby Joe Edmonds, who, Hatfield said, was tackled as he left the line of scrimmage. Arkansas was penalized for clipping, with the 20-yard penalty pushing the Hogs back to the 33.

"Instead of Texas getting penalized, they took us away from our game plan," Hatfield said.

A pass interference penalty on Texas gave the Hogs new life at the 23, and they picked up a first down at the 12 on a pass and a run. A false start penalty and a delay call sent Arkansas back to the 22.

"On the next to last play, Marshall Foreman was open," Hatfield said, "but they rushed Brad and he couldn't get him the ball."

After offsetting penalties on the play that exhausted the final six seconds, Arkansas got one play with zeroes on the clock.

"If Brad could have stepped into the pocket and hit Jamie Lueders on the run, he would have scored," Hatfield said. "He was rushed and was going backwards and had to float the ball."

Tony Tillmon and John Hagy dragged Lueders down at about the 3, preserving Texas' 4-0-1 record, 2-0 in the Southwest Conference. Arkansas fell to 3-2-1 and 1-2 in the league.

Cardinal field goal drops 'Skins to 5-3

United Press International
ST. LOUIS — Neil O'Donoghue, who earlier missed a game-tying extra point and a 40-yard field goal, kicked a 21-yard field goal with three seconds remaining to lift the St. Louis Cardinals to a 26-24 victory Sunday over the Washington Redskins.

The winning drive started on the Cardinals 33 with 2:18 left in the game. St. Louis ground out 59 yards in 10 plays with the key play coming on a 20-yard pass from Neil Lomax to Pat Tilley that left the Cardinals on the Washington 8.

Lomax quickly passed out of bounds to stop the clock at 5 seconds. After an offside penalty against Washington moved the ball to the 4, O'Donoghue nailed the game-winner.

The winning kick redeemed the Cardinals place kicker for missing an earlier game-tying extra point that followed an 83-yard scoring bomb to Roy Green with 11:51 left in the game.

O'Donoghue then missed on a 40-yard field goal with 2:53 left and that appeared to erase all of the Cardinals chances for victory.

But the St. Louis defense stopped the Redskins without a first down, forcing a punt. Lomax then engineered the final drive.

The win raised the Cardinals season record to 5-3 and snapped Washington's 5-game winning streak, dropping the Redskins also to 5-3 in the NFC East Division.

Lomax engineered two scoring drives and the Cardinals' defense held Washington to just 113 yards in the first half for a 10-7 lead.

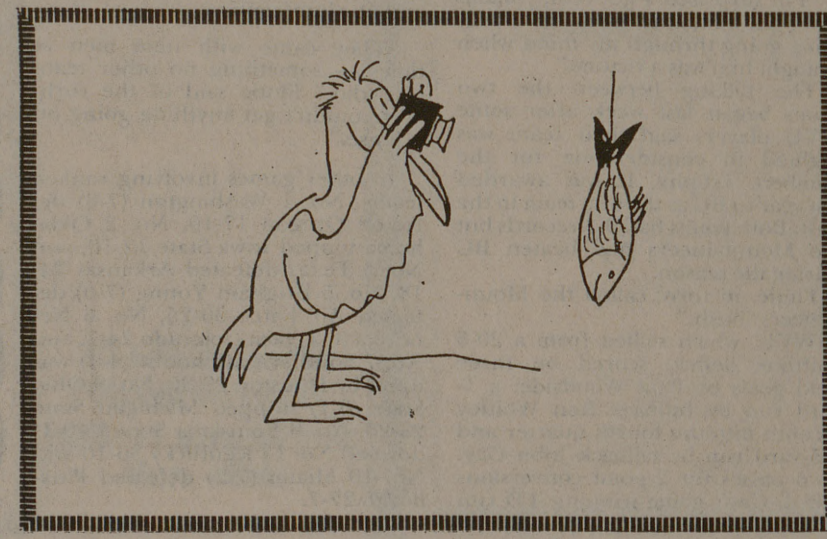

St. Louis jumped to a quick 7-0 lead after Danny Pittman returned the opening kickoff 43 yards to the Cardinal 48. Four plays later, Lomax hit Green up the middle between three defenders for a 38-yard scoring strike. O'Donoghue added the extra point with 12:35 showing.

St. Louis took a 10-7 lead in the second quarter aided by a roughing the punter penalty against Charles Mann. The Cardinals moved 52 yards before the drive stalled and settled for a 29-yard-field goal by O'Donoghue with 10:17 left before halftime.

The Cardinals' defense sacked Theismann four times in the first half, the last one coming just before intermission with Washington in scoring position. The Redskins had moved from their own 48 to the St. Louis 5. On first-and-goal, Theismann was sacked by blitzing safety Lee Nelson and fumbled the ball away to linebacker Kurt Allerman.

The Cardinals moved 84 yards in nine plays with Lomax firing a 19-yard scoring strike to Doug Marsh and O'Donoghue PAT cut Washington's lead to 21-17.

Moseley capped a nine play drive with a 39-yard field goal with 11:51 left in the game to give the Redskins a 24-17 lead it was to lose in the fourth quarter.
