BATTALION!!

Aggies hope for revenge against UTA

By Danny Myers
Sports Writer

The 18th-ranked Texas A&M volleyball team will be out to avenge an earlier loss to the University of Texas at Arlington tonight at 7:30 p.m. in G. Rollie White Coliseum.

The Mavericks sent the Aggies home with a 12-15, 15-6, 10-15, 10-15 loss when the two teams met in Arlington.

"We'd like to return the favor," A&M Coach Al Givens said.

"It'll be a good contest. They have a good ballclub, but so do we. I imagine it's going to be a battle."

The Aggies returned from a three-match non-conference tour this weekend in Kentucky. They won two matches and lost one to move their record to 20-7.

After going to the University of Louisville and dropping the Cardinals in four games Thursday, the Aggies headed to the University of Kentucky on Friday.

A&M wasn't treated too friendly as Kentucky, a Top 20 honorable mention team the last few weeks, beat A&M 11-15, 15-8, 15-12, 15-8.

Givens was less than thrilled with the officiating.

"You hate to say anything about the officiating but they big-time homered us," he said.

"It disrupted the flow of the game, but we should have been able to rise above it. I hoped that we could sneak through and go 3-0 on this road trip."

Disenchanted with the loss, the Aggies went to Eastern Kentucky and handed the Colonels a three-game strumming 15-12, 15-10, 15-12 to drop the Colonels' record to 20-8.

Givens said if the Aggies played Kentucky the way they played Eastern Kentucky, they wouldn't have lost.

"Once again, we were Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," he said.

A&M outside hitter Cheri Steensma also said the team will be looking for revenge against UTA tonight.

"We beat ourselves at UTA," Steensma said. "We adjusted to their play, but we adjusted too late."

"It's nothing personal, but we want to beat them so bad. We can't wait to play them at home. Even body's fired up and ready to play."

"We're just going to have to play our match and control them from the beginning."

Ag men tennis players dominate tournament

By Loyd Brumfield
Assistant Sports Editor

The Sun Bowl Invitational Tennis Tournament in El Paso wound up getting rained out Sunday, but that doesn't bother the Aggies — they'll just have to finish the tournament here.

An all-Texas A&M final round will feature Dean Goldfine and Dean Johnson squaring off in the singles final to be held Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Omar Smith Tennis Center, while the team of Goldfine and Marcel Vos will face Johnson and Brent Haygarth in the doubles final at 3 p.m.

In the quarterfinals, Goldfine defeated Brendon Boyer of Utah 6-1, 7-5 and teammate Haygarth in the semifinal round 2-6, 6-2, 7-6. Hay-garth had four match points on Goldfine in the final game, but Goldfine held him off and won the tie-breaker 13-11.

Johnson edged ASU's Ian Aler 6-3, 6-7, 6-3 to advance to the semifinal round, where he beat Utah's Jeri Koho 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

In doubles, Vos and Goldfine beat Patrick Logionia and James Lucdomant of NLU 6-4, 7-6 to advance to the finals while Johnson and Haygarth beat John Schmitt and Landry of ASU 6-4, 6-4.

In other action, A&M's Jeff Livshitz advanced to the consolation finals by beating NLU's Bryan Miltz6-4, 7-6. Livshitz was to face Rob Horwood of ASU in the final, but the match was canceled because of the rainout.

Liong falls in consolation

The Texas A&M women tennis players are probably glad they escaped from the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association regional qualifying tennis tournament in Austin with their lives.

Of the six team members that competed, three went out with injuries. Out of the remaining players, Laura Liong lost in the consolation finals to Mary Graber of Trinity 7-6, 6-2 Sunday, while Cindy Crawford lost in the third round of the winner's bracket to TCU's Rene Simpson 1-6, 3-6.

In the first round of the consolation bracket, A&M's Missy Kibler was defeated by Lamar's Jill Oakenfull 2-6, 3-6.

