TDC violence

Officials fear inmate takeover;
emergency lockdowns imposed

Associated Press

HUNTSVILLE — The killing of a Texas prison inmate Monday and three others on Sunday prompted prison officials to impose an emergency lockdown at 13 units in an attempt to quell violence among rival inmate gangs.

"We're at war," Texas Prison Director O.L. McCotter said Monday. The four slayings in 24 hours pushed the total number of homicides in the nation's second-largest corrections system to 26, one more than last year's record of 25.

"Gang activity is at an alarming level," McCotter said. "Our major concern is that it appears to be open warfare."

Department officials said the triple slaying Sunday at the Darrington Unit south of Houston is part of a war between two Hispanic gangs known as the Texas Syndicate and the Mexican Mafia.

In addition, Al Hughes, who was elected chairman of the prison board Monday, said TDC officials ordered strict security measures over the Labor Day weekend because they feared a system-wide takeover by inmates.

Although the takeover attempts never materialized in the 37,000-inmate system, TDC officials are still wary.

"We're sitting on a time bomb," TDC spokesman Phil Guthrie said Monday. The latest slaying took the life of Leonel Perez, 31, who was serving an 8-year sentence for burglary in Brooks County.

He died of 15 stab wounds at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the Ramsey II Unit infirmary, prison spokesman Charles Brown said. A 10-inch metal rod sharpened to a point was found near the body, Brown said.

Also on Monday at the Ramsey II Unit, Esequiel Ramos, 43, was stabbed once and received superficial lacerations to the chest and head.

Ramos, serving five years for carrying a weapon on licensed premises, was listed in good condition Monday at the TDC Hospital in Galveston, Brown said.

A 28-year-old Mexican-American inmate serving 11 years for burglary and theft convictions in Hidalgo County is suspected of the stabbing, Brown said. He said four metal shanks, or homemade knives, were found near Ramos' cell.

Ramos is the sixth inmate this month involved in non-fatal stabbings within the Texas prison system and the 176th this year, Brown said.

The three Sunday stabbings occurred at 7:30 p.m. at the Darrington Unit in a day room where about 50 inmates were exercising, Brown said.

The victims were identified as Lloyd Jacquez, 24, who was serving a seven-year sentence for three burglary convictions in Zavala County and attempted burglary in Bexar County; Jose Arturo Garcia, 24, who was serving a 12-year sentence for aggravated robbery in Webb County; and Albert Carrillo Jr., 28, who was serving a 12-year sentence for burglary in Harris County, Brown said.

All three died Sunday night of multiple stab wounds, he said.

Two inmates were in custody for the stabbings. The Brazoria County Sheriff's Department was investigating the deaths.

On Sunday night, McCotter ordered an emergency lockdown for all inmates in maximum, medium and close custody at 13 units around the state, Brown said.

The locked down units are Darrington, Coffield, Eastham, Ferguson, Wynne, Ellis II, Huntsville, Clemens, Retrieve, Ramsey I, Ramsey II, Ellis I and Beto I.

Bentsen's foreign trade bill receiving national attention

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen says that until recently, talk about the U.S. trade deficit has fallen on deaf ears in Washington.

But since Democrats credited the issue with their narrow win last month in a hard-fought special congressional election targeted by the GOP, trade is in the political wind.

Now Bentsen's name is on the premier trade measure pending before Congress.

"I took a group, a task force of senators, and held hearings in South Korea and Taiwan and the Philippines, Hong Kong and began to see what what was happening to the sale of American products abroad and what was developing in the way of manufactured products there," Bentsen recalled.

"I had as witnesses just sales representatives of U.S. companies, and I had them all day long every day, to the extent that when I got back, one of the other members said, 'I don't think I'll ever take another trip with you.'"

"Ever since that trip, trade has been his top priority," said press secretary Jack DeVore.

Bentsen's bill, sponsored on the House side by Dan Rostenkowski, D-

Ill., and Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., would impose an across-the-board 25 percent tariff on goods from countries whose exports exceed imports by 55 percent.

Bentsen says if the bill does what it is supposed to — force U.S. trading partners to buy more U.S. goods — no tariff will ever be imposed.

Trade, translated by the Democrats into jobs, was a surprise hot topic in Texas' 1st Congressional District race this summer.

The seat opened up when the Democratic incumbent, Sam Hall, was appointed to a federal judgeship. His nomination came from Republican Texas Sen. Phil Gramm, who then endorsed a GOP candidate to replace him.

Edd Hargett spent over $1 million on the race, twice as much as Jim Chapman, the Democrat he faced in an Aug. 3 runoff. But Chapman eked out a win.

"I think the trade issue was a vital factor in this election," said House Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Fort Worth, as he celebrated Chapman's arrival in Congress last week.

"It's interesting that in the polls it hardly registered as that race started," said Bentsen. "But as the issue was discussed, it went right off the charts."
