(continued from page 1) Lister said, "Everybody's done a lot for their family and for their community, but the Heyes were just outstanding in their contributions to A&M."

The Heyes have four children. The oldest, Bill, graduated from A&M in December with degrees in mechanical engineering and English. The other three are currently attending A&M. Pat, also majoring in both mechanical engineering and English, is scheduled to graduate this December. Kathy is a junior speech communications major, and John is a freshman environmental design major.

William Heye, Class of '60, is a former A&M Corps commander. He was the speaker at Muster in 1982 and currently serves on the development councils of A&M, the Corps of Cadets and the Memorial Student Center. He also was roundtable chairman at the Student Conference on National Affairs in 1981.

He is currently vice president of the consumer products division of Texas Instruments.

Joan Heye was an official observer at SCONA in 1983 and 1984. She also is a member of both the Dallas A&M Mothers' Club and the Richardson Women's Club.

She works as a substitute secretary and as assistant to the counselor at J.J. Pearce High School in Richardson.

The Heyes both served as parent advisers to the Class of '85 and are members of the Century Club.

which officially rescinded the accusation that the Jews killed Christ.

That document was considered a turning point in Catholic-Jewish relations.

Quoting from the document, John Paul said the church "deplores the hatred, persecutions, and displays of anti-Semitism directed against the Jews at any time and by anyone."

"I would like once more to express a word of abhorrence for the genocide decreed against the Jewish people during the last war, which led to the Holocaust of millions of innocent victims," John Paul said.

He recalled his visit to the Auschwitz concentration camp in his native Poland in 1979.

"The Jewish community of Rome, too, paid a high price in blood," John Paul said. A plaque outside the synagogue is dedicated to the memory of 2,091 Roman Jews deported by the Nazis.

John Paul said it was a "significant gesture" that church buildings in Rome and the Vatican were opened to give refuge to "so many Jews of Rome being hunted by the persecutors."

The pope drew applause when he ended his speech by reciting a Psalm in Hebrew.

Toaff called the visit, which began at 5 p.m. and lasted an hour and 20 minutes, a "gesture destined to pass into history."
