Fair opens with a bang, to close quietly, in debt

United Press International
NEW ORLEANS — Closing ceremonies for the debt-ridden World's Fair Sunday will contrast sharply from the gala opening celebration that signaled high hopes for an event billed as a six-month Mardi Gras.
"Let the good times roll," Gov. Edwin Edwards declared at the May 12 opening of the $350 million Louisiana World Exposition.
Thousands of balloons, a barrage of daylight fireworks and blue and white sprays from fire boats filled the air. Jazz bands blared, church bells rang and more than 50,000 people cheered on that sunny day filled with optimism.

"A million square feet of things to do and see," a smiling fair President Petr Spurney said. "A feast for the mind, a feast for the eye and a feast for the palate."
Six months later and millions of dollars in debt, the fair has lived up to its billing as a feast for the senses.
But too few visitors passed through the turnstiles, and the expo by Edwards' reckoning was an economie disaster. The fair, unable to spring for a lavish farewell, will close quietly Sunday.

Closing ceremonies will begin 7 p.m. in the amphitheater. No one will be admitted to the 84-acre Mississippi River site after 8 p.m.
Scheduled entertainment includes Irma Thomas, Pete Fountain and an 84-piece clarinet choir, a Norwegian jazz band, the Gospel Soul Children and the Southern University band.
A Norwegian ship, a two-masted schooner and the Riverboat Natchez also will be docked at the fair.

Tech football player dies in wreck

United Press International
LUBBOCK — A Texas Tech football player was killed and another man seriously injured in a two-car accident early Sunday, and officials appointed a special team to investigate the wreck.
Kerry Bruno, 21, a reserve strongside linebacker for the Red Raiders, died Sunday at Lubbock General Hospital of injuries sustained in a 2:26 a.m. collision at a Lubbock intersection, officials said.

Police said two cars, each carrying three people, were involved in the wreck. Bruno was a passenger in the front seat of a car traveling eastbound.

The driver of the second car, Bennie Cooper of Lubbock, was in serious but stable condition Sunday, a hospital spokeswoman said. Cooper, 28, was in the surgical intensive care unit with a head injury.
A Texas Tech spokesman said Bruno, 21, was riding in a car with Tech teammates.
