BUD LIGHT.

PRESENTS

GREAT LIGHTS IN HISTORY

64 A.D. EMPEROR NERO COMES UP WITH A BRIGHT IDEA FOR ENDING URBAN BLIGHT.

Nero's fiddling around with bright ideas wouldn't have been necessary if Bud Light had been served at all those toga parties. It's the less-filling light beer with the first name in taste. So, friends and countrymen, bring out your best. Serve Bud Light at your next toga party. Or ask for it at your favorite beeratorium.

EVERYTHING ELSE IS JUST A LIGHT.

Cannon's short NFL stint may be Cowboy history

Former A&M standout Billy Cannon (above) may have his NFL career cut short by a spinal injury suffered last season.

Associated Press

DALLAS — The professional football career of Dallas Cowboy second-year linebacker Billy Cannon Jr. may have been ended by a spinal injury, team officials say.

Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry told Cannon, a former All-Southern Conference performer at Texas A&M, Tuesday that he has not received medical clearance to play for the National Football League this season.

A congenital spinal condition, complicated during the 1984 season when Cannon tackled New Orleans Saints running back Wayne Wilson, Cannon was knocked unconscious and suffered brief paralysis in his arms and legs before being helped from the field.

"Billy is very down, as you might expect," Landry said. "This was a very tough decision for us. But we can't pass him when these doctors show us the extent of the injury. It's just too bad that he got hit the way he did."

A few days after the injury, doctors discovered spinal damage and now fear Cannon could be paralyzed by another head-on collision.

"The reports we received from the neurosurgeon just aren't good," Landry said. "I don't think he will be able to play. That could change, but we kind of doubt it. Of course, I'm not saying anything is impossible. But as long as we get the negative reports, there isn't much we can do."

Cannon, the Cowboys' 1984 No. 1 draft pick, could not be reached for comment.

Texas, Florida favored to win NCAA swimming, diving title

Associated Press

AUSTIN — The Texas Longhorns hope the home pool advantage in the 1985 NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships will be as kind to them as it was in 1981.

Stanford is the nation's No. 1 ranked team by Swimming World magazine going into the three-day meet starting Thursday. Defending champion Florida Gators are strong again, but Texas has already received a confidence booster.

Texas' Lady Longhorns earned the women's NCAA swimming and diving title last week.

And the Longhorn men will be swimming in the same pool where they earned the national title in 1981.

While Stanford boasts the greatest number of individual champions, the new NCAA rules allowing for 16 scored places in the finals may favor the depth of the Gators and the Horns.

Texas Coach Eddie Reese said, if he had to bet, he'd put his money on his brother and the defending champion Gators.

The Gators are coached by Randy Reese, Eddie's brother. Florida boasts five '84 Los Angeles Olympians.

"They are tough because of their depth," said Texas' Reese. "It will be hard for any team to stay with them for three nights."

UCLA, Cal-Berkeley and USC also will field strong teams.

"The last time Texas won they were at home in their own pool and it really gives them a big edge," said SMU Coach George McMillon.

The 1985 championships return all but one of last year's individual champions.

Texas Olympian Rick Carey retired from collegiate swimming, even though he was only a junior.

Olympian Pablo Morales of Stanford, last year's individual high point winner, heads the list of returnees. Morales is the defending champion in three events including the 200-yard individual medley and the 100- and 200-yard butterflies.

Other returning champions include George DiCarlo of Arizona (500-yard freestyle), Tom Jager of UCLA (50- and 100-yard freestyles), Mike Heath of Florida (200-yard freestyle), John Moffet of Stanford (100- and 200-yard breaststrokes), Ricardo Prado of SMU (400-yard individual medley), and Jeff Kostoff of Stanford (1,650-yard freestyle).

There also will be a foreign flavor to the meet.

Jon Sieben of Alabama, who won the gold medal for Australia in the '84 L.A. Games, is the current world record holder in the 200-meter butterfly.

Jens-Peter Berndt, the East German who was ruled eligible by the NCAA in late February, has qualified in three events for Alabama.

Berndt defected in the Oklahoma City Airport in January. He will swim in the 400- and 200-yard individual medleys and the 200-yard backstroke.

Mark Stockwell, a junior from Brisbane, Australia who won two silver medals and a bronze in the '84 Summer Games, will be swimming for Florida in the 50- and 100-yard freestyles.

Time trials and finals began Thursday at the ultra swift University of Texas pool in the 500-yard freestyle, 200-yard individual medley, 50-yard freestyle, 400-yard medley relay and preliminaries, semifinals and finals will be held in the one-meter diving.

Randy Reese of Florida spoke at a press conference on Wednesday and tried to take some of the heat off the Gators.

"Just because we are going for our third championship in a row doesn't mean there's any special dominance," said Florida's Reese. "The meet is far from over. There are several other teams who could win it and Stanford is my pick."

Eddie Reese of Texas agreed that Stanford will be tough.

"Stanford has the most raw speed of any team that has ever been in the NCAA's," said Texas' Reese. "It's scary how fast they are. I timed them in workouts today and they were something."

Texas Diving Coach Mike Brown said there was tremendous talent in the diving events.

"I'd say from top to bottom the field here is better than the one at the Olympic Games in Los Angeles," Brown said. "Anyone in the field of 12 could win."

Eddie Reese said the Horns probably would "get a big lift" from swimming in their own pool.

"Other teams get excited about swimming here and it probably gets them more pumped up than us," Reese said. "However, we do have the homecrowd advantage and I hope it helps us a lot. We'll need it."
