

Billing itself as the "Antique Center of Texas," Calvert is home to Dunken's (far left), Front Porch Antiques (middle) and Gray's Antiques (below) which are just a few of the many antique stores lining the city's main street. The Boll Weevil (bottom photo) was the first antique store in Calvert and occupies two buildings, one of which used to be a theater.

