NOW-WE'LL PAY YOU TO ATTEND MEDICAL SCHOOL

In fact, we'll even pay you more than $600 a month while you attend. That's in addition to paying for your tuition, required books and fees.

It's all part of the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program. And here is how it works!

If you're selected for a Physician's Scholarship—from the Army, Navy, or Air Force—you're commissioned as an officer in the Reserves.

While you're in school, you'll serve 45 days a year on active duty, gaining valuable medical experience. After graduation, you will serve three or more years, the length depending on the requirements of the Service selected and years of scholarship assistance received.

As an Armed Forces physician you'll receive officer's pay and benefits, and enjoy the advantages of working regular hours. You'll also see a diversity of patients and have opportunities to use sophisticated medical technology.

But most important, while you're in medical school we'll help pay the bills. For more information, send in this coupon. There is no obligation.

YES! Tell me how the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program can help pay my medical school expenses. I understand there is no obligation. Mail this coupon to: Armed Forces Scholarships, P.O. Box 2865, Huntington Station, NY 11746-2102 9008

Murderer to narrate own death

Associated Press

HUNTSVILLE — Convicted killer Roger DeGarmo, who is to be executed next week, says he'll provide play-by-play commentary for people watching him receive a lethal injection in the Texas death chamber.

"I'm going to be narrating my death when I die," DeGarmo said Wednesday in an interview. "I'm going to narrate this whole thing down to the point where I can't talk anymore to show I'm an experimental animal."

"That's the way I'm going to go out. . . . They will know how long it takes and what it's doing to me inside mentally."

DeGarmo, 31, a drifter from California, was convicted of killing a 20-year-old Houston woman in 1980 after abducting her from a parking lot.

He has asked that no efforts be made on his behalf to stop the execution, scheduled for the early morning hours of March 12.

Since the last execution in the state, Sept. 11, 1985, many condemned men have won court delays of their executions, primarily with appeals based on the argument that people who were opposed to the death penalty were excluded as jurors at their trials — an issue now under consideration by the Supreme Court.

DeGarmo has gained notoriety for his unique plan to auction three of the five witness spots a convict is allowed in the death chamber. He said seven people have offered bids — two of them at $1,500 each. The money would be divided between DeGarmo's family and the family of the woman he killed, he said.

Prison spokesman Charles Brown said according to departmental rules, any witnesses selected within 14 days of the execution must be approved by Corrections Director O.L. McCotter.

"I don't think McCotter will approve them," Brown said.

Teachers' union blasts Clements

AUSTIN — Former Gov. Bill Clements is trying to mislead voters with television commercials that say teachers' salaries rose 49 percent during his term, a teachers' union official said Wednesday.

John Cole, president of the Texas Federation of Teachers, said, "Bluntly put, that claim is hogwash."

Clements, the state's first Republican governor in a century, is seeking the GOP nomination again this year.

He recently began airing TV ads touting his record on education issues, saying teachers got the largest pay raise in history during his term.

George May, a Clements aide, said actual teacher salaries increased 49.9 percent from the 1978-79 school year through the 1982-83 school year.

But Cole said those figures aren't fair, since Clements wasn't elected until November 1978, after the 1978-79 salaries already were set under the administration of then-Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Cole said salaries also rose because of higher local school district payments.

"Faced by growing teacher shortages, rising inflation and increased competition for teachers' services during those years, most school districts found that they could not hire teachers for the salary stipulated in the minimum (state) program," Cole said.

Clements was traveling Wednesday, and his press aides weren't immediately available, said a secretary in the Dallas campaign office.
