Century Singers to hold concert

The Texas A&M Century Singers, the University's only mixed choir, will perform its annual Spring concert Saturday at 8 p.m. in Rudder Theater.

The choir, which is partial to classics, will sing spirituals, gospel and popular tunes.

Some of the selections scheduled include Amy Grant's "El Shaddai" and a selection of Barry Manilow tunes.

The choir also will perform a medley of famous Broadway tunes from shows including "Annie," "The King and I," "The Sound of Music" and "A Chorus Line."

The purpose of the group, consisting of fifty singers who rehearse more than four hours each week, is to promote choral excellence and offer the college community a chance to experience the classical masterpieces of choral literature.

Tickets for the concert are $4 for non-students and $3.50 for students.

Pan Am leaving Intercontinental, moving to Hobby

Associated Press

HOUSTON — Pan American World Airways is pulling out of Houston's Intercontinental Airport, abandoning six gates and leaving several hundred people out of work.

Until last month, the New York-based airline operated a 175-person reservation center plus a divisional office.

But spokesman Mike Clark said Wednesday the communications equipment has been removed, 111 people have been transferred to Miami and the others have been laid off.

The airline will be resuming service out of Houston on April 28, but will work out of Hobby Airport and require far fewer workers, officials said.

In addition, flights out of Hobby — one each day to San Francisco, Miami and New York — likely will be serviced by ground crews from other airlines using the airport closer to downtown Houston.

Clark said of the 433 Pan Am employees in Houston before a recent strike by the Transport Workers Union, all that remains is an 11-person marketing office and eight managers.

Before the 27-day strike by mechanics and ground transportation workers began Feb. 28, Pan Am had 10 flights in and out of Houston each day.

Flight attendants, who had also threatened to strike the airline, settled April 1, but not before the airline pulled out of Houston, New Orleans and Chicago.

The airline has served Houston for more than 40 years and service to Houston peaked in 1982 when it had 32 daily flights.
