

Texas A&M The Battalion

Vol. 82 No. 202 USPS 045360 16 pages

College Station, Texas

Friday, September 5, 1986

Second special session set for Monday

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Mark White, insisting the Legislature's budget-balancing try wasn't a failure, Thursday summoned lawmakers back to finish the job.

White announced another special session to begin Monday. He gave it the same goal that eluded the session which ended Thursday — balancing the budget that faces a $3.5 billion deficit.

"The time has expired on the session which was called, but we're not giving up our tents and we're not going home," White said.

"We have to realize that our constitutional duty and our first responsibility is to balance the budget," he said.

White renewed his call for a temporary sales tax increase to be combined with spending cuts to wipe out the deficit.

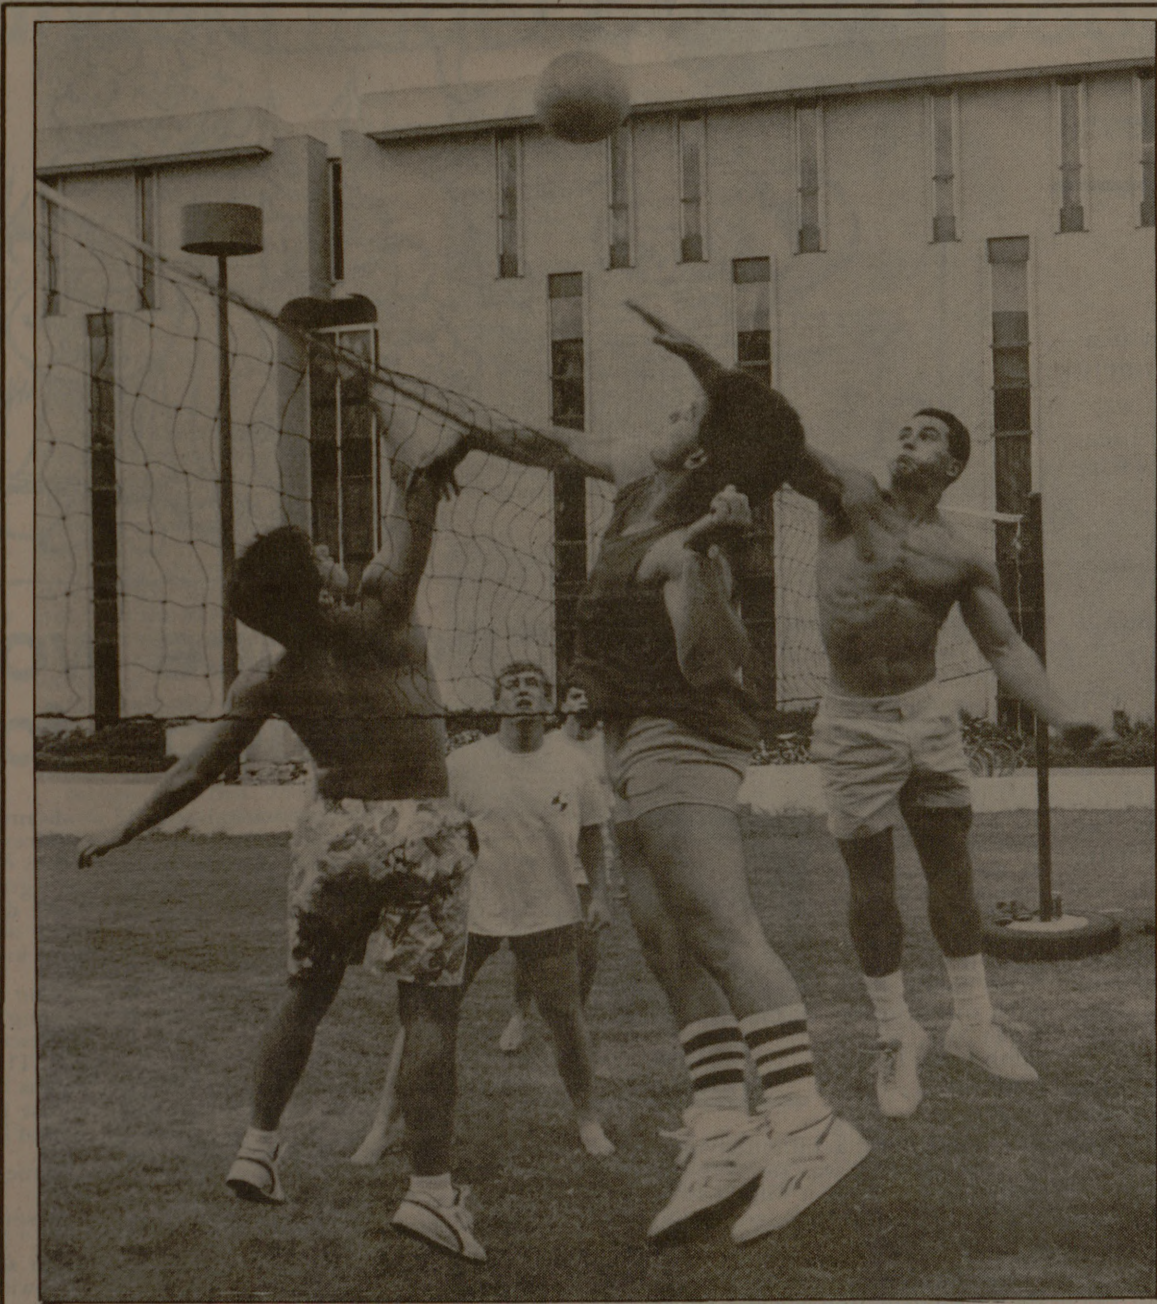

When he opened the just-ended special session Aug. 6, White urged lawmakers to hike the sales tax from 5 cents to 5 1/2 cents for a year. Although he told lawmakers then that might cost them their jobs to raise taxes in an election year, he said Thursday that remains the best course.

"I think we're going to need deep cuts combined with an emergency, temporary tax increase in order to close the budget gap," White said.

"That's the reality I described at the beginning of this effort," he said. "I think that's the best compromise."

White's election opponent, former Gov. Bill Clements, a Republican, said the Legislature's deadlock is graphic proof of White's inability to lead.

"The fact there is a second special session is unfortunate for the state," Clements said. "If the leadership from the governor's office had been here during the first 30 days, this crisis would be over."

Net Work

