Hagler may opt for retirement

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Marvelous Marvin Hagler, earning top dollar at the top of his sport, surprised the boxing world Wednesday by saying he may retire as undisputed middleweight champion rather than fight Sugar Ray Leonard.

Facing perhaps the biggest payday of his lucrative career, Hagler said his family's wishes for him to stop fighting and his desire to quit while healthy have led him to think "very seriously" about retiring.

"I just need a little bit more time to consider the future", Hagler said at a news conference at which it was thought he would accept the offer by Leonard, who said he would come out of retirement to fight Hagler.

"My mother, my grandmother and my wife have always been looking forward to the day when I can finally give up the game of boxing," said the 32-year-old Hagler. "I've made enough money in the game."

Leonard, the former welterweight champion who has fought just once in the past 52 months, has said he would come out of retirement only to fight Hagler this year. His camp was stunned by Hagler's announcement.

Mike Trainer, Leonard's lawyer, said he had spoken Wednesday with his fighter before Hagler's announcement and discussed the possible options.

"That's one we never talked about," Trainer said.

Arum said Hagler was not simply giving Leonard a dose of his own medicine. On Nov. 9, 1982, Leonard attended a black-tie affair at which he was expected to say he would fight Hagler, who was in attendance. Instead, Leonard announced his retirement.

"I really don't believe that to be the case," Arum said when asked if Hagler was getting back at Leonard. "I believe that he was about to say he'd actually announce his retirement and then decided that he would leave the door open in case he has second thoughts."

Astros slap Padres 8-1 to regain lead

HOUSTON (AP) — Denny Walling knocked in six runs with two homers and a single as the Houston Astros defeated the San Diego Padres 8-1 Wednesday.

"I haven't had a day like that in my career," said Walling, who also had another single to finish the game 4-for-5. "I've never hit two home runs in a game and never had more than three RBI."

Walling had a three-run homer in the third inning, a solo homer in the fifth and a two-run single in the eighth to tie a club record with six RBI. He had hit two home runs previously this year with 15 RBI.

Walling, 31, has platooned with Phil Garner at third base this season. "I've never played every day," Walling said. "I know when we face a right-hander I'll play and when we face a left-hander he'll play."

More left-handers are facing Houston this year, so Walling has concentrated on pinch-hitting.

"I'm trying to concentrate more on coming off the bench," Walling explained.

Mike Scott, 8-5, struck out three to raise his major league-leading total to 151 as he threw his second straight complete game. He allowed six hits and did not walk a batter as Houston took the final game of the three-game series.

Clemens' streak ends

BOSTON (AP) — Roger Clemens' bid to tie an American League record for most wins at the start of a season ended Wednesday night when the Boston right-hander lost his first game of the season, 4-2 to the Toronto Blue Jays.

Losing after 14 consecutive victories, Clemens fell one shy of the AL record for the most wins at the start of a season, set by Cleveland's Johnny Allen in 1937 and equaled by Baltimore's Dave McNally in 1969.

The Blue Jays, held to one hit for seven innings, scored three runs in the eighth to pull it out.

Clemens struck out eight and walked two, both in the seventh inning before he apparently tired. The only hit off him to that point was George Bell's 15th homer in the fourth.

Winner Jimmy Key, 7-5, scattered eight hits in 7½ innings.
