Student Senate group cancels gripe session

By PAULA SAADEH
Reporter

The Issues and Grievances Committee meeting scheduled for tonight has been cancelled and is rescheduled for April 22.

The committee is designed to discuss various issues concerning Student Senate and follow up on these issues.

"But no one showed up for the last meeting," said Wayne Roberts, former vice president of student services for Student Government.

The Issues and Grievances Committee gives students a chance to voice their opinions, Roberts said. The committee tries to get feedback from the students about problems around the campus, he said.

"We'd cut a lot of the malarkey that goes on if the students would make time to come in and voice their opinions," he said. "I think students

Association to hold initiation banquets

By TAMARA BELL
Staff Writer

About 800 graduating seniors are expected to attend the Senior Induction Banquet sponsored by the Association of Former Students tonight and Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in 224 Memorial Student Center.

The banquet will honor graduating seniors by officially inducting them into the association, said Polly Powell, assistant to the field director.

The speaker for the banquet is Davis L. Ford, president of the former students' association.

"Dr. Ford will speak to the seniors about the association," Powell said. "Then he will officially initiate them into the organization."

During the banquet, Class of '85 class agents will be elected. A ballot will be placed at each plate. The candidates will be introduced and a summary of their accomplishments will be read. Then, the seniors will vote.

Houston gays list business enemies

Associated Press

HOUSTON — The Gay Political Caucus in Houston has compiled an "enemies" list of bankers, doctors and businesses that contributed to an anti-gay job rights campaign earlier this year.

The group says it is urging its members and supporters not to do business with those on the list, but insists the action is not a boycott.

"We're not telling our people what to do, we're merely suggesting things to them," Ray Hill, caucus chairman, said in a recent interview.

Gay leaders say the people and businesses on the list contributed to a campaign to fight two proposed ordinances that would have barred the city from discriminating against homosexuals in its hiring practices. The proposals were defeated by a 4-to-1 margin in a January referendum.

Councilman John Goodner, who spearheaded opposition to the ordinances, scoffed at the Caucus' insistence the measure is not a boycott.

"I don't think there's anything illegal about it, and its entirely their prerogative to do it," Goodner said. "I just think they ought to call it what it really is."

But Councilman Frank Mancuso
