Welcome back to school and to the first Fall 1985 issue of At Ease, The Battalion Weekly Magazine. We decided on the deans as a subject for our first issue because everyone's coming back to school and we figured you'd want to know who wouldn't force you into that class. Seriously, most students don't get to meet their deans because most deans handle administrative duties and leave the students to their assistants. (Can you blame them?) So we hope these stories show you that deans are people too. So for all of you who have never seen a Dean's List, take a look at our deans list.
