Monday, March 4, 1985/The Battalion/Page 3

STATE AND LOCAL

Go For the Gusto

Residents of Dunn Hall concluded a week of athletic competition this weekend with a football tournament. The floor that collected the most competition points won the "bragging rights" to the dorm. The first floor won the contest for the fourth year in a row.

Faculty Senate will meet today

By KIRSTEN DIETZ Staff Writer

Procedures for department head selection, evaluation and retention will be discussed by the Faculty Senate today at 3:15 p.m. in Lecture Hall I of the Medical Sciences Build-

Also, the academic affairs committee will read a resolution to establish a subcommittee to study a standardized course and instructor evaluation policy, as requested by the new undergraduate and graduate ourses and course withdrawals.

speaker, says no action will be taken on the department head procedures proposal. The proposal would stan-dardize the methods of selecting, evaluating and retaining department heads.

Milford says a recent poll showed 25 percent of the faculty had no idea how department heads were selected in their colleges. He says selection procedures currently are up to each dean's discretion.

The Faculty Senate will hear rec-ommendations for the approval of standardized course and instructor changes in the geology curriculum, evaluation form could be established without formal action of the Senate, Milford says, but the academic af-

Murray Milford, Faculty Senate fairs committee felt the resolution should be passed to formally en-dorse the subcommittee.

> The University Curriculum Committee has submitted a proposal to add two hours to the Bachelor of Science curriculum in geology. The proposal suggests adding 12 hours and deleting 10 hours.

The Senate also will hear a propo-sal to revise six computer science courses and add two new computer science courses.

The Curriculum Committee also recommends approval of eight new courses in seven departments and the withdrawal of seven industrial, vocational and technical education courses.

Water plan negotiations

Legislature to confer

Associated Press

Associated Press AUSTIN — Senate conferees are expected to be named today so House-Senate negotiations can be-House-Senate negotiations can be-Housegin on the different versions of a who will sit on the 10-member con- about two weeks ago. ference committee.

Montford, D-Lubbock that calls for statewide water plan passed by the two houses. $1.2 million in water bonds passed 29-1 on Wednesday. Craddick's House bill calling for $800 million in water development bonds plus $250

The Senate version includes $400 The House conferees are Reps. million in bonds for state partici-Tom Craddick, R-Midland; Gerald pation in local projects; $200 million for water supply projects; $200 mil-lion for water quality projects, $200 million for flood control, and $200 million for agriculture conservation loans.

The House bill has $400 million for water supply projects, $200 mil-lion for water quality projects and $200 million for flood control.

The Senate bill would require 41 new state employees at an annual cost of $2.1 million while the House bill would require 53 new employees at an annual cost of 2.4 million.

Corps development board adds 40 members to council

By DAINAH BULLARD

Staff Writer

When the Corps of Cadets Development Council meets in fall 1985, it will be about 40 members stronger. The Council's 15-member Board of Directors decided at its Saturday meeting to approve the nominations to the council before the fall meeting. Saturday's gathering was the third meeting of the Council, which was or-ganized about a year ago to oversee scholarship funding, publicity, re-cruiting and other elements of the Corner

The Council is the youngest of 12 development committees organized under the Texas A&M University Development Foundation. The Council has six committees dealing with Corps membership, recruiting, leadership development, scholarship, public relations and development and cadet life.

Permanent members of the board of directors include the Corps com-mandant, the Corps commander and the president elect of the Association the president elect of the Association the president-elect of the Associaton of Former Students. The remaining 12 board members were appointed to one, two or three-year terms by a steering committee in fall 1983. Yori I W. Harold Sellers, chairman of the geant. board, said the jobs of the committee range from developing the Sul Ross among cadets. "I want to do everything possible to enhance the Corps of Cadets, not only for the people here now, but for those who come later," said Sellers, gram. Class of '56.

Under the direction of the com-mittee, the number of Sul Ross Scholarships has swelled from about 30 in 1983, to 111 in 1985. The scholarships are granted to high school seniors with outstanding scholastic and athletic or extracurricular back-ground who demonstrate financial need. Recipients, limited to freshman and sophomore cadets, receive $2,400 over four semesters. There is no obligation to the military other than membership in the Corps.

Sellers said the board is excited about the growing number of Sul Ross Scholarships

During its meeting, the board heard a report on recruiting pro-grams from Albert Muller, public relations officer for the Corps, and members on behalf of the Corps for Yori Escalante, public relations ser- their help and encouragement.

civic awareness and responsibility Corps' four recruiting programs: the Replacement Badge program, the Christmas recruiting program, the Aggie for a Day program and the Spend the Night with the Corps pro-

> Muller said the most effective program is the Spend the Night with the Corps program in which high school and college students interested in the Corps visit the campus and spend the night with cadets. About 95 percent of the people who participate in the program join the Corps, Muller said.

> "There's one heck of a lot of moti-vation that's flowing," he said. "It just grabs them. This, right now, is our grabs them. This, right now, is our best recruiting program." Col. Donald L. Burtón, Corps commandant, also praised the Spend the Night with the Corps program. "The program is good," he said. "It's more than just spending the night with the Corps. They go to school events they go to classes they school events, they go to classes, they go to labs, and they see more than just the dorms and the quadrangle."

Muller also thanked the board

"The Corps Development Council In his presentation, Muller re- means so much to us as cadets, and Scholarship program to emphasizing ported on the effectiveness of the we never get to say enough," he said.

THANKS

FROM

TO CITY OF BRYAN-COLLEGE STATION KAMU-TV AND