The Astros scored theirs when Denny Walling doubled, extending his hitting streak to 12 games, and with two out came home on a double by Phil Garner.

The Mets had runners at first and second after consecutive singles by Darryl Strawberry and George Foster, then scored their sixth-inning run on a sacrifice fly by Ray Knight.

The Astros chased Darling with a run in the seventh. Craig Reynolds singled and, one out later, went to third on a single by Billy Doran. Kevin Bass singled off reliever Joe Sambrino to drive in the fifth Houston run.

Houston added five runs in the ninth on RBI singles by Bass and Walling and a three-run homer by Cruz.

Carter was diagnosed Wednesday morning as having a cracked rib, sustained Sunday in a 5-4, 18-inning victory over Pittsburgh. His status is on a day-to-day basis.

Cubs 4, Giants 3

CHICAGO — Shawon Dunston stole third base and came home with the winning run on a throwing error by San Francisco catcher Bob Brenly in the bottom of the ninth as the Chicago Cubs beat the Giants 4-3 Wednesday.

Dunston led off the ninth with a walk and stole second base. After pinch hitter Larry Bowa struck out, Bob Dernier was walked intentionally, setting up the possibility of a double play with Ryne Sandberg at bat.

With one strike on Sandberg, both Dunston and Dernier took off.

Brenley's throw to third hit the in front of the bag and bounced to third baseman Chris Brown's leg into left field. Dunston ran to without a play being made.

Braves 17, Reds 9

CINCINNATI — Dale Murphy drove in three runs, two on hit home runs, as the Atlanta Braves pasted the Cincinnati Reds 17-9 Wednesday in a game delayed hours, 41 minutes by rain.

Rick Mahler, 6-0, was the recipient of the major league's biggest fensive outburst this season.

The Braves, who finished with hits, rapped out eight straight in the first inning after there was out. They scored six times, each.