In a tournament volleyball game, this player probably would be called for a foul, but these Aston residents seem to have developed their own set of rules for their Thursday afternoon game.

Photo by Tom Ownbey

Gunmen seize Pan Am plane carrying 400

Unconfirmed report says passenger dead

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Four men firing machine guns seized a Pan Am jumbo jet filled with nearly 400 people at Karachi airport early Friday and an unconfirmed report said a passenger shot and thrown from the plane has died. At least four people were wounded, officials said.

The three-man cockpit crew of Flight 73 bound for New York managed to escape through an emergency hatch when they heard the initial gunfire.

The hijackers offered to release all the passengers if the crew were returned to the plane to fly them to Cyprus, said Khurshid Manwar Mirza, director general of civil aviation administration. Pan Am officials in Bombay, India, the stop before Karachi, said about 41 Americans were among the passengers.

Mirza said the hijackers, who were dressed in the blue uniforms of the airport security force, claimed to be seeking the release of friends in Cyprus prisons.

"They have nothing against us, or anyone else," he said.

Pakistan has tentatively agreed to the deal, in which the passengers would leave the plane as the crew boarded, but was waiting to hear from Pan Am, said Mirza.

A Pakistani air force spokesman, who refused to be identified, said the gunmen appeared to be Arabs and are speaking English.

Heavily armed Pakistani soldiers and commandos surrounded the Boeing 747 and cordoned off the area. Airport officials said the four men drove out to the parked airliner in a van after the jet arrived. They opened fire and stormed aboard the plane, scattering terrified passengers waiting to board in every direction, officials said.

