Army clashes with rioters in Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Army troops fired on rioters here Monday and rival ethnic gangs battled with guns and homemade bombs, leaving eight people dead in a fourth day of street battles, officials and witnesses said.

At least 44 people have died and 300 have been injured in violence that began Friday.

Hundreds of soldiers were sent to Karachi Monday to reinforce army units deployed over the weekend.

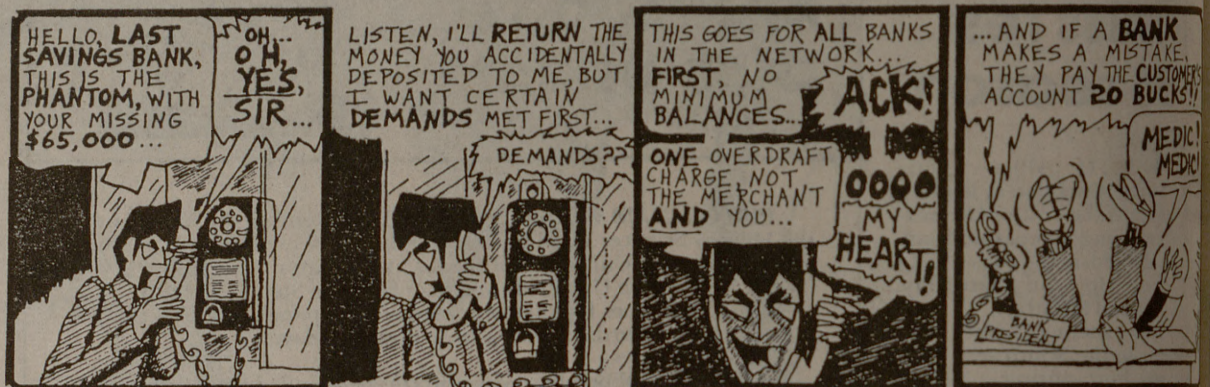

Thousands of riot police clashed again with roving gangs of rioters who defied a curfew.

The gangs stoned traffic, set fire to buses and other vehicles, looted and set fire to shops and blocked roads with burning debris, witnesses said.

Violence began when a group of Muhajirs traveling to a political meeting in Hyderabad passed through a Pathan district in Karachi Friday. A gunbattle between Pathans and Majahirs erupted, and disturbances broke out in Hyderabad when word of the fighting reached there.

New ambassador meets Mexico's president

MEXICO CITY (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Charles J. Pilliod Jr. asked not to be compared to his predecessor, former actor John Gavin, as he presented his credentials to Mexico's president Monday.

"I don't think you should compare me with senor Gavin," Pilliod said when asked if his statements would be as controversial. "He's pre-tier than I am, and I'm a better actor than he is."

Pilliod, 68, was an executive with Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio.

In a prepared statement read after presenting his credentials to President Miguel de la Madrid at the National Palace, Pilliod said he had delivered "a personal message from President Reagan reiterating his commitment to strengthening the ties between our countries."

He described U.S.-Mexican relations as "dynamic and complex."

"We are friends. . . . There's no country in the world that has a closer relationship (with the United States)," he said.

The ambassador's post has been vacant since May after Gavin resigned after five years in Mexico.

Gavin had been accused of making "interventionist" speeches.

The Mexican government formally protested to Washington last week over the new drug law that could reduce funds to any country judged not to be doing enough in the war against illegal drugs.
