MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

Rohm and Haas Texas Inc. interviews on campus October 9.

Rohm and Haas Company is a major manufacturer of specialty chemicals used in industry and agriculture. Our operations are international in scope and our business activities are highly technical in nature with over 2,500 products sold to customers in a wide array of industries.

Rohm and Haas will be on campus October 9 to interview Mechanical Engineers graduating in December or May for openings at our Houston manufacturing facility.

Mechanical Engineers are employed in two primary areas in our Houston facility: Project Engineering and Maintenance Engineering.

Project Engineers are involved with the design, acquisition and installation of plant facilities. The work includes equipment design and specification, cost estimating, cost justification and capital funds appropriation, field labor contracts, field construction supervision and start-up of facilities.

Maintenance Engineers apply engineering technology and judgment to resolve a variety of equipment and systems problems required to keep the plant facilities operating safely and efficiently. They also plan and execute both routine and major maintenance of turbomachinery, heat exchange systems, process piping and vessels.

If you're the kind of person who can take the initiative, work independently, and is capable of assuming increasing responsibility, we would like to talk with you.

Sign up now at the Placement Office for an interview on October 9 with Robert Heath of Rohm and Haas Texas Inc.

Texas Sesquicentennial celebration planned

By KRIS SHEELEY Reporter

Texas. The word makes Texans swell with pride at the mention of it. Texas is famous for many things — cowboys, pick-up trucks, country music and J.R. Ewing. Most of all, for 150 years Texas has been known for its independent spirit that no other state can match in intensity and loyalty.

In 1986, Texans' burning desire for independence will be celebrated by a year-long festival — the Texas Sesquicentennial Celebration.

March 2, 1836, is the 150th anniversary of the Texas' declaration of independence from Mexico in 1836 and also the birthday of Sam Houston.

The Brazos County Sesquicentennial Commission is the volunteer group organizing events that began in June and will extend through December of 1986. The commission has 38 volunteer members and is headed by volunteer Chairman Mary Evelyn White.

The commission is in charge of all Sesquicentennial events in Brazos County. Most of the events are centered in the Bryan-College Station area.

"The planning started three years ago — the offices have been open a year now on a full-time basis," says Jody Bates, a primary organizer of the commission. The office is located in room 100 of the Brazos Center in Bryan.

Activities are being sponsored by various businesses, clubs and student organizations. The commission presented a 16-minute film of historic photographs of Brazos County to groups interested in becoming involved in the Sesquicentennial celebrations.

The groups came up with their own ideas for activities, such as art exhibits, receptions, concerts and sporting events. The groups submitted their ideas to the commission and the commission then sanctioned the projects and gave the groups permission to use the Sesquicentennial logo.

"Groups are still being encouraged to participate," Bates says.

The Sesquicentennial Commission will have a booth in Post Oak Mall on Oct. 12 and Nov. 16. There will be information about the celebration as well as official Sesquicentennial items for sale such as belt buckles, visors, pens and other novelty items. Texas theme gifts also will be available and will come with decorative boxes for mailing.

There is a Texas A&M Sesquicentennial Committee located on campus for students interested in Sesquicentennial events. The committee is sponsoring the TEXAS trends symposium, which will include speakers and concerts, on Oct. 23, 1986. Students who want more information can contact Dr. Carolyn Adair, director of student activities at 845-1133.

This October, three Sesquicentennial events are offered. During the month, Post Oak Mall is sponsoring the Texas Cultures Exhibits on the man Heritage. Oct. 4-6 features Brazos Bohemian Fest, sponsored by the City of College Station Parks and Recreation Department and the Texas A&M Recreation Department. The City of College Station Parks and Recreation Department is also sponsoring the Halloween Carnival on Oct. 26.

One of the activities highlighted in 1986 is the "Hometown Oil" contest offered now and through December 1986 at the Brazos Valley Museum in the Brazos Center. Also, the Historical Resources Survey are offering a walking tour of historical campus buildings.

