Volunteers induct 2 women

to breaks tradition

"I put my name down just like any other RV," she said. "And I was chosen on my qualifications just like any other RV."

Whitaker said the admission of women into the band was not a factor in the RVs' decision to select women. Out of 143 applicants, he said, six were women.

"They were not treated any better or any worse than the other juniors who applied," Whitaker said.

Although women have previously applied to the organization, which is the official honor guard of the governor of Texas
