Symphonic Band will hold concert

Performance tonight at 8

By TRENT LEOPOLD
Staff Writer

The Texas A&M University Symphonic Band will perform their fourth concert of the season tonight in the A&M Consolidated High School Auditorium.

Bill J. Dean Jr., director of the 75-member band, said Monday the band will perform pieces including marches and overtures.

The flute section will perform "Flight of the Bumblebee," and two members of the percussion section will play a duet, Dean said.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. concert are $2 for non-students and $1 for students.

The A&M Consolidated High School Band is sponsoring the concert.

They can be bought at the door before the concert or from A&M Consolidated band members, Dean said.

The brass section of the Texas A&M Symphonic Band rehearses for tonight's concert.

Council OKs Rumours food service proposal

By TAMARA BELL
Staff Writer

In its final meeting of the semester the Memorial Student Center Council for 1984-85 approved a recommendation Monday night allowing the University Department of Food Services to prepare food in Rumours.

The recommendation, from the building operations committee, proposes that the University food service, which is not currently in charge of food preparation for the MSC-operated Rumours, take over the food preparation area of Rumours next fall.

The proposal also states that not only will the food service department operate the food preparation area, but it also will invest $15,904 in order to improve Rumours.

Jim Reynolds, MSC Council secretary-treasurer, said the MSC doesn't have enough money to invest in the updating of Rumours unless the council alters its budget priorities.

"The MSC could go into the food service, but that's not why it was established," Reynolds said. "Besides, it's a political decision. McDonald's would buy into that space, but again, it's a political decision."

The food service department doesn't want the MSC in the cooking business, said Dr. Carolyn Adair, MSC Council student activities director.

A lack of funds isn't the only reason the council is considering the food services proposal.

"Rumours is in violation of health standards right now," Reynolds said. "Although it's not that bad, if the MSC wanted to start preparing its own food, there could be big health problems."

Currently only prepackaged food, not food prepared in the MSC, is served in Rumours.

Some additions to the proposal would require that all tables and chairs be replaced, that a new television set and cable be provided, that the MSC maintain all policy setting for Rumours with the exception of the food service area, and that a point plan and jukebox be installed.

Steve Hodge, MSC Council manager of University Center complex, recommended four changes to the proposal. He suggested the committee's requirements that include installing carpet in the dining area, keeping student workers on staff, keeping the present Rumours manager and installing a salad bar be just recommendations rather than requirements.

Student Body President David Alders recommended an addition to the proposal which would allow the MSC Council to re-evaluate food services after five or 10 years.

The proposal, with its additions, must be approved by the food services department by June 1, or the proposal will become void.

In other business, the MSC Programs Committee on Black Awareness is planning a spring fashion show for April 14 in 201 MSC at 6 p.m.

The next MSC Council meeting will be held by the 1985-86 council. Denis Lee Davis is the new council president.
