NCAA puts TANK MCNAMARA[®] LOOK, I SAID YOU CAN TAKE THREE STAFFERS TO NEW ORLEANS FOR Baylor on O NEW ORLEANS FOR HE SUPER BOWL, AND THAT'S IT. probation

Recruiting violations hamper Bear cagers

Associated Press

- The NCAA MISSION, Kan. Committee on Infractions an-nounced Monday that the Baylor University men's basketball program had been placed on probation for recruiting violations.

any other postseason play during the 1985-86 academic year.

In addition, only two new basketball recruits will be permitted to receive initial athletics-related finan-cial aid for the 1986-87 academic year. The university's basketball pro-gram will be limited to a total of 13 scholarships during the 1986-87 and 1987-88 academic years, a reduction of two from current levels.

Without the sanctions, the Bears would have been able to sign four players in each of the next two years. Two players offered scholarships last spring did not attend Baylor, accounting for the two unused grants.

Only two current players, junior Mark Buchanan and freshman Stephan Hafford, are not on athletic cholarships. Iba could put either or both on scholarship. Nine current or former basketball team members were involved in the violations found in the case, and the seven who remained on the team were declared ineligible for varying periods during the 1985-86 season. Baylor currently has 13 players on scholarship. The team's only seniors, guard Carlos Briggs and forward Edwin Mitchell, were dismissed by head coach Gene Iba two weeks ago for reasons he said were unrelated to the NCAA probe.

Both players, who had been suspended in December by the NCAA, plan to remain in school and their scholarships could not be trans-ferred even if they were to leave Baylor

The NCAA said the investigation of the Baylor case followed public statements in February 1985 by a former member of the team that indicated a former Baylor head basketball coach had given him a check for $172 for personal expenses.

The committee said it had suspended one year of a two-year postseason penalty and a one-year television sanction because of cooperation from Baylor. The NCAA cited self-disclosure of violations, early action to disassociate the coaching staff members involved in the case and assistance provided by current members of the basketball team.

NEW ORLEANS - Forget that the calendar says 1986. The groundwork for Sunday's Super Bowl meeting between the Chi-cago Bears and New England Patriots was laid in a New York hotel ballroom on April 26, 1983. That was the date of the 1983 draft and a quick look at the rosters of the Bears and the Patriots shows its impact. When the Bears take the field in the Superdome Sunday, six of their 22 starters will be players who were chosen that day.

Left tackle Jim Covert and wide receiver Willie Gault were taken on the first round; left cornerback Mike Richardson on the second; strong safety Dave Duerson on the fourth, and defensive end Richard Dent and left guard Mark Bortz on the eighth. Another starter, wide receiver Dennis McKinnon, went undrafted, but made the team later that year as a free agent.

The Patriots picked up five Super Bowl starters the same day.

Their first pick was quar-terback Tony Eason, one of six quarterbacks taken in the first round that day.

They got right tackle Steve Moore and wide receiver Stephen Starring on the third; running back Craig James on the seventh, left cornerback Ronnie Lippett on the eighth, and Johnnie Rem-

That seems to be the result of Chicago's willingness to take a chance

"Coming out of college, I was 6-5, 225 and a lot of people thought I would be too small," says Dent, who beefed up to 255 and became an All-Pro two years after his eighth-round selection. The Patriots never shared Chicago's reputation for mediocre top picks. The rap on them was the inability to mold those bluechippers into a team with better than an 8-8 or 9-7 mark. Since Raymond Berry took over as coach midway through last sea-son, things began taking on a more positive look.

"I give the credit for what we've done to Raymond and his staff," says Dick Steinberg, the Patriots' director of personnel and one of the most respected talent scouts in the NFL.

New England's core included such first-rounders as guard John Hannah (1973), center Pete Brock (1976), right cornerback Raymond Clayborn and wide re-ceiver Stanley Morgan (1977), safety Roland James (1980) and tackle Brian Holloway (1981).

Fans mob Pats before trip to New Orleans

Associated Press

WARWICK, R.I. - More than 10,000 New Englanders swarmed T.F. Green State Airport Monday and wished the New England Patriots well on their maiden Super Bowl journey, a trip to New Or-leans for a clash with the Chicago Bears.

Fans began lining up early Monday at the airport, and by the time the Patriots arrived at 3:25 p.m. for their charter flight - an hour behind schedule — they were massed behind ropes and barrels that kept them off the tar-

"We appreciate you being here," said offensive guard John Hannah, speaking to the crowd atop a flatbed truck. "You've been behind us all the way and now we're going to beat the Bears."

Police estimated the crowd at 10,000 to 15,000. Many of the fans appeared to be school-age children, who had the day off throughout New England be-cause of the Martin Luther King holiday.

Four Patriots spoke to the crowd after team members and their families arrived aboard team buses from Patriots' headquarters at Foxboro, Mass.

"We're going to take them apart," offensive tackle Brian Holloway said of the Bears. Mario Silva, 15, of Warwick, said he gave the Patriots "a fairly good chance" of beating the Bears. "They were underdogs in their last three games and they played tough and won. I think they can do it again.

Many of the fans carried signs such as "Skin The Bears" and "Berry the Bears," referring to Patriots Coach Raymond Berry. Several also carried stuffed bears.

About 200 state, Warwick and Providence police, along with the National Guard, helped control the crowd.

A crowd of 20,000 fans greeted the Patriots Jan. 12 when they ar-rived home after their third playoff upset, a 31-14 victory over the Miami Dolphins in the Orange Bowl.

Hundreds of fans broke through a police line and swarmed the airport tarmac after the Miami game and surrounded the Patriots' charter flight.
