Razorbacks ready to sweep NCAA outdoor track title

Associated Press
AUSTIN — Arkansas Coach John McDonnell, with visions of the 1985 NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships still vivid in his memory, would like to see the results repeated in the outdoor championships.
 The Razorbacks won the men's indoor title at Syracuse, N.Y., with 10 points — 41 more than their closest competitor, Tennessee.
 McDonnell called it "a perfect performance by the Razorbacks."
 "I would like to have a rerun of it in this meet," McDonnell said as he favored Arkansas prepared to launch a bid for its first title in the 64-year history of the outdoor championships, which start in full today at the University of Texas' Memorial Stadium.
 "If we perform the way we did indoors, we'll win," McDonnell said. "Everything went just right for us then."
 "But we have to go out and do our job. We can't worry about anybody else. We have to take care of business, just like we did indoors. Everyone makes us the favorite, but Washington State has some very good people and will be tough."
 Still, with a team led by sprinter-jumper Michael Conley and fishman sprinter Roddie Haley, a loss by the Razorbacks would be considered an upset. A win would give them a sweep of the 1984-85 collegiate track titles — they also won the NCAA Cross Country title last fall.

 Texas-El Paso accomplished that triple crown three times — in 1979-80, 1980-81 and 1981-82. Villanova and Kansas have also won all three, but not in the same year.
 "Joining a group like that would be quite an honor," said McDonnell.
 "It's a pleasure to coach a team like this," he said. "They're the most 'Fun Bunch' I've had. They want to win even more than the coaches. When you have that kind of chemistry, it makes it easy. They're a great bunch of kids. They're winners."
 The biggest winner has been Conley.
 He has an Olympic silver medal in the triple jump and has won seven NCAA titles in the long jump and triple jumps. He has a total of 12 Northwest Conference titles, eight in the long jump and four in the triple jump.
 He will be shooting for four titles in this meet, which began Monday with the decathlon and heptathlon and ends Saturday with 20 finals.
 Today's program will be qualifying in 5 events and the women's 10,000-meter final. Thursday, there will be qualifying in 20 events, and Friday, there will be 17 finals.
 Conley is favored to defend his titles in the long jump and triple jump. He also runs the second leg on Arkansas' favored 400-meter relay team, and is expected to give defending champion and Olympic silver medalist Kirk Baptiste of Houston a strong run in the 200.

 Haley, 19, who owns the fastest time in the world this year in the 400 (44.67 seconds), will be matched against Olympic silver medalist Gabriel Tiaoh of the Ivory Coast and Washington State; Southern Illinois' Michael Franks, bronze medalist in the 1983 World Championships; Nigerian Sunday Uti of Missouri, fourth-place finisher in the World Championships, and Willie Caldwell of Baylor, owner of the world indoor best in the 500.
 Haley also will run on the 400-meter and 1,600-meter relay teams.
 Arkansas also counts heavily on Fred Cleary in the 110-meter hurdles, 400-meter intermediate hurdles, and both relays; Marty Kobza in the discus and shot put; Bill Jasinski in the high jump; Mark Klee in the pole vault; Paul Donovan in the 1,500 meters, and Joey Wells and Mike Davis in the long jump.
 However, sprinter Wallace Spearman has a pulled right hamstring, and his status for the 100, 200 and 400-meter relay is uncertain.
 Other defending champions include Ed Eyestone of Brigham Young in the 10,000, Olympic silver medalist Danny Harris of Iowa State in the 400 hurdles, Jake Jacoby of Boise State in the high jump, and American record holder Joe Dial of Oklahoma State in the pole vault.

Crosby pro-am golf tourney to return to North Carolina

Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO — Kathryn Crosby announced Tuesday that the charity golf classic started 44 years ago by her husband Bing will return next year in North Carolina.
 Mrs. Crosby said that the Bermuda Run Country Club in North Carolina will be the permanent home for the Bing Crosby National Championship, which will be held again in June 1986.
 "There has been an overwhelming concern that Bing's golf tournament is a national tradition which must be preserved," said Ben Langella, family friend.

 Kathryn Crosby has received thousands of offers of assistance," he said, "after considering them all, she has announced that the Old Clambake will be returned next year."
 In Mrs. Crosby cut the family's ties with the tournament, known since 1941 as the Bing Crosby Pro-Am.
 Her announcement came a month after American Telephone & Telegraph Co. offered to co-sponsor the tournament for $750,000. The family reportedly turned down the communications giant's offer to share tournament billing.

 After that announcement, the Monterey Peninsula Golf Foundation, which has sponsored the event for years at Pebble Beach about 100 miles south of San Francisco, said it would continue to hold the tournament under a different name.

Young rallies to take NCAA heptathlon

Associated Press
AUSTIN — Lauri Young of Northeast Louisiana rallied from fourth place on the final event and won the women's heptathlon event Tuesday in the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships at the University of Texas.
 The 21-year-old senior, from De Ridder, La., had the third-fastest time in the last of the seven events, the 800 meters, with a clocking of 2 minutes, 18.40 seconds.
 That performance was worth 845 points and gave Young a total of 5,723 points, a personal best.
 Young finished 74 points ahead of 1984 champion Sheila Tarr of Nevada-Las Vegas, who amassed 5,649 points.
 In this meet, Young's best effort came in Monday's high jump, where she tied for first with Ewanje-Epee and Camille Harding of Arizona at 6 feet, 1/2-inch.

Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS — Danny Sullivan held Mario Andretti and the rest of the fastest field in the Indianapolis 500 on Monday to win the 35-year-old race.
 Sullivan, from Louisville, Ky., took the lead for the last time on the 2.5-mile oval at the historic Indianapolis Motor Speedway after he spun his 21 laps, narrowly avoiding a crash and the speeding record.
 The race speed fell below the record of 163.612 set by Rick Mears. It was his year nine caution flags but a by crashes in which drivers received minor injuries.
HARRISBURG, N.C. — Bill Waltrip stretched his limit Sunday and won the World 600 Grand National car race at Charlotte Speedway, his second speed victory in two days and the end of his career.
 Waltrip picked up $90,733 his first victory this year on a 28-race NASCAR circuit, just one day after he won $200,000 for winning The Winston, a race bringing Classic golf tournament.
