Humana groundbreaking draws illustrious speakers

By PAGE PATTON
Reporter

A blue and white striped tent, blue balloons and assorted refreshments were all part of Sunday's festivities for the groundbreaking for Humana Hospital.

Participating in the groundbreaking were state Rep. Richard Smith; executive director of Humana Hospital, Pat Cornelison; Philip Alexander, past president of the medical staff of Humana Hospital; the Rev. Bob Waters, Humana Hospital trustee.

Other participants were Mayor Pro Tem of College Station, Bob Rannels; Mayor Pro Tem of Bryan, Ples Turner; Chamber of Commerce President Lee Cargill; Humana Regional Office Representative Wood Matthews; and Tommy Berryhill, Doster Construction representative.

The new facility will be located at 1600 Rock Prairie Road in College Station, and will replace the Humana Hospital Bryan-College Station located at 1305 Memorial Dr. in Bryan.

The new Humana Hospital will be a 100 bed, 100,000-square-foot facility as opposed to the current facility of 65 beds.

The groundbreaking ceremonies included speeches by local officials, music by Special Arrangement and a reception that immediately followed.

Smith was the principle speaker for the afternoon and he spoke on the benefits of building the new facility.

"Besides health care improvements, the new facility will provide better economic conditions for the community," Smith said.

Cornelison said the project represented a $19.3 million commitment generating 75 new jobs in the area.

Cornelison also spoke about the reason for the name change that will accompany the new facility.

"Humana has decided to change its name to Humana Hospital-Brazos Valley," Cornelison said, "because an increasing number of out-patients come from outside Brazos County."

In 1982, 18 percent of Humana Hospital's patients came from surrounding counties, but in 1985, patients from surrounding counties represented approximately 32 percent of Humana patient business, Cornelison said.

"We feel that with the addition of Humana Hospital-Brazos Valley, the Bryan-College Station area rapidly become a major health care center for the seven-county area," she added.

Obstetrics is one of the new services to be offered in the new facility. This will give women a choice of obstetrical care as well as procedures such as tubal ligations immediately after delivery.

In addition to the new diagnostic technology — such as digital fluoroscopy and a CAT scanner — a thespic operating room, a copy room and laser technology also be available.

Bryan police chief appreciates aid from radio group during disasters

By MONA L. PALMER
Reporter

The Bryan Police Department would be lost without the assistance of REACT, says Bryan Police Chief Charles Phelps.

Brazos County Radio Emergency Association Citizens Teams, which aids police during disasters and emergencies, is organized in several communities across the United States and Canada.

The organization operates on a volunteer basis and deals mainly with highway emergencies and disaster preparedness.

REACT monitors Channel 9, the citizens band emergency channel, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Burr Moody, president of Brazos County REACT, says the group can help motorists if their vehicle runs out of gas or breaks down.

The group also responds to requests from fire and police departments during emergencies, he says.

During one emergency, the fire department called REACT to bring the workers some food, Moody says.

Phelps says he decided to work with REACT to decrease the crime rate.

While he was in Austin, Phelps says he saw how effectively REACT works with the police.

The local news carried a story concerning a young lady who was attacked by a man with a gun, he says. The lady reached the police through the local REACT team, Phelps says.

After seeing how effectively the REACT team worked with the Austin Police Department, Phelps says he decided to get together with the Brazos County REACT group.

"The more eyes and ears we have, the better chance we have of fighting crime," Phelps says. "Our calls have increased but our police force hasn't, so we're always looking for new ideas to help the community."

Phelps says the problem in the past was that the police department did not have the facilities to work with REACT.

The police station was also overcrowded and a REACT room would not fit, he says.

In May or June however, the police department will move into new facilities.

Phelps says the REACT volunteers will have a radio in the communications center of the station and will have an assigned telephone.

The communications facility self-contained, so the person operating the radio doesn't have to leave the building and will be there in the event of an emergency, he says.

Moody says he thinks that the police's new relationship with REACT will benefit the city of Bryan.

Phelps says the REACT volunteers their CB radios 24 hours a day but will not be operating on a 24-hour basis with the police department.

Progress in teacher crisis cited in report

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The nation is making "slow, but steady progress" recruiting more and better teachers as salary increases are outstripping inflation, the Carnegie Foundation reported Sunday.

Ernest L. Boyer, the president of the foundation, said his new review of school statistics from each state provides "grounds for cautious hope."

But he added, "the challenge confronting teaching in this country is far greater than its achievements."

He urged immediate action to tighten professional standards, boost teachers' pay further and recruit stand-out students for the profession.

Boyer released an update of a report called, "The Condition of Teaching: A State by State Analysis," first issued in August 1983.

Its author, C. Emily Feistritzer, director of the National Center for Education Information, said the latest data on teacher salaries, test scores and other topics "dramatically demonstrates that all the brouhaha over teaching is paying off in slow, but steady, progress."

Teachers lost 12 percent of their purchasing power in the previous 10 years, but their salaries rose 6.2 percent in 1984-85 and 6.9 percent last year, when inflation was only 3 to 4 percent each year, the report said.

Citing National Education Association figures, the report said average classroom teacher salaries were $23,546 in 1984-85.

The median household income for teachers was about $30,000 in 1983, or roughly "the same as for all college graduates," it said.

Four percent of teachers had 85,000 — had a household income of $15,000 or less, compared with 13 percent of the working population, it said.

At the opposite end of the income scale, 13 percent of teachers had 275,000 — were in households with incomes of $50,000 or more.
