No. 18 Aggies nip Kentucky; women overwhelm Rollins

CORPUS CHRISTI — The No. 18 Texas A&M men's tennis team started the H.E.B. College Tennis Team Championships Thursday on a winning note with a 5-4 win over No. 25 Kentucky.

"It's good to get that first win (in the 24-team tournament), A&M Coach David Kent said. "We're in a tough bracket with some ranked teams."

A&M's Kimmo Alkio kept his unbeaten record intact with a 6-4, 1-6, 6-0 win over Kentucky's Pat McGee in the No. 1 singles match. The 26th-ranked Alkio is now 13-0 in spring singles play.

Aggie Mark Smith, ranked 71st in the nation in singles, lost the No. 2 singles match to Greg Vanemboruh, 7-5, 1-6, 6-1.

Kent said the crucial match for the Aggies was freshman Brent Haygarth's 7-5, 7-5 win over Kentucky's Kenny Bylee. The win gave A&M a 4-2 lead after the singles play finished.

And the Aggies needed that margin as Smith and Russ Simmons, A&M's 20th-ranked tandem, lost to McGee and Vanemboruh in the No. 1 doubles match, 7-5, 6-3, while Alkio and Marcel Vos defaulted their No. 2 match because Alkio couldn't continue due to tendinitis in his shoulder.

A&M's Dean Goldfine and Dean Johnson wrapped up the win with a 6-3, 6-4 victory over Andrew Vaiga and David Keevins.

The Aggies, 10-3 in spring match play, had an opening round by Wednesday and face No. 10 South Carolina in third-round matches today at 10:30 a.m.

South Carolina is seeded fourth in the tourney.

Women's Tennis

WINTER PARK, Fla. — The Texas A&M women's tennis team upped its spring match record to 9-3 with a convincing 8-1 victory over Rollins Thursday.

A&M's only loss came in the No. 1 singles match as Vanne Akagi lost to Rollins' Mary Dinneen 3-6, 6-3, 6-1. Dinneen was ranked No. 14 in the singles preseason poll.

A&M's big win on the day was Kim Labuschagne's 6-2, 6-3 defeat of Allyson Fowler, who currently is ranked 23rd.

"Her serves were a little off," Labuschagne said. "But I felt I was returning real well and just keeping the ball in play. I didn't try to kill it."

A&M Coach Bobby Kleinecke said he was especially pleased with Labuschagne's win.

"Kim's been working hard and playing well," Kleinecke said. "That win was not a fluke. Both Kim and Vanne can play with the best."

Akagi and Gave Lynne Gensler, A&M's 16th-ranked doubles team, defeated Dinneen and Farlow, 6-0, 6-1 in the No. 1 doubles match. Labuschagne and Julie Vaughan beat Robin Dolan and Geraldine Von Demleux by the same score.

"Our No. 1 and 2 doubles were flawless," Kleinecke said. "That's the best I've seen both doubles teams play on the same day."

Labuschagne's usual partner is freshman Karen Marshall, but Marshall has a virus, Kleinecke said, and will not play until she recovers.

"Julie stepped in and did a great job," Kleinecke said. "This shows how much depth this team has."

The No. 23 Aggies travel to Tampa, Fla., today to take on No. 24 South Florida. The women play Mississippi Saturday.

A&M will stress offense in Waco tourney

The No. 4 Texas A&M softball team found out last week it has the arms and gloves. This weekend in the Baylor round robin tournament in Waco, the Aggies will try to find some firepower.

The Aggies open the tourney Saturday at 10 a.m. against Southwest Texas State. A&M easily defeated SWTSU, 10-0, on its way to the championship of the Bayou Classic in Houma, La. last weekend.

A&M went 6-0 in the Louisiana tourney, as it outscored its opponents 27-1.

However, as a team the Aggies batted only .214. Shortstop Liz Mizera was the only A&M starter to bat over .300 as she hit .352.

"I expected to score more runs than we did," A&M Coach Bob Brock said. "We certainly didn't hit the ball as well as we need to. The weather (it was 30 degrees with 20 mph winds) had at least a little to do with our lack of hitting. I don't think last weekend was any indication of the kind of hitting team we are."

While they didn't find out what kind of artillery they possess, the Ags did show a solid defense.

The Aggie pitching was impentrate in 41 innings of work.

Junior Shawn Andaya (3-0) struck out 35, allowed only three hits and didn't allow an earned run in 21 innings.

She tossed a no-hitter in the Aggies' 6-0 win over Louisiana Tech in the championship game.

The other half of the rotation, freshman Julie Carpenter, struck out 28, gave up only five hits and didn't allow a run in 20 innings.

"Julie showed what she's capable of doing," Brock said. "I think she was still a little nervous, but she is strong."

"Shawn was Shawn. She did a great job. We are fixing to have a great one-two punch with Julie and Shawn."

The Ags will try to get the knock-out punch Saturday and Sunday in Waco.

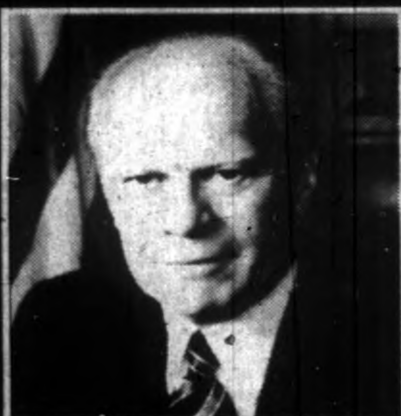

After Saturday's 10 a.m. game against the Bobcats, A&M will play Baylor at 2 p.m. The Aggies pounded the Bears 9-0 in a scrimmage last week.

GO FROM COLLEGE TO THE ARMY WITHOUT MISSING A BEAT.

The hardest thing about breaking into professional music is—well, breaking into professional music. So if you're looking for an opportunity to turn your musical talent into a full-time performing career, take a good look at the Army.

It's not all parades and John Philip Sousa. Army bands rock, waltz and boogie as well as march, and they perform before concert audiences as well as spectators. With an average of 40 performances a month, there's also the opportunity for travel—not only across America, but possibly abroad.

Most important, you can expect a first-rate professional environment from your instructors, facilities and fellow musicians. The Army has educational programs that can help you pay for off-duty instruction, and if you qualify, even help you repay your federally-insured student loans. If you can sight-read music, performing in the Army could be your big break. Write: Chief, Army Bands Office, Fort Benjamin Harrison, IN 46216-5005. Or call toll free 1-800-USA-ARMY.
