

At Ease

CONTENTS

The handsome chap on the front cover is called the Ogre. As anyone who knows the Ogre will tell you, his good looks are surpassed only by his charm and sophisticated wit.

He's one of thousands of people who populate the 16th-century magical kingdom known as the Texas Renaissance Festival. This is the 12th year for the festival, which features out-of-this world food, drinks and entertainment.

After you've read these At Ease features on the festival, just go south down Highway 6. Take 105 East to Plantersville, then take a right on 1776. You can probably follow the traffic to the festival site, which is about six miles down the road.
