

TANK McNAMARA

by Jeff Millar & Bill Hinds

Dallas' tough image very 'unCowboylike'

Associated Press
IRVING — The Dallas Cowboys have had a cerebral image rather than a physical one.
 However, the 1985 edition of the Cowboys, led by defensive tackle Randy White, may be changing all of that.
 White was ejected from Monday night's NFL preseason game against the Chicago Bears. What he did was most "unCowboylike." He yanked the helmet off offensive tackle Keith Van Horne and began hitting other Chicago players with it.
 There were fights in every quarter of the game. The Cowboys won 15-13 in the last three seconds on a 24-yard field goal by Rafael Septien.
 "We started getting more aggressive toward the last five games of last year," said defensive line coach Ernie Stautner. "Our guys are going to fight tooth and nail with anybody. We don't care how they want to fight."

 White agreed, saying "We're taking pride in tough defense."
 Linebacker Jeff Rohrer added, "We've got some real hitters out there and when the teams come to town, they'll have to deal with it."
 "The Chicago game was more like a playoff game — like a bar room brawl."
 Rohrer said the Cowboys plan to win the fights as well as the games.
 "We are going to win most of our fights because we've been working on Tae Kwan Do and Chinese boxing," Rohrer said. "Pity the teams that fight with the Cowboys because we are lethal."
 White was the only player ejected.

"That's an automatic ejection when you do that (yank someone's helmet off)," said Cowboys' President Tex Schramm, who is on the NFL Rules Committee.
 "It was an interesting night," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said. "I've never seen that many fights. It was a tough football game."
 Chicago Coach Mike Ditka, who played and coached under Landry, said neither team would back down.
 "The fights were kind of silly," said Ditka, making his first return as a coach to Texas Stadium. "We don't teach it. We should be smarter than that and they should be smarter."
 "I guess they have heard the Bears are tough guys. Dallas is tough too. Nobody wanted to back down."

BC's 'life after Flutie' kicks off against BYU

Associated Press
EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Shawn Halloran hopes he won't have to throw the type of last-second "Hail Mary" pass that catapulted Doug Flutie into national prominence. But he also warns that Boston College may not be entirely out of miracles.

Flutie, major college football's all-time pass yardage and total offense king, will be on hand, but only as a spectator, when Boston College meets defending national champion Brigham Young in the third annual Kickoff Classic on Thursday night. Halloran will be the Eagles' new quarterback.
 "Miracles? I'm sure there are some left and hopefully they'll come out this year," the 6-foot-4, junior said Tuesday. "I'm looking forward to the opportunity of finally getting a chance to play."
 Sometimes it seems everybody wants to know whether there's life after Flutie. But Coach Jack Bicknell has more pressing problems.
 "I'm not worried about quarterback," Bicknell said. "We don't have Doug Flutie, that's a fact. It's the most natural thing in the world for a kid to graduate and this is a whole new year."

