Reagan approves tax overhaul 'to keep America competitive'

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the stroke of several pens and a renewed vow to oppose tax increases, President Reagan signed into law on Wednesday a far-reaching tax overhaul that he termed a victory for fairness and nothing short of a revolution.
"I feel like we've just played the World Series of tax reform," Reagan said after using a fistful of pens to put his name to the 879-page bill printed on artificial parchment. "And the American people won."
"This is a tax code designed to take us into a future of technological invention and economic achievement, one that will keep America competitive and growing into the 21st Century," Reagan told an applauding crowd of aides, a dozen members of Congress and scores of corporate officials invited to the ceremonies on the sunny South Lawn of the White House.

He praised members of Congress and of his administration who led the fight for the bill, which he termed "the most sweeping overhaul of the tax code in our nation's history." He mentioned the two chief authors of the measure, Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., who did not attend, and Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., who did.
The new tax plan, which Reagan put at the top of his second-term agenda, is patterned after the one he sent to Congress May 19, 1985: significantly lower tax rates and a tax base broadened by elimination or reduction of several deductions and exclusions.

Most provisions take effect next Jan. 1, although many will be phased in gradually. The new law will cut taxes by an average of 6.1 percent for three-quarters of Americans and raise taxes on corporations by $120 billion over the next five years. By 1988 the top individual tax rate will be cut to 33 percent from the present 50 percent; the 46 percent maximum corporate rate will drop to 34 percent.
The Tax Reform Act of 1986 will affect every person who pays a federal income tax and sweep onto the tax rolls many wealthy investors and profitable corporations that have been able to legally avoid the Internal Revenue Service through judicious use of deductions.

More than 20 million couples and individuals, including several million middle-income families whose rate will not make up for lost deductions will face tax increases in 1987 and beyond.
Some deductions being cut are the same ones favored by middle-income families: Individual Retirement Accounts, sales taxes, consumer interest, medical expense union dues and — for those who don't itemize — charitable gifts.
On the other hand, the law gradually raises the $1,080 personal exemption to $2,000 and substantially boosts the standard deduc-

Tass announces execution of man accused of spying

MOSCOW (AP) — The official Soviet news agency Tass on Wednesday announced the execution of a Soviet man who was accused of working for the CIA and reportedly was turned in to the KGB by American defector Edward Lee Howard, a former CIA employee.

Tass did not say when the Soviet, Adolf Tolkachev, was executed. Spy trials and executions are not always reported by the Soviet press, and when they are, the reports sometimes come long after the trials take place.

The announcement of Tolkachev's execution came during a period of heightened Soviet-U.S. tension over a series of diplomatic expulsions.

A military tribunal convicted Tolkachev of "high treason in the form of spying," Tass said.

The agency said Tolkachev was executed after an appeal was turned down. Executions in the Soviet Union normally are carried out by firing squad.

Tass described Tolkachev as "a staff worker of a Moscow research institute." It said he was arrested by the KGB, the Soviet secret police, and "exposed... as an agent of U.S. intelligence."

The agency did not say when Tolkachev was arrested or when he was put on trial.

"It was established in the course of the investigation that Tolkachev, in pursuit of selfish ends and on account of his hostile attitude toward the Soviet state, had maintained espionage contacts with U.S. intelligence agents who had been in Moscow under the guise of U.S. Embassy personnel," Tass said.

It did not list the charges against Tolkachev.

The Los Angeles Times, quoting unidentified sources, reported from Washington earlier this year that Tolkachev had been executed because of information provided by Howard, who defected to the Soviet Union in August.

The newspaper said Howard sold the KGB the names of the CIA's entire Moscow network. "He wiped out Moscow station," a U.S. official was quoted as saying.

Survey shows money is main cause of family quarrels

NEW YORK (AP) — Money is the leading cause of family arguments in America, people are borrowing record amounts to maintain living standards, and a third of U.S. adults believe their sex lives could improve if they were wealthier, according to a survey released Wednesday.

Other findings in the 262-page national survey: 45 percent of those surveyed were dissatisfied with their financial situation; more people think President Reagan's policies have hurt than helped this past year; one in 10 households has no savings; and women were only about half as likely as men to understand common financial terms, such as "Dow Jones Industrial Average."

The annual survey was released at a news conference by Money magazine, a monthly owned by Time Inc. It was done by Lieberman Research Inc., a New York-based pollster that has conducted the survey since its inception in 1983. While the proportion of debtors in the survey rose slightly, from 70 percent in 1985 to 72 percent this year, the average amount they owe jumped nearly 22 percent, from $33,300 to $40,000, mostly from consumer borrowing, the survey found.

Results of the survey were based on two weeks of interviews, with a 2 percent to 3 percent margin of error for the questionnaire and 4 percent for the telephone interview.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney General Edwin Meese on Wednesday launched a nationwide campaign against hard-core pornography, creating a task force of prosecutors in the Justice Department so that the $8 billion smut industry can be "pursued with a vengeance and prosecuted to the hilt."

Suicide survivor urges choice of life

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Kenneth Baldwin knew suicide was a horrible mistake the moment his hands slipped from the railing and he plunged off the Golden Gate Bridge.

President Reagan had asked Koop to put together a report explaining the disease. In his report, the surgeon general said education and so-called "safe sex" are key weapons against AIDS—until vaccines and effective treatments are developed.

He told a news conference he will implement most of the 22 recommendations made in July by the Attorney General's Commission on Pornography.
An anti-smut unit of at least a half-dozen federal attorneys will begin work within 30 days in the Justice Department's criminal division.

he's "thrilled to be alive" and urges others who are contemplating suicide to give life another chance.

More than 1,200 people are believed to have gone over the bridge's edge since it opened in 1937, according to the California Highway Patrol. Nineteen last
