Mexico sets new prices for crude oil

Associated Press
MEXICO CITY — Mexico, the biggest single supplier of oil to the United States, announced Wednesday it is raising the price of light crude by an average of 60 cents a barrel but lowering the price of heavy crude an average of 40 cents.

A press release by the state petroleum monopoly, PEMEX, said the new prices will take effect Friday and were approved by a special Cabinet-level Petroleum Foreign Trade Committee.

PEMEX said light-type Isthmus oil will go up from $26.25 to $26.75 a barrel for European points, from $26.50 to $26.90 for Far Eastern points, and from $26.75 to $27.50 for American points.

Heavy-type Maya oil will drop from $22.50 to $22.10 for European points, from $23 to $22.60 for Far Eastern points, and from $23.50 to $23.10 for American points.

"The new prices of Mexican crude respond to a strengthening of the market for light crudes, such as Isthmus, and a relative weakening of heavy crudes, like Maya," PEMEX said.

PEMEX said Mexico's volume of exports from July to October averaged more than 1.525 million barrels a day.

It said the country plans to export 1.55 million barrels a day in November, about half to the United States.

The country produces an average of 2.75 million barrels a day.

The PEMEX press release did not break down exports by Isthmus and Maya types. Proportions in the past for Isthmus exports have varied monthly from 40 to 60 percent, depending on market conditions.

Mexico is not a member of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, but followed the cartel's price guidelines until around June, when it struck out on its own, lowering prices because of OPEC's disarray in limiting production.

Pentagon: Military papers found at prison not sensitive

Associated Press
WASHINGTON — The Pentagon said Wednesday that some military documents had found their way into the hands of inmates at a federal prison, but a preliminary probe determined the material was not classified.

"There is no evidence of a security breach," said Lt. Col. James Moore, an Air Force spokesman.

The Air Force and the FBI began investigating the matter Tuesday after reports that inmates at the La Tuna Federal Correctional Institution near El Paso, discovered military documents inside desks and file cabinets shipped there for repair.

Some of the documents were mailed by inmates to United Press International, which reported at least one of them was marked classified. The news service also quoted an unidentified inmate as saying classified "imagery exploitation" surveillance reports from the White Sands Missile Range had been mailed directly to the Defense Department.

Moore and William Caldwell, a Pentagon spokesman, said some of the documents mailed to UPI were examined Wednesday by inmates at Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Texas.

"The documents turned over to an Air Force representative were taken to Carswell Air Force Base, where it was determined they were not classified," said Caldwell.

Other documents sent to the service were being returned Wednesday from its Washington headquarters for examination, Moore said.

Mexicans critical of soccer team

Associated Press
MEXICO CITY — The Mexican national soccer team returned from a disastrous Middle Eastern tour that raised doubts about how well it will perform as the host in the World Cup tournament here next year.

Criticism here has been harsh for the team's performance against countries whose names are barely known in Mexico. Some have called for the resignation of Coach Bora Milutinovic.

It played six games in three weeks in the Middle East and North Africa, losing to Libya and Egypt, tying Jordan, the United Arab Emirates and Kuwait and winning only against North Yemen.

It did not even play any of the teams from the region that won the right to be among the 24 finalists in the World Cup next year. Morocco and Algeria have clinched the two slots from Africa while Iraq and Syria still are battling for another slot from Asia.

The Mexican team was greeted at the airport Tuesday night by a disappointed crowd that carried such sarcastic signs as, "What a Good Education," "Welcome Tourists," "With You We'll Win the World Cup."

The team has an automatic berth because Mexico is the host country to this region.

Coaches and players, however, generated the criticism that they claim is unjustified and that their unfamiliarity with part of the world worked against them, as well as having to play on synthetic fields.
