

Thanksgiving Service

THURSDAY, NOV. 21
8 - 9 PM
ALL FAITHS CHAPEL

Featuring special music by the Reveliers & a message from
Rev. Mike Miller, Campus Minister

* An offering of canned goods will be accepted & appreciated

Hosted by Student Y

Fantasys do come True

Gift counseling for Men
Larger Sizes Available

"Unique Lingerie at an Affordable Price"

corsets • gowns • teddies baby dolls • garter belts hose • gloves • play sets men's items • body lotions novelties

Fantasy Lingerie

Aggie owned & operated 1983
4325 Wellborn Rd. (Westgate Center)

Near Campus
846-4190

Experience shortage worries A&M's Hickey

'85 schedule toughest ever for Lady Ags

By BRANDON BERRY
Sports Writer

They can run. They can jump.
They can play defense. They can rebound.

One player was even nominated for homecoming queen.

In fact, the 1985-86 Texas A&M women's basketball team has a little bit of everything.

"The only thing we're missing is experience," A&M Coach Lynn Hickey said. "I believe we have brought a caliber of athlete to the Aggie women's basketball program that people have not seen before on this campus."

Only four players from last season's 14-14 squad were seen in G.
Rollie White Coliseum last week.

Hickey and assistant coaches Eileen Feeney and Shelly Hughes brought in four junior college transfers and six freshmen to fill the vacant spots on the squad. Two walk-ons add the finishing touches to the roster.

So how can 12 newcomers and four holdovers compete with the likes of Texas Tech, Houston, Arkansas and the nation's preseason
No. 1, Texas?

"Anytime you bring in this many new people, you're going to have problems," Hickey said. "That's why I believe this team won't begin really showing itself until late January or early February, when the (Southwest) Conference games start. We should have a better idea about this team then."

Feeney and Hughes were a little less reserved concerning the prospects of their protégés.

"The potential of these girls is way up there," Hughes said. "I can't think of another team in the conference, except Texas, that has as many really good athletes."

"The best thing about these girls is that they're all winners. They were all-stars on state championship teams in high school or in junior college.
They will do anything to win."

Hickey conceded, "I'd be crazy if I didn't admit that we will have a much better team than last year. But these kids are so young that they don't know what they're going to be up against. Sometimes, they don't jump or play physically on the boards because they're so used to being so much bigger and stronger than everyone they play against."

"They don't realize that everyone they're going to be playing against is just the same as they are."

With the toughest non-conference schedule in the program's history, the Lady Aggies can only hope to be the same as most of their early season opponents.

The Aggies open their season on the road Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Nacogdoches, against a dangerous
Stephen F. Austin team. On Nov. 29,
A&M begins the Big "O" Tournament in Oregon against UCLA. They then take to the road in mid-December for games against nationally-ranked Oklahoma, LSU and Louisiana Tech.

A&M's five-home game non-conference season is highlighted by a New Year's Eve encounter with the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

This season's non-conference foes won almost 60 percent of their games last season.

"I think the preseason schedule is good for us," Hickey said. "We might not have a great win-loss record heading into conference play, but it will be good for us because we will have played as tough, if not tougher, competition than we will face in the SWC."

The competition in the SWC has traditionally been for second place.
Texas has dominated the conference

Photo by JOHN MAKELY

A&M guard Lisa Langston (14) — "You can see a big difference in this (A&M) team and the ones we've had here in the past few years. These girls are big, but they're also quick and they can jump. Coach Hickey recruited them and they're the type of athlete she likes."

since its inception in the early '70s.
And this season looks to be no different.

"Looking at the SWC as a whole, the conference is getting better, and every year is getting tougher and tougher," Hickey said. "Texas may have the best team they've ever had this season. Texas Tech, Houston and Arkansas will be tough again, and Baylor has as many natural athletes as anyone and will be able to compete with anyone."

The Lady Longhorns lead everyone's preseason SWC lists because of tradition, experience and defense.

"Texas is so good because of their defense," Feeney said. "No one can hold up under the defensive pressure they put on you for the full 40 minutes. They wear you out because they have so much depth and they never quit."

"If Texas has a weakness, it's their rebounding. We beat them badly on the boards last year and that's always been a problem for them."

And one of the few glimmers of hope in a brow-beaten conference.

"My philosophy is that no team is unbeatable," said A&M's Lisa Langston, last year's leading scorer (16.3 ppg) and an All-SWC selection.
"You can see a big difference in this team and the ones we've had here in the past few years. These girls are big, but they're also quick and they can jump. Coach Hickey recruited them and they're the type of athletes she likes."

"Last year, she came in here in a bad situation. There was a team with a lot of seniors that had never won anything before."

"These new kids are tough. In the past, I pretty much knew I would be a starter, but now I can't make that assumption. These kids are really pushing me."

Hickey concurred, "Every position is open at this point. I don't believe anyone has a starting spot sewn up just yet. There is going to be a great deal of competition at each position and that will make every player work harder and will make each person a better player."

3¢ Xerox
copies

Brazos Valley Printing
3601 E. 29th St. • 846-3024

Problem Pregnancy?

we listen, we care, we help Free pregnancy tests concerned counselors

Brazos Valley

Crisis Pregnancy Service

We're local!

1301 Memorial Dr.

24 hr. Hotline

823-CARE

JJ Muggs
GREAT AMERICAN
GRILL

ANNOUNCES

18

NEW

DELICIOUS

SAVORY

SCRUMPTIOUS

HOT

GREAT

AMERICAN

Tastes

Come try our new menu at

1704 Kyle Avenue, South
(At the corner of Harvey Road and Texas Avenue,
behind Safeway)

THE VARSITY SHOP

Haircuts

$8.50

Includes shampoo
and conditioner.

Perms $34.95

For Body or Curl
(Haircut Included)

Offer for perm expires 11-30-85

301 Patricia
Off University
Behind Flying Tomato
College Station

Open 9:00-5:30
Mon-Sat
Later by Appt.
846-7401

your advertising dollars do better in the classifieds

MSC CEPHEID
VARIABLE presents
BEDKNOBS
AND BROOMSTICKS
by Walt Disney ... of course!

IN 701 RUDDER $1.50
THURSDAY
Nov. 21ST 7:30 & 10:00 p.m.

El Chico

Restaurant & Bar

Everyday

Happy Hour

11-7

99¢ Margaritas

1.00 Coronas

75¢ Draft

1.00 off Bardrinks

FREE Taco Bar

4-7

Chips, queso

Salsa, Taco Fixins

Free, Free, Free

Daily Specials

Mon-Fajitas, Chicken or Beef $5.45
Tues.-Enchilada Dinner $3.75
Wed.-Free regular nachos with purchase of 2 dinners
M-Th 11-10 To go orders
F-S 11-11 Welcome 823-7470
Sun 11-9 3109 Texas, Bryan in front of Walmart