Two airport ground crew members were injured in the assault, but it was not clear if they were shot.

Hours after the plane was seized, the gunmen opened fire from the plane at airport personnel and wounded at least one worker of Pakistan's Civil Aviation Administration, officials said.

Pakistani army generals and top civilian officials were directing the security operation from the airport control tower.

Pan Am officials in Karachi and the U.S. Consulate estimated about 380 passengers on board Flight 73, which was to stop in Frankfurt, West Germany, after Karachi. Anil Bhatia, Pan Am manager in Bombay, said there were 387 passengers.

In New York, Pan Am spokeswoman Ann Whyte said 284 passengers were on board. It was not immediately clear why there was a discrepancy in the number of passengers.

The flight was scheduled to arrive at Kennedy International Airport at 3:25 p.m. EDT Friday, according to the airline.

Peter Roussel, a White House spokesman in California with the vacating President Reagan, said, "We are aware of the reports and are monitoring the situation. The president has been informed and is being kept updated on it by John Poindexter," the White House national security adviser.

One of the American cockpit crew members, who spoke to The Associated Press by telephone from the airport operations center, said it did not appear anyone on the plane had been hurt.

The crew member, who demanded anonymity, said the plane's two pilots and flight engineer had escaped through an emergency hatch as soon as they heard shots.

Hanlon said that about 5 a.m. Friday (9 p.m. EDT Thursday), four armed individuals, dressed as security guards, boarded the airplane and demanded they be flown to Cyprus.

The attackers told the cockpit crew, who had left the plane, to get back on board and prepare for take off, she said.

Captains arrested in liner crash

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet authorities have arrested the captains of the two ships that collided in the Black Sea and left 398 people dead or missing, a senior official said Thursday.

Official newspapers said the collision was caused by carelessness on the part of the ships' crews.

Albert I. Vlasov, first deputy chief of the Communist Party propaganda department, said the cruise ship Admiral Nakhimov sank just seven to eight minutes after it was rammed by a freighter Sunday night.

Vlasov said 37 more bodies have been recovered, bringing the confirmed death toll to 116. Little hope appeared that any of the 282 missing people would be found alive.

He said both captains, Vadim Markov of the Admiral Nakhimov and Viktor Tkachenko of the freighter Pyotr Vasyov have been arrested.

The cruise ship, packed with 1,234 Soviet tourists and crew, was rammed by the freighter late Sunday night.

Vlasov said the search for the missing continued Thursday though no survivors have been found since 836 people were rescued Sunday and Monday.

Vlasov said divers found no signs of life in the wreckage.

Security forces halt riot victims' funeral

Limited sanctions package against S. Africa renewed

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — President Reagan Thursday renewed a package of limited sanctions against the white-ruled government of South Africa, but refused to impose the tougher steps approved by Congress.

Reagan, in a message to Congress, said that additional measures "will be considered upon the completion of consultations with key allies on joint, effective measures to eliminate apartheid and encourage negotiations for peaceful change in South Africa."

Youths angered by the ban on the mass funeral set up street barricades in neighborhoods throughout Soweto, which is home to about two million people. The government reported fire-bombings, stone-throwing and attacks by militants on residents who disregarded a call to stay away from work.

Security men sped through the township in armored vehicles, firing tear gas canisters and sometimes Sanctions imposed last year by Reagan expire next Tuesday. Reagan's action Thursday keeps them in place for another year.

The sanctions include a prohibition on the sale in the United States of the South African gold coin, the Krugerrand, a ban on computer sales and bank loans to the South African government and a prohibition on the export to South Africa of U.S. nuclear technology.

The House has approved legislation imposing a total trade em-birdshot. Surveillance helicopters clattered overhead.

There were unconfirmed reports of casualties, but the government's Bureau for Information said police had filed no reports of deaths or injuries.

