First meeting of Student Senate set for tonight

By ANN CERVENKA
Staff Writer

The items to be addressed today at the first meeting of the 1985-86 Student Senate include a speech by Student Body President Sean Royall, appointments of students to several University committees and reports from the five vice presidents of the Senate committees.

Speaker of the Senate, Laurie Johnson, said she expects Royall to discuss goals for Student Government and inform Senate members of work done over the summer.

Because of vacancies in several University committees, including the traffic committee and the dining hall menu board, the positions will be filled at this meeting, she said.

The election committee will propose dates, polling places and filing fees for freshmen elections. The Senate will vote on the issues, Johnson said.

Also on the agenda is a vote on the approval of Steve Monroe to serve as Student Senate representative to the Faculty Senate.

Johnson said her main goal is to make the senators available to the students.

"I think that if we can work to make sure that students know who their senators are, they (students) will have a link on campus," she said. "I don't think that's too much to ask for, it will just take a little time and effort on our part."

Johnson said the members of the Senate are younger than those of the past few years.

"They come in and are bright-eyed and not bored with school," she said.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in 204 Harrington Classroom Building and is open to the public.

Teacher wounded while teaching drill team

Associated Press

HOUSTON — A high school teacher who was shot while instructing a drill team said Tuesday he plans to return to his teaching duties despite the constant fears about the "violent area" where the school is located.

Harold Haynes, 34, an English teacher at Wheatley High School, said such attacks are "an occupational hazard."

Haynes, who serves as the drill team's sponsor, was shot about 4 p.m. Monday, 15 minutes after school ended. Haynes was listed in good condition at Ben Taub Hospital, a hospital spokesman said Tuesday.

Homicide Sgt. Ken Johnson said the three boys — whom he described as juveniles — do not attend the school but apparently had some previous contact with Haynes.

But Haynes, who has been teaching at Wheatley for eight years, said he had never seen the boys before.

No arrests have been made in the case, police spokesman Al Baker said Tuesday.

Johnson said the youths entered the cafeteria where the girls were practicing and verbally abused the teacher. Haynes asked them to leave, but they began to taunt him.

"As he ushered them out, they grabbed a broom," Johnson said.

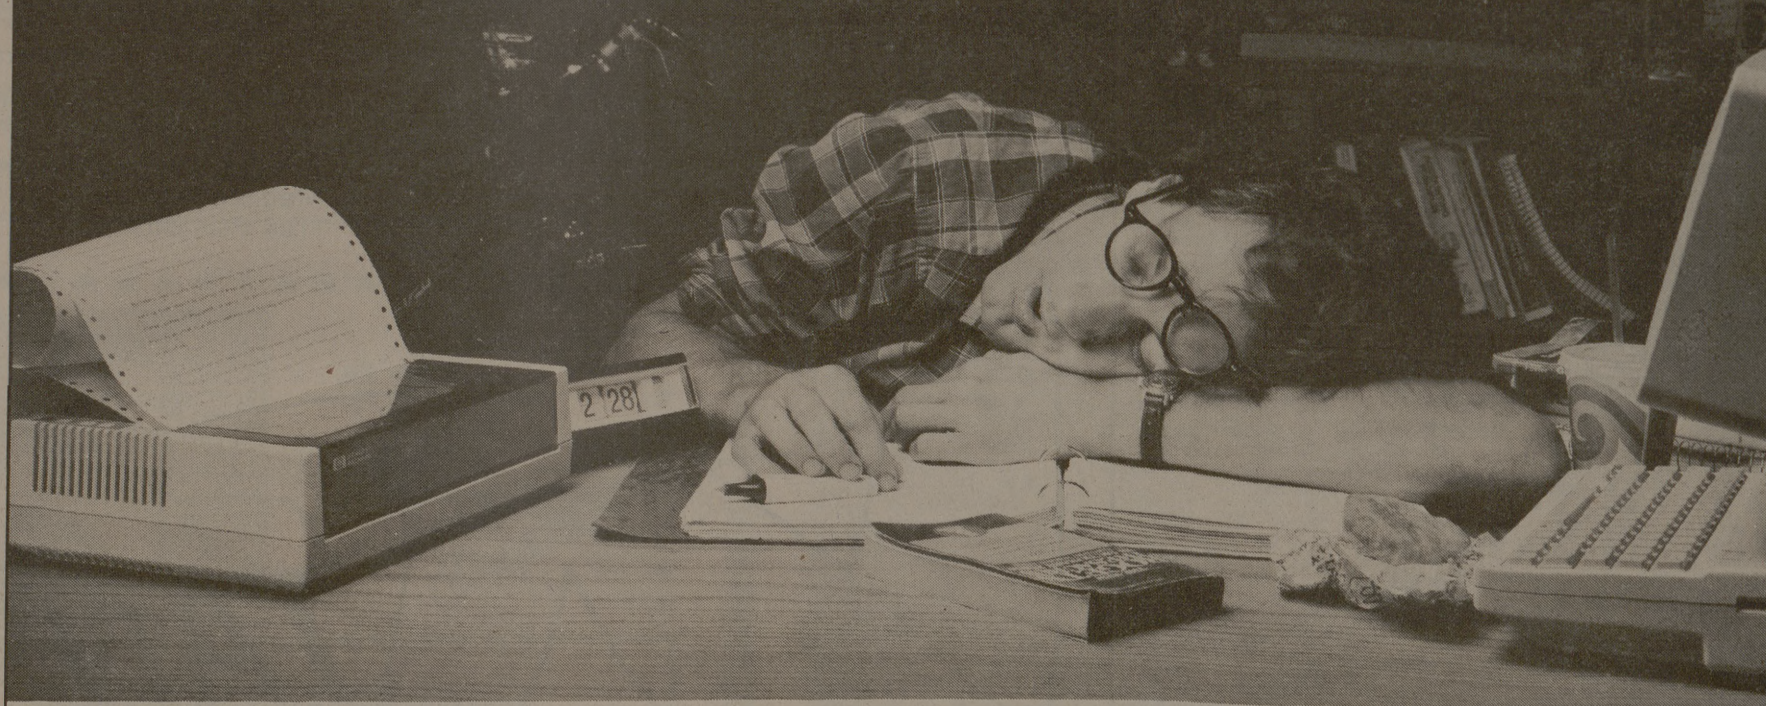

"He had one end and two (youths) had the other end."

As Haynes and the two youths struggled over the broom, the third juvenile pulled a small-caliber gun and shot Haynes, he said. The three youths then fled.

Haynes said he didn't want to hold the practice in the cafeteria, saying it was not as safe as the auditorium where practice normally is held. The auditorium can be locked from the inside but the cafeteria, which is detached from the school, apparently cannot, he said.

The ThinkJet Printer.

We made it quiet so you can concentrate on studies.

Now Hewlett-Packard technology brings you a printer that lets you work while it works.

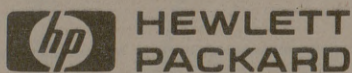

ThinkJet Printer sprays ink through a disposable cartridge, never touching the paper. All you hear (barely) is the hum of the printer head moving back and forth.

ThinkJet Printer is also fast, printing about a page a minute of high quality text and graphics. Even boldface type won't slow it down.

For all this performance, our printer is not much larger or heavier than a physics book.

Besides Hewlett-Packard personal computers, the ThinkJet Printer is compatible with Macintosh®, Apple IIc and Apple IIe® PCjr®, COMPAQ® and other major PCs.