Sports events will be offered throughout spring of 1986 including the College Station Biathlon and Gold Cup Series College Station Pentathlon. Both are sponsored by the City of College Station Parks and Recreation Department.

Calendars and schedules of events, group entry information, film presentation and answers to other questions dealing with the County Sesquicentennial events can be obtained by calling Jody Bates, Norma Teetes at 823-1986.

Humana Hospital Bryan-College Station welcomes you to Texas A&M University

Congratulations! You're a student at one of the finest universities in the country, Texas A&M University. We'd like to welcome you and returning students to campus and introduce you to Humana Hospital Bryan-College Station.

We're totally committed to our community's healthcare — and that includes yours.

All of us at Humana Hospital Bryan-College Station are proud to be an active part of this community. We're always searching for better ways to serve our patients and the changing healthcare needs of our community.

The physicians who practice at our hospital, our nurses and all the other healthcare professionals on our staff, are dedicated to providing professional and compassionate personal care. They're backed with state-of-the-art technology, equipment and procedures.

We're here when you need us — 24 hours a day.

Our Emergency Department is open 24 hours, 7 days a week. We're a full-service facility with a unique benefit — our charges are scaled to the severity of your illness or injury. In fact, if your medical problem requires no more than a small bandage or a couple of aspirins, there is no hospital emergency room charge at all. There may be a physician's fee, but it will be a nominal one. And should your case require more diagnosis and treatment, charges will be scaled according to the services you actually use.

Center for Health-Resources and Tel-Med.

Our Center for Health-Resources offers valuable health information through seminars, free health-screening clinics, CPR classes and more. In fact, we encourage you to contact us with any healthcare question you might have. Call the Center for Health-Resources at 775-4200, ext. 522.

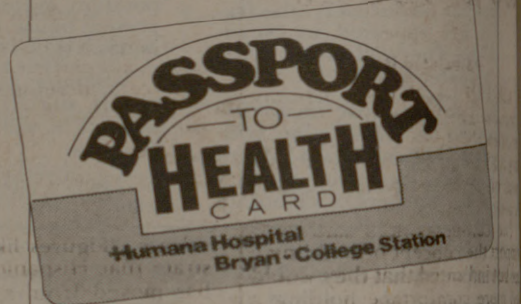

We also created the Tel-Med Hotline. When you call the special Tel-Med number — 779-7305 — you have access to a library of pre-recorded tapes on a variety of healthcare subjects. The Tel-Med line is open Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. and on weekends from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Call us for a free schedule of programs.

If you don't have a doctor, Physician Information Service can help.

While you're a student at Texas A&M, it's a good idea to have a local, personal physician you can call if you need healthcare or medical attention. That's why we offer students the Physician Information Service. Simply tell us your needs on the coupon and we'll send you the names of several doctors in the specialties you request.

and it's designed to save you time and money. Included in its many advantages is a 5% discount for all healthcare services at the Hospital and a preregistration program that helps speed up admissions and emergency treatment. Important insurance information is kept on file, no prepayment is required and, in most cases, you won't have to stop by the cashier to settle your bill when you check out. You'll also receive periodic newsletters with information about healthcare services and special programs. The Passport to Health Program gives you access to a full-service hospital. Best of all, the program's free. Mail the coupon below to receive your application for the Passport to Health Program.

Remember! If you have any questions, just give us a call.

FREE! Student Body Repair Kit.

The handy-dandy Student Body Repair Kit is our way of saying "Welcome to Texas A&M," and to get you through some of the little headaches that college can bring. The kit contains several healthcare items from aspirin to band-aids. It's yours free when you mail in the coupon at the right.

The Passport to Health Program can save you money and, it's free.

We've designed a special program for Texas A&M students. It's called the Passport to Health Program Humana Hospital Bryan-College Station is a full-service hospital conveniently located to serve both the college community and Bryan-College Station.
