Pallmeyer declines comment.

This gift will make Karl Pallmeyer commentless for a whole week. This is a great gift for your friends who get all worked up over Karl's opinion columns. Can you imagine what the editorial page in The Battalion will look like if Karl is at a loss of words? This is like a mini vacation for both Karl and his adversaries.

Generic label day in Blocker.

Think of the havoc you'll wreak when you give this gift. No Gucci, Claiborne, Klein, or Kamali labels will be worn by business majors for a whole day. We promise they'll look just like engineering students in regular clothes.

Toilette de College Station.

Created here in a lab near the pig farm, this fragrance is a sure thing for the women on campus who want to unleash the Old Army that's died in many of the male students. All the essence of Aggieland is captured in a 12-ounce can of Toilette de College Station. Pop the top, and envelope yourself in its essence today.

Dogs for dogs.

Introducing Reveille house slippers. Now your feet can stay warmed in a truly traditional way. These slippers have a true-to-life replica of Rev's head, minus those bothersome ticks and fleas. And the mock Collie fur is nontoxic and machine washable. Sizes range from lil' pup to big dog.

A porcelain bird hat.

How many nights have you avoided walking under the trees on campus to escape bird bombing. With a wide-brimmed porcelain hat, you can fearlessly march between the most populated trees. And because it's porcelain, it cleans easily by flushing with water. Give one to a friend, and buy one for yourself.

The At Ease staff extends its best wishes to you during this festive, if not a bit premature, holiday season.

The Smart Pencil.

Give your failing friend a pencil with all the answers. Put this no. 2 pencil over the top of any Scantron 882 form, and just sit back and relax as it goes to work. A 90% test score is guaranteed on any test.
