Aggie group performs at the Tyler Rose Festival

Singing Cadets perform for 5,500

By ANN BRIMBERRY
 Reporter
 The Texas A&M Singing Cadets performed at the Tyler Rose Festival pre-parade show to a crowd of about 5,500 in Tyler Rose Stadium Saturday.
 "We were put on the 50-yard line and sang for about 25 minutes," Jeff Cox, Singing Cadet tour manager said. "The audience was very perceptive and seemed to be very excited."

The Tyler Chamber of Commerce hosted the 74-member singing tour group during their two-day visit.
 "This was our first weekend trip for the semester," Cox said. "Most of our weekend trips are in the spring. We already have three tours for Dallas, San Antonio and Houston scheduled for next semester."
 Publicity Manager John Pizzitola said the Singing Cadets are a touring group designed to spread the Aggie spirit around Texas.

 "When we go on tour, the local Aggie Mother's Club is usually our host," Cox said. "It's great because everyone plans for us and they treat us like kings."
 Each year during the Christmas break the Singing Cadets go on a 10-day tour. This year they will travel throughout South Central Texas.
 The Singing Cadets hold auditions each semester for new members. "This fall 70 people tried and 26 were selected," Cox said. "Members must also maintain overall 2.0 GPR."

 The Cadets practice from 5 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday under the direction of Robert Boone.
 The next performance will be Kyle Field on Nov. 11 during Veteran's Day re-dedication at Westgate Memorial honoring World War I heroes.

Train wreck kills one, seriously injures another

United Press International
 ALVARADO — A 41-car Santa Fe train hurtled into a train hauling freight in pre-dawn darkness Sunday south of Fort Worth, killing a brakeman and seriously injuring the Santa Fe engineer.
 The collision involved more than a hundred cars, some tankers, but authorities said there was no apparent danger of chemical spillage or threat of evacuation.

 "Although there were some tanker cars on board," said Larry Todd, spokesman for the Department of Public Safety. "They were checked, and it was determined that there was no threat to the public. They were hauling some sort of a vinyl (chemical product)."

He said the train broadsided the other at a railroad crossing, but investigators had not determined why the collision took place.
 "We have a big pileup," said Tommie Bassinger, spokeswoman for the Alvarado fire department. "At least 39 cars will have to be cleared from the tracks I understand. It's a mess. The cleanup may take a good while, maybe all night."

 The collision took place shortly after 6:30 a.m. in a sparsely populated section of the city, she said.
 "We're lucky nobody had been evacuated," she said. "This is the first wreck like this I can remember."
 A spokesman for Santa Fe said he was unavailable for comment Sunday.
