Ex-Ranger not happy as a Yankee

Associated Press
POMPANO BEACH, Fla. — Toby Harrah, the first shortstop the Texas Rangers ever had, is unhappy about his future with the New York Yankees and says he would like to return to Texas.

Harrah said Monday that he has asked the Yankees to trade him. Rangers General Manager Tom Grieve told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram that he has had discussions with the Yankees about a possible trade.

"Under the right circumstances," Grieve said, "it's an interesting thought, and it's one we've discussed. I haven't been in touch with the Yankees today, but we have talked in general with them before."

Harrah, who still maintains an off-season home in Fort Worth, said he'd "love" to come back to Arlington, where he played for seven seasons. Although Harrah said he would like a shot at second base, he added that a starting job would not be a necessity.

"I'd play anywhere for them," Harrah said. "To get to go back and play for the Rangers would be the chance of a lifetime."

"I absolutely believe I could play second. There's not a doubt in my mind. But if I could get back to Texas, I'd be satisfied just to be on the grounds crew."

Harrah, who is unhappy with the Yankees' plans to platoon him in the outfield with Ken Griffey, hit just .217 with one home run and 26 RBIs last season.

Longhorns rise to No. 2 in ESPN's baseball poll

Associated Press
TUCSON, Ariz. — Mississippi State, scoring wins in its first two games of the 1985 season, remained atop the latest ESPN collegiate baseball poll this week, and Texas, 7-2, climbed from fourth to second place.

Miami, Fla., 12-5, held onto third, but Arizona, which wasn't even mentioned in preseason, shot from 12th place last week to fourth in posting a 19-3 season mark. The Wildcats, winners of 18 of their last 19 games including taking three straight from last week's No. 7 team, San Diego State, 7-3, were the nation's hottest team, according to the newspaper.

Florida State, 12-2, dropped from fourth to fifth, while Oklahoma and Oklahoma State, both 0-0, dropped from fifth and sixth to sixth and seventh, respectively. Stanford, 11-3, remained in eighth place, followed by California-Santa Barbara, 10-4-2, and Florida, 8-2, jumped from 15th to 10th, replacing New Orleans.

Others in the top 20: Lamar, 6-2; San Diego State, UCLA, 11-5; North Carolina, 5-3; Georgia Tech, 2-0; Pepperdine, 6-3-1; New Orleans, 3-3; Texas-Arlington, 6-3; California, 14-6, and Hawaii, 13-5.

The poll rates teams on the basis of strength of schedule, returning players, voting by a nationwide panel of coaches, sports writers and sports information directors, as well as other information.

RESUME TIPS
by Rosangela King
A good resume plays a major role in helping you get the jobs you want. Please, take time to make it a GOOD presentation of your abilities. If you don't have the expertise to put together a professional resume, call me for an appointment and I'll be glad to assist you. You may also do research into this topic and become more knowledgeable of it. It's very important that your resume look professional, your whole career is partly depending on it. An ENTRY LEVEL RESUME is the one most used by those about to complete their education. It emphasizes scholastic abilities and school activities, unless pertinent work history is available. On an ENTRY LEVEL resume you have the chance to highlight some of your most significant courses, whether in your major or not, that particularly prepare you for your desired job. Next week, we will look into the most common sections of a resume. Don't miss it!
