

Baylor stars garner AP recognition

(AP) — If Thomas Everett and Cody Carlson hadn't lived up to their preseason billing, the Baylor Bears wouldn't be ranked 12th in the nation this week.

Everett, an Associated Press first team All-American in 1985, intercepted two passes last Saturday in a 31-28 victory over Wyoming.

Carlson, who had shared quarterback duties for three years with Tom Muecke, took advantage of a chance to play all four quarters.

His 244 yards passing gave the Bears the offensive punch they needed to stave off the underdog Cowboys at Laramie.

The performances of Everett and Carlson earned them The AP's SWC Defensive and Offensive Players of the Week.

Everett returned an interception 42 yards for a touchdown and swiped another pass in the final two minutes to preserve Baylor's shaky victory.

Everett, who returned a punt for a touchdown to help Baylor defeat the Cowboys at Waco last year, said Wyoming quarterback Scott Runyan was very difficult to read.

"He (Runyan) ran out of the pocket good and he was so small (5-foot-9) I couldn't find him half the time," Everett said.

Carlson, a senior from San Antonio, kept the Baylor offense humming on a day when the defense couldn't effectively stop the Cowboys' passing game. He rushed 15 times for 70 yards.

Jets hope to overcome Pats' magic

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — The strange brew that makes up the New England Patriots in many ways defies logic. But it works, as the Patriots' trip to the Super Bowl proved last year.

New England visits the New York Jets tonight in a nationally televised NFL contest that will provide an early jump in the AFC East race for one of the teams. The Patriots routed Indianapolis 33-3 in their season-opener as New York edged Buffalo 28-24.

All New England's plays are called by Steve Grogan, the backup quarterback, from the sidelines, while starter Tony Eason puts them into motion.

"They are confident and efficient and well-coached," Coach Joe Walton said. "They're the most talented team in our division and maybe in the entire NFL."

New England buried the Colts last Sunday as Eason connected on 18 of 29 passes for 252 yards and a touchdown to Stanley Morgan.

Tony Franklin had four field goals and the defense, led by linebacker Don Blackmon with three sacks, trapped Colts quarterback Gary Hogeboom six times. The Colts, one of the league's best rushing teams, had only 83 yards on the ground.

Tippett said the Jets present a double dilemma — they can ram the ball down a defense's throat and have as good a crew of receivers as anyone.

The Jets overcame a noisy crowd and a highly motivated Bills team in the debut of QB Jim Kelly. Ken O'Brien threw for 318 yards and touchdowns of 46 yards to Al Toon and 71 to Wesley Walker.

Defensive end Barry Bennett thinks the Jets will provide some of their own fireworks in stopping the Patriots.

"The most important thing is we've got to hurry Eason and make him throw quicker than he wants to," Bennett said. "If your defense can get their offense off-balance, it can do even more. We have to shut down James and Collins."

Ryan's defenses proved not so spectacular

(AP) — On the first Sunday of the 1986 NFL season, Buddy Ryan's defenses gave up 782 yards and 65 points. As San Francisco Coach Bill Walsh has pointed out, the "genius" tag fades quickly.

The games in question were: Washington 41, Philadelphia 14, and Chicago 41, Cleveland 31, two games symbolic of an opening weekend in which NFL defenses were less than staunch.

Start in Chicago, where the defense constructed by Ryan now is in the hands of Vince Tobin.

The 31 points surrendered by the Bears were more than they gave up in any of their 15 victories last season — Miami scored 38 in handing Chicago its only loss. And a defense that had 64 sacks last year and 70 in 1984 had only one of the surprisingly mobile Bernie Kosar, who rolled away from trouble the way Dan Marino did in Miami's victory last year.

So embarrassed were Ditka and his defense that they quickly pointed out that they had given up 28 points to Tampa Bay in last year's opener and were responsible Sunday for only 24 of Cleveland's points — the other seven came on a botched snap that Cleveland's Al Gross recovered in the end zone for the first NFL touchdown decided by instant replay.

Ryan's team also didn't play very smart, after Washington rolled up 433 yards against his Eagles, who still are learning the principles of the "46" defense he employed with such success at Chicago.

and shouldn't slow him down. He runs a 4.6 in the 40-yard dash, but Head Coach Jackie Sherrill said he plays like he runs a 4.5.

Holland said that's because he's always giving 100 percent on the field. "I think I have pretty quick feet — faster than my 4.6 speed shows," he said.

There have been questions about the inexperience in the Aggies secondary, with the loss of Domingo Bryant, Darrell Austin and Wayne Asberry, but A&M will stick to the same defense they ran last year, Holland said.

"We're preparing for them probably like we would SMU and Baylor combined," he said.

"They have an explosive offense and they'll try to throw a lot of stuff at us," he said. "It's kind of like our offense so we'll be ready for anything."

Holland, however, is predicting a fairly low scoring defensive game. That's quite possible since the Aggies are returning nine starters from last year's best defensive team in the Southwest Conference and LSU has 10 starters coming back.

Holland said they are looking forward to lining up against LSU freshman quarterback Todd Hodson.

"It'll be a lot of fun," Holland said with a smile. "But we heard he's a great athlete and we're not going to underestimate him."

Holland also is looking ahead to tackling fellow ex-Hempstead High School player Harvey Williams who bypassed A&M for LSU.

"We're pretty good friends," Holland said. "I really didn't get to be around him a lot in high school because he was a freshman when I was a senior."

Although the LSU fans are known to get a little rowdy and Tiger stadium contains sound well, Holland said he doesn't expect the noise to be a factor.

To prepare for the noise in Tiger Stadium Saturday night, the Aggies have been practicing with pre-recorded tapes of loud crowd noises.

GO FROM COLLEGE TO THE ARMY WITHOUT MISSING A BEAT.

The hardest thing about breaking into professional music is—well, breaking into professional music. So if you're looking for an opportunity to turn your musical talent into a full-time performing career, take a good look at the Army.

It's not all parades and John Philip Sousa. Army bands rock, waltz and boogie as well as march, and they perform before concert audiences as well as spectators. With an average of 40 performances a month, there's also the opportunity for travel—not only across America, but possibly abroad.

Most important, you can expect a first-rate professional environment from your instructors, facilities and fellow musicians. The Army has educational programs that can help you pay for off-duty instruction, and if you qualify, even help you repay your federally-insured student loans. If you can sight-read music, performing in the Army could be your big break. Write: Chief, Army Bands Office, Fort Benjamin Harrison, IN 46216-5005. Or call toll free 1-800-USA-ARMY.

ARMY BAND. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.
