

'Night Stalker'

Alleged California serial murderer charged

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Richard Ramirez, the drifter arrested in the "Night Stalker" serial slayings that terrorized California, was charged Tuesday with murder and seven other felony counts including burglary, robbery and sexual assault.

The 25-year-old Ramirez was charged with the May 14 murder of William Doi, 66, who was shot in the face in his suburban Monterey Park home, and the sexual assault of Doi's wife.

Ramirez answered "yes" three times in a loud and clear voice as he confirmed his identity, waived his right to enter a plea and waived his right to a preliminary hearing in 10 days.

"We've had only the briefest period to discuss with Mr. Ramirez the defense of his case," Deputy Public Defender David Meyer said in asking for a delay in entering the plea.

Municipal Court Judge Elway Soper ordered Ramirez to appear Sept. 9 to enter a plea. There is no bail in the case.

An investigation was continuing into 14 slayings linked to the attacker, said Los Angeles County District Attorney Ira Reiner.

"Assuming the evidence warrants, we will be filing additional charges within the next couple of weeks," he said. "We have sufficient evidence to convince us that the majority of these crimes were, in fact, committed by the same person."

"However, I would caution you that not all of these cases are necessarily attributable to the same person," Reiner said.

Ramirez was charged with one count of burglary and robbery for the break-in at the Doi home, and one count each rape, sodomy, forced oral copulation and murder.

One count each of burglary and robbery also were filed for a May 9 intrusion into the home of Clara Cecilia Hadsall. No age or address was given for the woman.

Ramirez was arrested Saturday in East Los Angeles after being chased and beaten by a crowd that prevented him from trying to steal a car. He is under constant surveillance in a high-security section of Los Angeles County Jail.

In Orange County, Chief Deputy District Attorney James Enright said he was awaiting reports on an Aug. 25 attack in Mission Viejo in which a man was shot and wounded and his fiancée raped. Enright said possible charges could include attempted murder, assault with a deadly weapon, rape, robbery and burglary.

Ramirez had already been served with arrest warrants from Orange and San Francisco counties. The one from San Francisco alleges murder in the Aug. 16 shooting of accountant Peter Pan. The warrants are a way of informing a person he is wanted in another jurisdiction, and are not actual charges.

An unidentified police source told the Los Angeles Herald Examiner that although Satanic symbols were found in at least two homes where the killer struck, authorities are discounting devil worship as a motive.

Deputy District Attorney Philip Halpin, the prosecutor assigned to the case, said Satanism is not a top priority for investigators working the case.

Casio = more features per $

Getting the answers right is a matter of how many functions your calculator has. And nobody gives you more functions and features for your dollar than Casio.

Our solar fx-451, for instance, costs only $34.95 yet it has 98 scientific functions—including binary, octal and hexadecimal calculations and conversions. What's more, it lets you calculate with the speed of light—and twelve other commonly used physical constants, including Planck's constant and atomic mass. Plus it offers you 16 metric conversion functions, as well as a 10 digit + 2 digit exponent display, for greater accuracy. And its flip-open keyboard gives your fingers plenty of elbow room for calculating quickly.

For only $19.95, our fx-115 is also solar powered and has a 10 digit + 2 digit exponent display. And it gives you 67 functions—including statistics and computer math conversions, which are so valuable in today's high tech environment.

Whichever Casio scientific calculator you choose, it'll help you get your answers right on the money. At a price that's right.

Available at your local college bookstore.
