Three straight losses knock Louisville from AP hoop poll

(AP) — Defending national champion Louisville, 0-3 after the Great Alaska Shootout, was bounced out of the Associated Press college basketball rankings Monday.

Louisville, No. 2 in the preseason poll, suffered an 88-84 overtime loss to Northeastern in Alaska. Then the Cardinals were beaten by Washington 69-54 and by Texas 74-70.

North Carolina, which scored easy triumphs over two Hawaiian opponents, remained No. 1 in the first regular-season poll.

The Tar Heels, winners over Hawaii 98-78 and Hawaii Loa 118-80, landed 53 first-place votes and 1,246 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Nevada-Las Vegas, 4-0, used its 96-95 double-overtime victory over Western Kentucky for the National Invitation Tournament crown to move from No. 5 to No. 2 with 1,110 points. Despite the loss, Western Kentucky, which had been unranked, moved into the No. 14 spot.

Indiana and Purdue, both from the Big Ten, stayed third and fourth, respectively. Iowa, another Big Ten team, moved from 10th to

No. 5 after winning the Great Alaska Shootout.

Indiana, which defeated Montana State 90-55 in its opener, received 1,093 points, Purdue, which attracted four first-place votes after beating Stetson 97-65 in its only game, had 1,048. Iowa, which beat Alaska-Anchorage, North Carolina State, then ranked No. 17, and Northeastern, 103-80, to win the Great Alaska Shootout, accumulated 834.

Kansas, 1-0, gained two spots from the preseason poll with 827 points. Auburn, Alabama and Illinois are now Nos. 7 through 9 after being 12th through 14th. Auburn, and Alabama are 1-0, while Illinois is 2-0.

Navy, which recovered after losing to N.C. State in the Tipoff Classic, beat Michigan State 91-90 in overtime for the Spartan Cutlass Classic title, rounded out the Top Ten with 527 points.

Oklahoma, which lost to Nevada-Las Vegas in the second round of the NIT, dropped from No. 7 to 11th to head the Second Ten.

Moon's play frustrates Glanville

HOUSTON (AP) — It's too bad Houston quarterback Warren Moon came up with a clunker of a game in Cleveland when his teammates played at or above their abilities, Oilers Coach Jerry Glanville said Monday.

"If we'd just played normal at quarterback," Glanville said at his weekly news conference after the Oilers bowed to AFC Central Division leader Cleveland 13-10 in overtime Sunday. "But every quarterback has a bad day like that."

Moon completed only five of 23 passes for a mere 68 yards and tossed four interceptions before injuring the thumb on his passing hand and giving way to second-stringer Oliver Luck with 5:43 to go. Luck led a drive to tie the game at 10-10 with 50 seconds left.

But Luck threw two interceptions in overtime, the last one leading to a game-winning field goal by Cleveland's Mark Moseley.

"It was just a great game," Glanville said. "I just wish we could have won. I feel the worst I've ever felt as a head coach. They need to be rewarded. A lot of teams that won Sunday didn't play as hard as we did. That's what's so tough to swallow. It's a crime that after an effort like that, we didn't win the game."

The only consolation for Glanville and his 3-10 Oilers was that they held the Browns to a tie until Moseley ended it with 22 seconds left in overtime.

"The officials came up to me after the game and said they never had seen a team play that hard," Glanville said. "Part of the enjoyment of coaching is watching a guy get the maximum he can get out of the God-given abilities he possesses. And a lot of people played as good as they ever could play. Unfortunately, we did not win."

The atmosphere on the field was like a playoff game, with fierce hitting and enthusiasm, Glanville said.

"I wish every Oiler fan could have been on our sideline and been there in the hunt — just to feel what was going on in that game," he said. "I think the entire game was played 100 mph on both sides."

Glanville said the next step would be to win a game like this.

"We're five times better and have nothing to show for it," he said. "It's hard on us and hard on our fans. We all want to win."

An immediate concern, however, is finding a healthy running back.

Starter Mike Rozier, the team's leading rusher, picked up 26 yards on seven carries Sunday before going down with a knee injury. Surgery was scheduled for this week and Rozier's season is finished.

The decision on whether Luck will start next weekend at San Diego won't be made until the extent of Moon's thumb injury is known, he said.