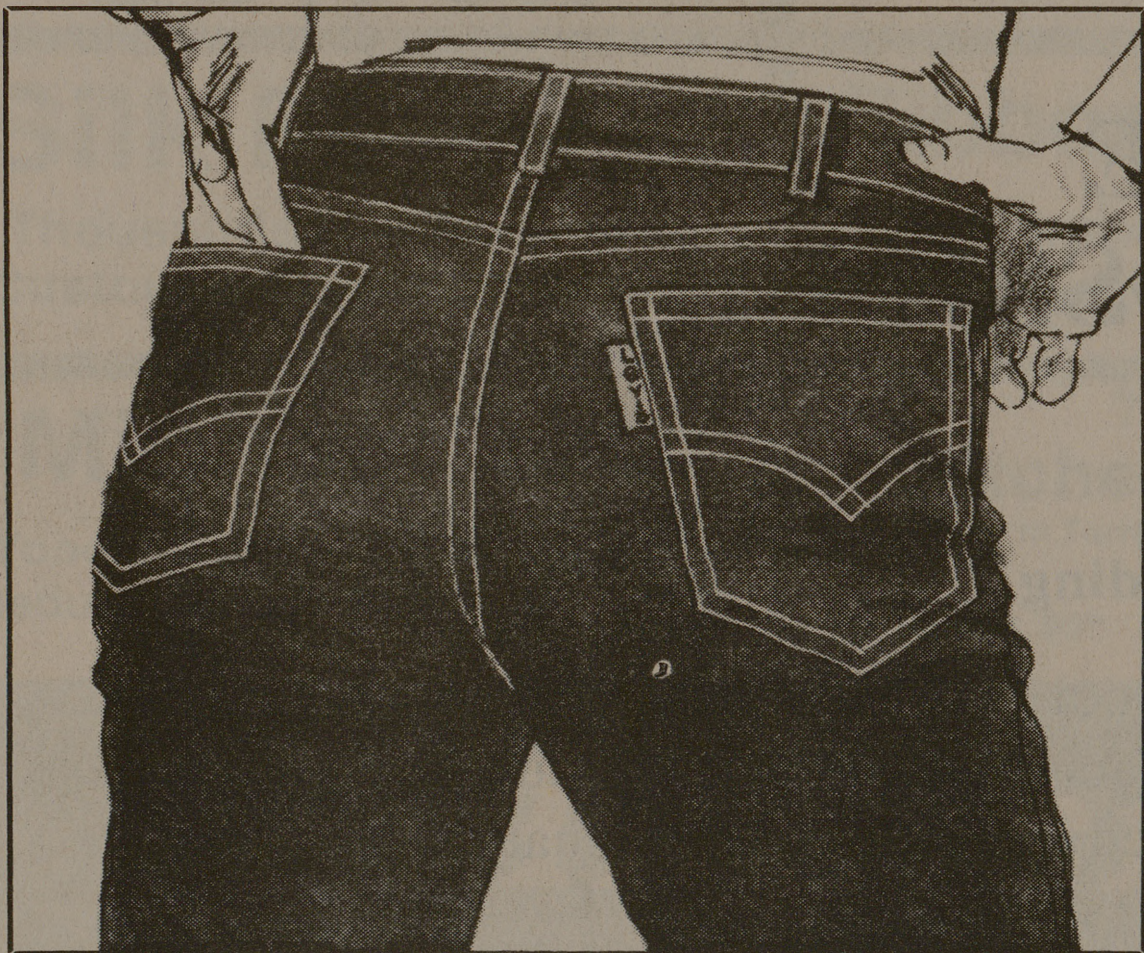

Halloran is trying his best to keep from thinking about pressure. After all, every other Heisman Trophy winner also had to be replaced.
 "I think the key is not to put pressure on myself," Halloran said. "I am not Doug Flutie and I'm not going to be able to do the things Doug Flutie did. I'm my own quarterback and I'm real confident that we're going to be able to win football games the way I play and I don't have to do any spectacular things. If I can handle everything that's going on around me, then we'll do just fine."
 Halloran said Flutie has been to a couple of practices "and he's given me hints here and there on how to throw certain balls and what to look for."

Halloran is a dropback passer describes his modus operandi "very similar to Dan Marino's offense and Bernie Kosar," he quickly adds that "I'm just you a similarity. I'm not putting self into their category."
 Actually, he hasn't played enough to be put into any category.
 "It was difficult to sit on a bench," he conceded. "But I'm my role. They told me when I was recruited that the average man a quarterback's playing is a couple years, and I have this year have my fifth year, if even goes well. Everything they told me when they recruited me happened so I don't regret anything I've done."

Battalion
 Classified
 845-2611

ON THE SIDE OF TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

Dillard's
Class Favorites
LEVI'S® JEANS
14.99

Get the jeans that won the west at a price that can't be beat... Original Levi's® indigo cotton denim jeans have the fit, the style and the quality you want. Boot-cut or straight leg at one low price!

length	Waist
	28	29	30	31	32	33	34	36	38	40
29	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x
30	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x
31	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x
32	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x
33	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x
34	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x
36	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x
38	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x	x

Hello-o-o-o...
 Texas A&M!

We're Ralph and Joe Tomato, the Flying Tomato Brothers and creators of Flying Tomato Pizza in a Pan.

Now that the summer session's over, we invite you to take a well-deserved break at the newest restaurant to hit Texas A&M—Flying Tomato Pizza in a Pan. Try us now and remember us when school starts again!

Pan Pizza by the Slice

Flying Tomato Pizza in a Pan brings to College Station a new concept in serving pizza—Flying Tomato Pan Pizza by the Slice! Our famous pan-style pizza is served in individual slices—all day long.

Choose from five different slices: cheese, mushroom, pepperoni, sausage, and our famous Gutbuster™ a mountain of a slice covered with sausage, mushrooms, pepperoni, green pepper, and onions. And watch for the introduction of our special "Slice of the Month" coming soon!

Every Slice...
 over a half-pound!
 Start with just one!

Pizza in a Pan

Ralph & Joe's original Pan Pizza forerunner of the now-famous Pizza by the Slice. Our Pan Pizza is available in three sizes, with a choice of eight goodies. Served after 5pm.

Flying Tomato's Stuffed Pizza

An extravagantly rich gourmet pizza whose five cheeses and nine goodies are layered between two thin sheets of crust similar to a quiche—but definitely still pizza! Whet your appetite with a slice at lunch then totally indulge with a whole pie at night.

Flying Tomato PIZZA in a PAN

Flying Tomato PIZZA in a PAN

303 W. UNIVERSITY • 846-1616