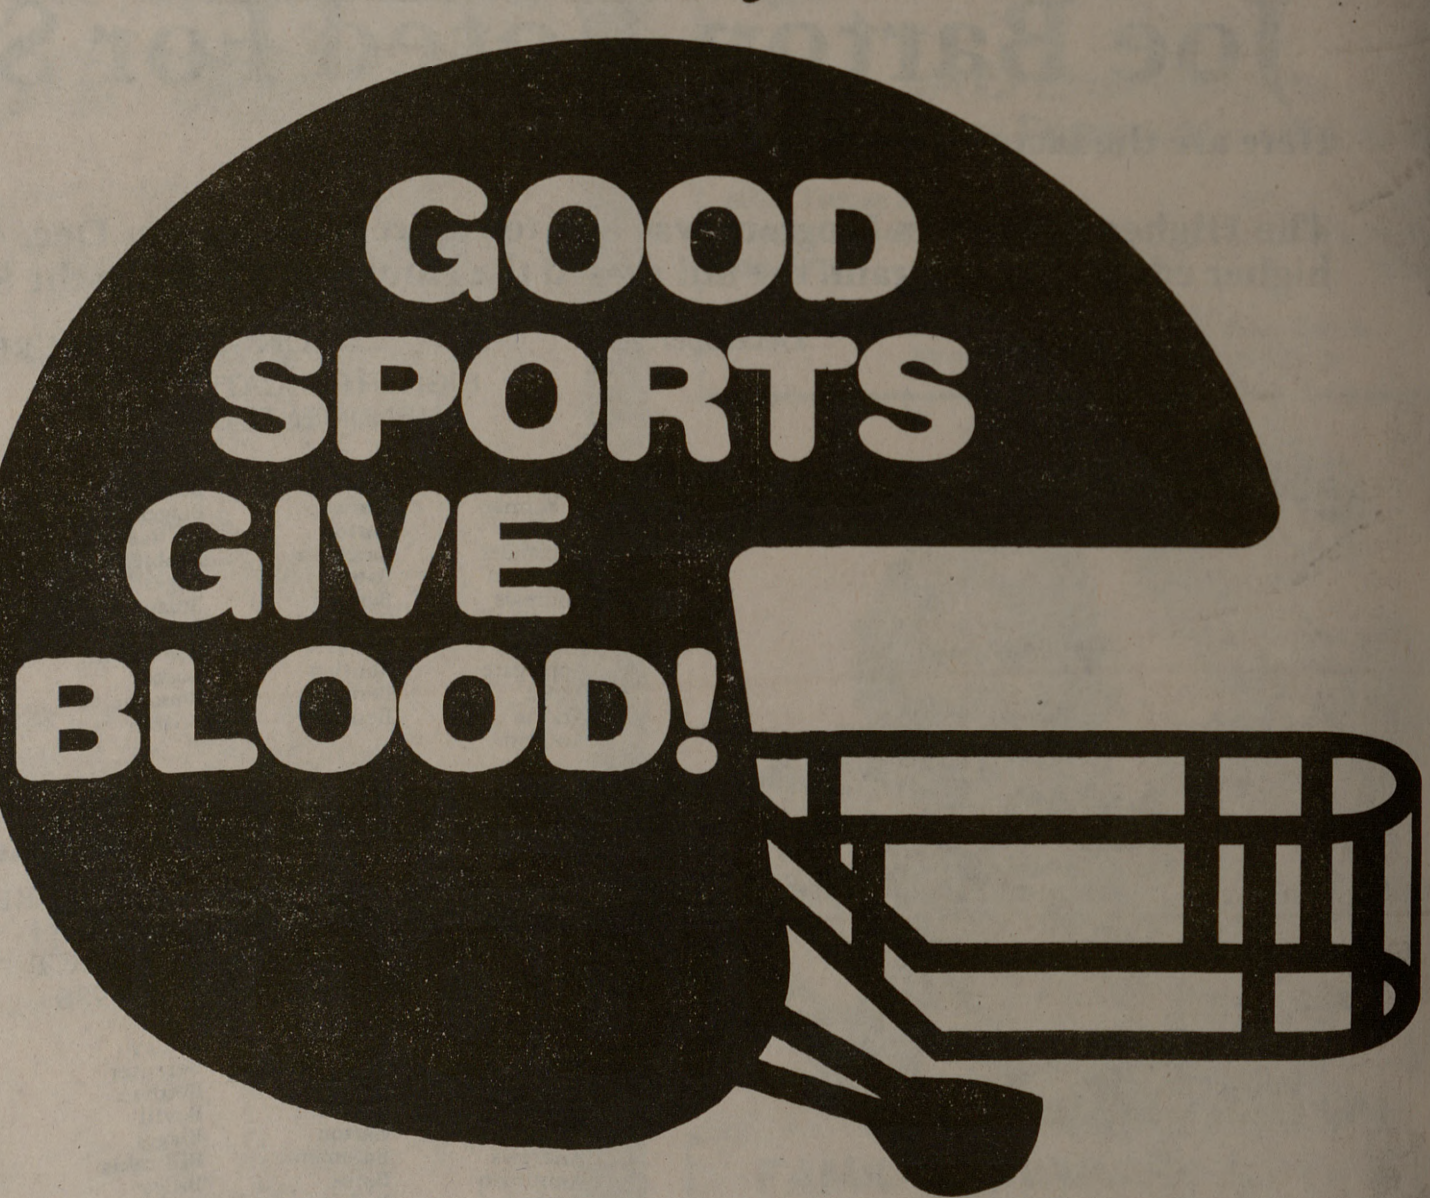

A&M Coach Bobby Kleinecke said he was pleased with Liong's performance.

"That's the best showing Laura had this year," he said.

A&M's Kim Labuschagne went down with pulled groin muscle early in the tournament, while Gary Lynne Gensler twisted her knee in the middle of her first-round match, and Kellie Dorman suffered a strained stomach muscle.

Kleinecke said everyone with the possible exception of Gensler should be healthy in time for the Rice Invitational in Houston this weekend.
