Third premature quintuplet dies

United Press International

SAN ANTONIO — A third quintuplet born prematurely last week to a Greek woman died Wednesday at an Air Force hospital, officials said.

The infant girl, known only as Baby E, died at 11:50 a.m. from respiratory problems associated with her premature birth, said Lila Aguirre, public affairs director at Willford Hall Medical Center at Lackland Air Force Base.

Death came after the baby survived cardiac arrests Monday and Tuesday, doctors said.

The quintuplets were born by Caesarean section at about 6 p.m. Friday to Kyra Afentakis, 30, of Greece. The first born, a boy, died about 6 hours later. The third born, a girl, died at about 4:30 a.m. Monday.

The two remaining quintuplets, a boy and a girl, remain in critical condition with heart and lung problems and are breathing with the aid of special respirators, Aguirre said.

The quintuple birth, which was 4 weeks premature, was apparently induced by a bacterial infection in the mother's lower genital tract, Air Force doctors said Monday.

Afentakis went into premature labor Nov. 1, Nov. 5 and Nov. 19, but labor activity was halted each time with drugs. When she went into hard labor on Friday, doctors decided to remove the infants through a Caesarean.

Afentakis took the fertility drug Pergonal before the quintuplets were conceived. They are her first children.

Houston GOP claims ballots cast illegally

United Press International

HOUSTON — Harris County Republican Party officials Wednesday began giving county and federal prosecutors evidence that they claim shows thousands of illegal ballots were cast in the Nov. 6 election.

Infractions occurred in 40 of 135 precincts where the GOP placed poll watchers, county Chairman Ross Mather said. The precincts were either predominantly black or Hispanic, where most voters punched a straight Democratic ticket, he said.

"It's not five or 10, or even 100 or 200," Mather said. "It could run in the thousands."

Mather claimed the violations were committed by election judges, clerks and voters, and each irregularity was challenged by the poll watchers when the ballot was cast.

GOP officials said the violations included allowing people who were registered at vacant lots or business addresses to vote even after their residency was challenged; illegal assistance by election officials who instructed voters to mark a straight Democratic ticket; and people who were not registered but were allowed to vote after showing identification.

Harris County Democratic Party Chairman Barbara Stanley predicted nothing would come of the GOP's allegations.

"The things I have heard them talking about sound very similar to the complaints we had from Republican precincts, which I haven't done anything about — yet," she said.

Mather said he does not know if the challenges would change the outcome of any elections.

Party officials planned to continue giving the documentation to the U.S. attorney and the district attorney today, a spokeswoman said Wednesday.

Reagan considers budget changes

United Press International

WASHINGTON — President Reagan Wednesday delayed a decision on recommendations by budget director David Stockman on how to make a series of cuts in social programs and whether to slow down military spending.

The president met for 90 minutes with a dozen members of his "core group" of economic advisers in the Cabinet room to review "a lengthy list of domestic and military programs," spokesman Larry Speakes said.

Before the meeting, Speakes, a member of the group, said Reagan would tell Stockman which of hundreds of programs to cut. After the meeting, however, he said, "The president made no decisions."

Speakes said Reagan told the group he was not ready to make a decision, and, "He wanted to hear more details."

The president is seeking to reduce a budget deficit now approaching $200 billion to $100 billion within three years.

The president has ruled out any cuts in Social Security.

Among programs facing deep cuts are farm supports, veterans' benefits, student loans and the retirement programs for Civil Service and the military.

Final decisions will be made in the next several days, Speakes said, although they may not be publicly announced until the fiscal 1986 budget is formally sent to Congress in late January or early February.

Reagan — who has promoted adoption of a constitutional amendment requiring a balanced budget — was asked in an interview with the Washington Times Wednesday why he would not simply submit a balanced budget to Congress.

His answer: "I don't think there's anyone that would suggest that at this point ... not without hurting an awful lot of people. What I think you have to do is look down the road and say, 'Let's aim at a target here that we're going to get this budget on a declining pattern.'"

He said when spending comes down far enough and economic growth rises far enough "those two lines are going to meet some day and when they meet, you've balanced the budget."
