NATO allies encourage quick summit followup

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — America's NATO allies expressed disappointment Monday that promising arms reduction initiatives were derailed at Reykjavik by a dispute over "Star Wars," and urged the su-perpowers to move quickly toward reaching agreement. The allies, briefed Monday on the weekend superpower summit by Secretary of State George P. Shultz, expressed particular disappoint-ment that an agreement was blocked to rid Europe of medium-range U.S. and Soviet missiles.

That accord was part of a package tentatively agreed to by President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev before the talks in Iceland foundered over Star Wars, or the U.S. Strategic Defense Initiative for a space-based defense against nuclear rockets. In what appeared to be an allu-sion to Reagan's insistence on his also expressed "warm appreciation" to Reagan for his efforts at Reykja-vik, said, "We were pleased to note that the U.S. (nuclear arms) negotiators will return to Geneva with instructions to build upon the progress made in Reykjavik.'

Britain's representative at the Shultz meeting, Foreign Office Min-ister of State Tim Renton, told a news conference "Now we must maintain the momentum It is not the end of the play. We hope to take up the next act quickly." Renton gave Reagan "full marks" for his Reykjavik effort.

Retailer still tops Forbes 400

NEW YORK (AP) — There are du Ponts and Rockefellers, and even a Perdue. But the ann Forbes magazine list of t wealthiest people in America is topped by an Arkansas retailed who is proof that the rich ofter do get richer.

Sam Moore Walton, 68, founder of the Wal-Mart dis-count stores, has more money than any other American, accord-ing to the annual "Forbes 400." His $4.5 billion is impressive. Last year, when he also topped the list, he had a paltry $2.8 bil-lion.

He's not alone. There were 25 other billionaires, up from 14 last year.

Earthquake's aftershock strikes as search for survivors continues

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) - A sharp aftershock of the earthquake that killed at least 890 people hit San Salvador Monday as the homeless set up makeshift shel-ters in fields, doctors delivered babies in a parking lot, and survivors buried their dead.

President Jose Napoleon Duarte, who announced the death toll in a national broadcast, put the number of injured in Friday's catastrophe at 10,000 and the homeless at 150,000.

A strong tremor rattled the capital for about three seconds at 4:29 p.m.

(5:29 p.m. CDT). There were no immediate reports of additional casualties or damage.

The seismological station in neighboring Guatemala said the tremor measured 4.5 on the openended Richter scale, and said it was centered 156 miles southeast of Gua-temala City in the Pacific Ocean off El Salvador.

Duarte visited the site of the fivestory Ruben Dario office building that collapsed Friday. Officials say more than 200 people may have been trapped in the rubble of the building in downtown San Salvador.

U.S. Embassy officials said Sun-day night that 52 people had been building and the search continued. Duarte postponed indefinitely a visit to the United States he had planned for this week. He was scheduled to speak at Boston University Friday and then go to Wash-ington, and the State Department relayed the message of the cancella-tion from Duarte to the university.

The devastation was confined mostly to this capital city of 800,000 people.

Duarte told El Salvador in a broadcast Sunday night, "We are practically going to have to recons-truct all of the city."

Saudis seeking bigger market share

OPEC unsure on new agreement GENEVA (AP) — Oil-rich Saudi Arabia said Monday it would refuse to extend a temporary OPEC agreement that has helped boost prices significantly since August, injecting fresh uncer-tainty into the cartel's week-old conference. The Saudis, ending their public silence on the talks in Geneva, said the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries must arrive at a permanent replacement for a 2-month-old interim accord on production quotas that slashed more than 3 million barrels a day from the glutted world market.

The Saudis also indicated they wouldn't accept any new agreement unless it included a boost in their share of total OPEC production, already OPEC's largest at 4.35 million barrels daily.

suspend the full conference while a three-min-ister committee he heads prepared recommendations on production quotas. He said the 13-nation conference might be reconvened as early as Wednesday. He did not indicate whether the deliberations were near a conclusion.

Lukman said the ministerial committee, which includes his counterparts from Indonesia and the United Arab Emirates, would meet heads of the other delegations Tuesday and perhaps Wednesday to assess their views.

simply extend the current interim agreement on production quotas. He stressed, however, that OPEC was "primarily interested in setting permanent quotas." The Saudi government statement said an in-proper economic basis that would achieve fairness.

It also said a new system should compensate Saudi Arabia for what were called the sacrifices the country had made for OPEC since the founding of the organization in 1960.

By demanding that the cartel leaders stay in Geneva and compose a permanent system of pro-duction quotas, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait have forced the organization to confront its most fundamental divisions.

Lukman, while attempting to portray the de-Lukman did not rule out a final decision to mply extend the current interim agreement on

The cartel's total production under the temporary agreement is targeted at 16.8 million barrels and has helped drive prices from $7-$12 a barrel to the $14-$16 range

The Saudi Arabian statement, released by the official Saudi press agency in Riyadh, added ten-sion to the OPEC meeting, which has made little progress toward agreement since it started last Monday. The lack of an agreement could push prices down again.

Rilwanu Lukman, the OPEC president and oil minister of Nigeria, said the ministers decided to terim agreement "cannot be a substitute for a permanent agreement on distribution of quotas." Kuwait is the only other OPEC member that has rejected extending the interim accord. Kuwait also wants a bigger share of the production.

The statement, issued after a Cabinet session in Riyadh headed by King Fahd, said Saudi Ara-bia "affirms the necessity of reaching an agreement for distribution of quotas on the

The main problem is that all OPEC men want a bigger piece of the production pie, yet the cartel cannot afford to increase output substant tially without risking a new price plunge. "Some of the decisions that have to be made are not technical but are of a political nature," Lukman told a news conference.

The Middle East Economic Survey, a widely watched monitor of oil industry developments reported Monday that expected involuntary pro-duction cuts by Iran and Iraq in November and December could present OPEC with a short-term solution to its deadlock.
