Correction

In Wednesday's edition of The Battalion, a story on page 1 reported that 4.2 percent of Texas A&M's total operating funds would be cut in 1987. The headline of the story incorrectly stated that A&M would lose 4.6 percent of the funding. The Battalion regrets the error.

UT/A&M endowment funds top Harvard, rest of nation

AUSTIN (AP) — After years of taking a back seat to Harvard, the endowment funds managed by the University of Texas System now are the nation's largest, officials say.

The UT-managed funds, which are also used to support the Texas A&M System, had a market value of about $3.6 billion at the end of August, just ahead of Harvard's $3.5 billion.

Last year, Harvard led with $2.5 billion, and UT had $2.3 billion.

A survey published by The Chronicle of Higher Education said UT surpassed Harvard at the end of each school's 1985 fiscal year, when the market value of the UT funds was $2.9 billion and Harvard's was $2.7 billion.

UT officials have not been bragging about the change in position. They noted that Harvard's endowment supports a campus of less than 15,000 students, while most of the funds managed by UT are shared by a 14-campus system including Texas A&M University at College Station and Prairie View A&M University that serves a total of about 160,000 students.

Texas officials also said constitutional restrictions on investment and use of the Permanent University Fund, the largest portion of the endowment money managed by UT,

U.S. deports Iranian; family disappears

DALLAS (AP) — An Iranian citizen whose father worked for the deposed Shah has been deported and his wife has been ordered to sign travel documents for deportation of herself and two children, immigration officials said Wednesday.

Mohammad Reza Nia Youssefi, who owned an ice-cream business in Arlington, was sent back to Iran on Friday, said Ron Chandler, regional director of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service in Dallas.

He said immigration officials did not know the whereabouts of Fahmeh Assad Amraji and her two children.

"We think that they're still in town here," Chandler said Wednesday. "We were hopeful of bringing this to an equitable conclusion without having to go that route (arrest)."

Chandler said immigration officials are trying to contact the family's attorney. He said an arrest had not yet been ordered, but eventually will be if the wife does not sign the documents for her American-born daughter.

Youssefi's lawyers filed an injunction to delay deportation, but a federal judge in Dallas denied the stay Friday.

Prosecutor arrested on charges of bribe-taking

WACO (AP) — McLennan County District Attorney Zell was arrested Wednesday on federal racketeering charges alleging he took bribes from defense attorneys in return for influencing the outcome of criminal cases.

Fezell, 35, was arrested about 9:20 a.m. on a indictment alleging violation of Racketeering Influence on Public Organizations Act on fraud, U.S. Attorney Hubert said.

The indictment alleges instructed certain defense attorneys to increase their fees and pass on a portion of the money to him in exchange for favorable settlement of their cases.

Fezell said he is innocent of the charges and has no plans to sign his office.

"I believe I'm going to be cleared on this thing," he said. "I think most people are going to see through it."