Witnesses said a woman was killed when she fell in front of a train while fleeing from young men who used whips to prevent people from going bargo on South Africa while the Senate has passed a bill that would impose a partial trade embargo and a ban on new U.S. investments in and bank loans to South Africa.

In announcing Reagan's act, presidential spokesman Larry Speakes expressed disappointment over the impact of the limited sanction package.

Speakes said he could not speculate on when Reagan might take additional steps.

to jobs in Johannesburg. A man was hurt when he jumped from the train to escape the whips, they said.

Witnesses gave this account of the scene in Soweto:

Most shops were closed. Commuters going to work in the morning and returning in the evening were lashed with whips and pelted with stones.

Editor: Reporter against Soviet deal

NEW YORK (AP) — Nicholas S. Daniloff, the U.S. News & World Report correspondent jailed in Moscow, doesn't want to be traded for a Soviet spy suspect, his editor said Thursday after returning from the Soviet Union.

A State Department official in Washington said the Soviet government has not responded to the U.S. proposal to exchange Daniloff, accused by the Soviets of spying, for an understanding that a Soviet physicist accused of spying in the United States would be sent home after his trial.

Mortimer Zuckerman, the owner and editor-in-chief of U.S. News & World Report, said Daniloff was buoyed by public support, but "didn't feel it was appropriate for him to be swapped for someone clearly involved in espionage."

"He is no more a spy than John Wayne, no more involved in espionage than Gidget or any of us and it's outrageous he's kept in prison," Zuckerman said as he arrived home from Moscow.

The deal to liberate Daniloff would involve temporarily releasing Gennadiy F. Zakharov, a physicist who was assigned to the United Nations Secretariat, to the Soviet ambassador, U.S. officials said Wednesday.

State Department spokesman Charles E. Redman said the United States is "taking every appropriate measure, using every appropriate diplomatic contact and channel" in an effort to secure Daniloff's release.

Another U.S. official, who demanded anonymity, said the correspondent was, in effect, a hostage and that the Soviets appeared unable to decide how to respond to the U.S. proposal.

Daniloff, who has not been formally charged, was arrested in a Moscow park after a Soviet acquaintance who had accepted several Stephen King novels from Daniloff more than a year ago handed him a packet that the correspondent didn't ask for or anticipate, Zuckerman said. He called the arrest "obviously a KGB setup."

Daniloff had not heard from the man in more than a year until receiving three phone calls shortly after the Aug. 23 arrest of Zakharov, Zuckerman said.

He said the packet handed to Daniloff contained Soviet newspaper articles indicating how Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev was being received in the provinces, poor quality photographs that the magazine had rejected when they were previously offered and two 35-millimeter negatives containing two maps which the KGB said were top secret.

Stadium filled with tear gas to enforce ban

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Security forces filled a stadium with tear gas to stop a mass funeral for riot victims Thursday, then kept through Soweto breaking up their services and battling gangs of youths, witnesses said.

A Soweto clergyman said, "The fact that people managed to get through the dragnet to bury their dead is laudable." He asked not to be identified.

The funeral organized by anti-apartheid leaders in defiance of police orders was to have been held for 100 people killed by police gunfire during riots Aug. 26-27 in the huge black township outside Johannesburg.

Fifteen of the victims were buried in a nearby cemetery after police drove mourners from Javavu soccer stadium near White City, the Soweto neighborhood hit hardest by the violence, clergymen and Soweto residents said.

Clergymen said they formed a human barrier in the stadium at one point to avert what appeared to be an imminent confrontation between police and mourners.

According to the government's Bureau for Information, which provides official accounts of unrest under the nationwide state of emergency imposed June 12, "several smaller funerals did take place." It gave no details.

Adds, late registration continue until 5 p.m.

Those students who needed to add classes or go through late registration but were unwilling to brave long lines at the Pavilion earlier this week have their last chance today to take care of those scheduling matters.

Registration headquarters at the Pavilion will be open until 5 p.m.

Beyond Books
Computerized Information Searches

Learning the ropes
Library Basics