No. 2 Ags nab softball tourney title

The No.2-ranked Texas A&M softball team opened the season over the weekend by capturing the title of the Southwestern Louisiana Invitational Tournament in Lafayette, La.

The Aggies defeated the University of Texas at Arlington 2-0 in the first game Saturday. Sophomore pitcher Julie Carpenter threw a two-hit shutout for A&M, and Torrey Parks got the game-winning RBI in the fourth inning by knocking home Shawn Andaya, who doubled.

In the championship game, the Aggies trounced the host team University of Southwestern Louisiana 4-0. Andaya was the winning pitcher, giving a three-hit, 11-strikeout performance.

The four runs all came in the second inning, as Julie Smith knocked home Kelli Biggs and Judy Russell hit a triple to bring three more runs home.

A&M defeats UNLV, Wichita State in weekend men's tennis action

By Hal L. Hammons
Sports Writer

The Texas A&M men's tennis team had to wait 2½ hours and play an abbreviated version of a match, but it still was able to defeat Nevada-Las Vegas 3-2 Friday afternoon at the Omar Smith Tennis Center.

Because of the rain delay, the teams agreed to play only four singles matches and one doubles match.

Aggie Coach David Kent had little but good to things to say about his team's effort. He was especially pleased with the efforts of No. 3 player Marcel Vos, who Kent said played an almost-perfect game.

Kent said No. 1 player Dean Goldfine played very well also, even though he ended up losing his match to Scott Warner, an old friend from Goldfine's high school years, 7-5, 6-4. Kent said losing to Warner was no shame, as he has one of the best serves in the collegiate ranks.

Kent also raved about the five-match format. He said he expected the four singles-one doubles program to be officially instituted by the NCAA in the next couple of years.

He said the advantage to such a system is mainly in the time saved. An entire five-match tournament can be played simultaneously and be over in an hour or less.

"It's totally ridiculous to stay out here three-and-a-half to four hours to play one match," Kent said.

He also said the shorter matches would be easier on the fans, who might not be willing or able to stay for three hours or more to see the entire match.

In other matches, A&M's Dean Johnson defeated John McCauley 6-2, 6-1, and A&M's Marcel Vos downed Mark Johnson 6-2, 6-1.

UNLV's Lee Rosenthal defeated Brent Haygarth 1-6, 6-3, 6-2 to grab the Rebels' second victory. The A&M duo of Shawn O'Donovan and Steve Kennedy won the doubles match by beating Mark Coronado and Crombie Hatfield 6-0, 6-3.

In a match held Sunday at the Omar Smith Tennis Center, A&M defeated Wichita State 6-2 to up its season record to 8-1.

"We've had some really hard matches with them through the years, and this one was no different," Kent said. "We played some good tennis today."

In singles action, Vos beat Wichita State's Kristofer Braaten 6-4, 6-7, 6-1, and Goldfine lost to Stefan Suthouse 6-4, 6-3. Haygarth was defeated by Dan Astelin 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 and O'Donovan remained unbeaten at 9-0 by beating Andy Wintirch 6-4, 6-0. Kennedy also won, beating Ian Ernst 6-4, 6-4.

Davis signs 1-year pact with Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros announced Sunday night the first baseman Glenn Davis had agreed to terms on a one-year contract with the club.

Davis will report to the team spring training camp at Kissimmee Fla., today, officials added.

Terms of the contract were not announced.

Earlier Sunday, the Astros had announced that Davis had rejected the club's $210,000 contract offer and submitted a counter-proposal that the Astros were considering.

On Friday, General Manager Dan Wagner raised the Astros' offer to Davis to $210,000 — $40,000 below what Davis was seeking.

Also on Sunday, the Astros announced the signing of pitchers Deshaies and Charlie Kerfeld to disclosed one-year contracts. Infielder Bert Pena and relief pitcher Julio Solano signed one-year contracts, Astros' spokesman Rob Maro said.

76ers' Barkley spells defeat for poor-shooting Rockets

HOUSTON (AP) — Philadelphia forward Charles Barkley said the 76ers knew they would defeat the Houston Rockets on Sunday.

"We felt good, we knew we were going to win this game. Some days it is just like that," said Barkley, who had 14 points and 15 rebounds as the 76ers snapped a four-game losing streak with a 102-97 NBA victory. He also made a key fourth-quarter assist securing the win.

Philadelphia Coach Matt Guokas praised Barkley's performance.

"Barkley's concentration in the fourth quarter was as good as I've seen this year," Guokas said. "In some games Barkley scores a lot, but today he got the big rebounds and made a great assist to (Andrew) Toney in the last two minutes for a big basket."

A stern Philadelphia defense kept Houston forward Akeem Olajuwon from scoring in the second quarter and held the Rockets to 45-percent shooting from the field.

"They were giving us the outside shots and we couldn't hit them," Rockets Coach Bill Fitch said. "You've got to be able to penetrate and drive when they lay off of you."

The 76ers, however, had to withstand a frantic second-half rally by the Rockets to win.

Center Tim McCormick led Philadelphia with 26 points, while Maurice Cheeks added 17 and Roy Hinson added 15.

Olajuwon and Rodney McCray each scored 24 points for Houston.

The Rockets opened the second half with eight straight points to tie the game at 57. But the 76ers countered with 11 straight points, led by Hinson with seven, and led by nine at the end of the third quarter.

The Rockets rallied to trail by 85-84 midway through the fourth quarter, but two points each down the stretch by Hinson, Cheeks and Toney preserved Philadelphia's victory.

Philadelphia took a 33-24 first-quarter lead as McCormick scored 12 points.

In the second quarter, reserve forward Danny Vranes tossed in 10 points and grabbed five rebounds for the 76ers. Philadelphia's defense held Olajuwon scoreless in the quarter, but a 15-point performance by McCray kept the Rockets close.

SMU alumni may file suit

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A Southern Methodist alumnus said $30,000 has been raised as a legal war chest to finance a federal lawsuit challenging the NCAA's right to shut down SMU's football program because of recruiting violations, the San Antonio Express-News reported Sunday.

The alumnus, Reid Ryan of Corpus Christi, Texas, said the suit could be filed at 9 a.m. Tuesday in Corpus Christi or Dallas.

"We haven't determined where is the best place for the suit to be filed," Reid said. "A lot of the Dallas people want it up there."

NCAA members voted 427-6 in January 1985 for implementation of the so-called death penalty sanctions for schools found guilty of major rules violations twice in a five-year period.

SMU became the first school hit with the death penalty. SMU was in the second year of a three-year probation term when the latest penalties came down.

Deshaies, 26, had a 12-5 record with a 3.25 ERA in 1986. His 12 victories established an Astros' rookie record. Kerfeld, 23, who had threatened to leave if his contract was renewed arbitrarily by the club, had a record of 11-2 with seven saves and a 2.59 ERA in 1986.

Wagner said he intends to start renewing the contracts of unsigned players Sunday.

Davis could have his contract renewed at a figure between his 1986 salary and the Astros' final 1987 offer.

Under baseball rules, a team has the right to renew the contract of any unsigned player with less than three years of major league service between Sunday and March 10.

The team can renew the contract at any figure, providing it is more than a 20 percent pay cut from the player's previous salary. After March 10, the player in question becomes a free agent.

Manager Hal Lanier is ready to end the Astros' salary squabbles to end. "Hopefully, everything with the unsigned players will be straightened out," Lanier said.
