COVER

- 5 Letter from the co-editors As a tribute to late night activity — we bring you humor a la Letterman. It's the last week for Spring staff and guess what — we're ecstatic!!! It was fun, Shawn. Yes it was, Leigh-Ellen.
- 6 Many a late night with David You know how it feels, you're sitting there, one eye on the textbook the other on the clock. You've shunned every other distraction for a whole evening — but nothing stands in the way of David Letterman. He's corny, he's funny, he's been laughing his way to the bank for three years now. I'm sure he'd thank you for your loyalty, but that's not his style.
- 7 The pet that Letterman would love Now, we never flat out said that Reville did stupid tricks or anything — shoot, she has a better job than we do. The pay's higher and she has a retirement plan. But we think David would really appreciate the way she sleeps on the bed and her keeper gets the floor. It is a dog's life.
- 8 Could I ask you questions? Stalking the defenseless, unsuspecting Blocker-beings, our Mr. Curious has no mercy with even the shy. He's out to get the goods on the innocent bystander.
- 10 The At Ease Pizza Race The Battalion will never be the same. You'd think it was the second coming with the amount of hubbub this media event caused. Tricia handles the stats and still captures the emotion of the individuals on the track as they compete for the Pizza Champion title.

FEATURES

- 4 And so we say goodbye.... The staff finally made it to a meeting all at the same time — just in time for a commemorative photograph and to say goodbye for the semester. This is a verbal hug for our crew's talent, tolerance and humor.

ENTERTAINMENT

- 3 Too much squirming for the screen In the true spirit of Late Night, Marcy, ventured to the video place to pick up some smut. Purely business, you understand. She gives you a review of the twenty minutes she could stand to watch.
- 3 Breakdancing with death Walter Smith couldn't be left out of the Late Nightmania. He reviews K-tel's latest consumer hype — 'Breakdance.' He gives you the warnings and the wisdom behind every broken breaker.
- 16 At the movies Marcy, in her own special way, tells us what's where and what it's about.
