Peres wins Knesset backing for Soviet involvement

Associated Press

JERUSALEM — Prime Minister Shimon Peres urged the political right not to oppose his peace efforts, and easily won a vote of confidence Monday night for a plan that allows an international forum to be involved in negotiations.

The vote came after seven hours of debate in the Knesset, and was 68-10 for the Peres plan, with 10 abstentions. The prime minister presented his peace proposals in a speech last week to the U.N. General Assembly in New York.

He indicated willingness in that speech to consider an international conference involving the Soviet Union if the Kremlin renewed diplomatic relations with Israel. The Israeli position previously had been one of firm opposition to such a conference.

Only one member of a party in the ruling coalition revolted against the leadership and opposed — David Magen of the right-wing Likud bloc. He is closely identified with Industry Minister Ariel Sharon, a leading Peres critic within the government.

Peres spoke for 30 minutes to open the debate. Then opposition legislator Geula Cohen announced that the prime minister had met secretly in Paris with King Hussein of Jordan before outlining his peace plan to the General Assembly last Monday.

Cohen said the director of Peres' office, Avraham Tamir, also traveled to Amman in recent months.

"We have every reason to fear... promises were made that not only touched on procedures but on substance, too," said Cohen, a member of the nationalist Tehiya Party, which pressed the motion of no confidence.

Peres said in a television interview Sunday night that some aspects of his diplomatic maneuvers have been secret. His spokesman, Uri Savir, however, denied that Peres met secretly with Hussein: "We've said before it's not true and we say it again."

In his U.N. speech, Peres called on Hussein to "continue to act with us in order not to miss the opportunity that has been created." Hussein met with PLO chairman Yasser Arafat in Amman on Monday to reassess their relationship and a Feb. 11 agreement that called for the PLO and Jordan to pursue a joint peace strategy.

However, Peres' remarks before the confidence vote were aimed mainly at domestic critics, especially members of the right-wing Likud bloc which shares power with Peres' Labor Party in the 13-month-old coalition government.

"I ask the Knesset (Parliament) to confirm my words and I hope no one will pile obstacles on the road to the peace process. There is a danger of losing the momentum," Peres said.

Yossi Ahimeir, political aide to Likud leader Yitzhak Shamir, told The Associated Press that the foreign minister read Peres' Parliament speech in advance and won agreement to several changes.

He said Peres agreed to clarify the exclusion of the Palestine Liberation Organization from peace talks and to specify that no international forum could replace direct negotiations.

Officials quiz Soviet seaman

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A Soviet sailor who twice jumped from his ship into the Mississippi River in apparent attempts to defect has been moved to a Coast Guard cutter where he is being interviewed by U.S. officials, a State Department spokesman said Monday.

The Soviet seaman, Miroslav Medvid, was taken by a Coast Guard launch to the cutter Salvia, where a State Department official who speaks Russian and other U.S. representatives began interviewing him shortly before 6 p.m. Monday, State Department spokesman Peter Martinez said.

"Soviet representatives also are on the ship," he said. "They had agreed earlier in the day to this procedure."

Besides the State Department official, the U.S. representatives interviewing the sailor "to determine his intentions" include an official of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, a U.S. physician and an interpreter, Martinez said.

De Lorean in hospital's care after suffering chest pains

SOMERVILLE, N.J. — Former automaker John Z. De Lorean, embroiled in a rancorous divorce trial here, was admitted to a hospital's cardiac care Monday after suffering chest pains, officials said.

De Lorean walked into Somerset Medical Center at 12:34 p.m., said hospital spokeswoman Joanne Thorsen.

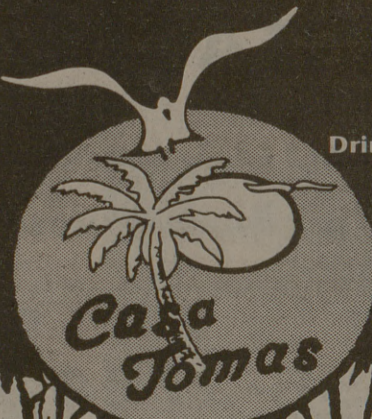

He was taken to the Coronary Care Unit at the medical center, Thorsen said. "He is under observation," she said, adding he was in stable condition.

She declined further comment.

De Lorean's attorney, John Trombadore, said his client drove himself to the hospital after feeling chest pains while en route to the lawyer's office.

His hospitalization came shortly after a judge interviewed De Lorean's children in an effort to help determine who should get custody.
