UNLV

give UNLV a lead at 10:07 of the second half, and the Rebels never trailed again. Banks capped a 27-4 run by the Runnin' Rebels with another 3-pointer with 8:26 remaining to make it 71-66.

Iowa refused to fold, however, moving to within 82-78 on a basket by guard B.J. Armstrong with 2:05 remaining. The two teams then exchanged steals before Banks missed a free throw, and Iowa got the ball with about a minute left.

Gamble hit a 3-point shot with 33 seconds left to pull within 82-81 and Iowa used its zone press to keep UNLV from reaching the half-court line within the required 10 seconds, forcing a turnover.

Gamble, on what appeared to be a designed play to 7-foot Brad Lohaus inside, hit the backboard with his pass, giving UNLV the ball with 14 seconds left.

UNLV senior guard Gary Graham made both his free throws after being fouled with 10 seconds left, setting up the final missed shot by Gamble, who had put Iowa in the West Regional finals by hitting a 3-point basket in overtime to beat Oklahoma on Friday.

Gilliam, who kept UNLV in the game through a miserable first-half performance, led all scorers with 27 points while Paddio had 20 and Banks added 17 for the Runnin' Rebels.

Gamble and B.J. Armstrong both had 18 points for Iowa. Lohaus added 12 points, 10 of them in the first half.

The second half was a complete reversal from a first half dominated by Iowa. The Hawkeyes used a strong inside game and UNLV's cold outside shooting to break open a close game and lead 54-35 with 2:09 remaining.

Paddio was 0-5 from behind the 3-point line in the half and Banks was only 1-6. As a team, UNLV shot 38 percent in the first half while Iowa shot 73 percent, mostly from inside.

Those percentages reversed themselves in the second half, however, as UNLV shot 54 percent from the field and hit seven of 13 3-pointers. Iowa grew cold, shooting 36 percent in the second half. Iowa attempted only six 3-point shots during the game, hitting two of them, while UNLV was 11-of-30 for the game.

The tone for UNLV's first half was set in the opening seconds when Banks missed the first shot of the game and Paddio grabbed the long rebound, only to miss a 3-point attempt.

Iowa ran to a quick 4-0 lead but UNLV came back to take its first lead of the game, 7-6, on a stuff by Jarvis Basnight with 17:35 left in the half.

The Hawkeyes then made a 12-2 run to take an 18-9 lead, but UNLV clawed back on a run led by Gilliam. The Runnin' Rebels took their final lead of the first half when Graham hit a 3-point shot to make it 30-29 with 8:24 left in the half.

The lead was short-lived, however, as Iowa tied it at 31 before going on a 20-2 spurt capped by six straight points by sophomore Ed Horton as UNLV kept missing outside shots.

UNLV, which trailed at halftime six other times this season, won all of those games with second-half charges.

Thon's asking for psychiatric help seen as possible end to career

HOUSTON (AP) — Shortstop Dickie Thon has asked the Houston Astros to arrange psychiatric assistance for him, a move that casts his future with the National League club into doubt, a team spokesman said Sunday.

"Plans are being made in Houston to satisfy this request," Astros spokesman Chuck Pool said from the team's training camp in Kissimmee, Fla. "In view of this, the club does not see Thon in its training plans for the opening of the season."

Agent Tom Reich said arrangements are being made for Thon to see a specialist to help him with the psychological scars left when a beating incident in 1984 almost ended his career.

"Dickie is suffering from a lot of stress," Reich said. "We received the results from the eye tests that we expected. We know his vision isn't going to change. Obviously, at this point, Dickie isn't ready to play."

Thon underwent a 2½-hour eye examination Friday and test results showed his vision hasn't changed from last year.

Thon left the club's training camp March 14 after being frustrated with his performance and having trouble seeing the ball during exhibition games. He went hitless in eight at-bats, struck out twice and committed three errors in the three spring games he started.

The Astros will use Craig Reynolds and Bert Pena at the shortstop position when they open their season in two weeks, Pool said.

General Manager Dick Wagner said there were no plans to fine Thon at this time. Earlier, the team said they would fine Thon $1,000 a day for missing camp.

Thon said Saturday he does not plan to return to camp in the near future.

"I'm not going (back to camp) anytime soon," Thon said from his home in Houston. "I don't know when I'll go back to Florida. They want to make me make a decision right away, but I'm not going to do it."

He did not say if he was planning to retire from baseball. He said he wanted to get back to playing, but only when his vision improves.

Thon, 28, was Houston's starting shortstop on April 8, 1984, when he was hit above the left eye on a pitch by New York Mets pitcher Mike Torrez in the fifth game of the 1984 season.

Thon said another option he may pursue is getting a second opinion about his vision.

"I may go see another doctor on Monday," he said.

Spring drills begin today for Aggies

By Ed Bodde
Assistant Sports Editor

The road to a possible consecutive SWC championship starts today as the Aggies begin spring football practice.

Texas A&M will return starters from a team that lost 12 to Ohio State in the 1987 ton Bowl.

Seven starters return on offense including all-conference quarterback Kevin Murray, tecting Murray will be a seven offensive line anchored by Cheek at left tackle; Tracy Guire and Jerry Fontenot are returning guards, while Mason looks to hold down the center position.

The Aggies will have to replace leading rusher Roger Vick their top receiver, tight end Bernstein. Look for running Keith Woodside and wide receiver Rod Harris to take up slack.

On defense, Texas A&M have to find replacements for of the seven spots up front.

are linebackers Johnny Holt, Todd Howard, Larry Kellum, Steve Bullitt and defensive end Rod Saddler and Jay Muller.

The secondary should be as strong as safety Alex Morris, safety Kip Corrington and nerback Terrance Brooks.

Noseguard Sammy O'Brien the lone returning starter on line. Outside linebacker Roper, a part-time starter, returns.

Leading candidates to fill a vacancy in the linebacking are Basil Jackson, who stepped in for Auburn's Bo Jackson on the goal in the 1986 Cotton Bowl, Dana Batiste and Wallace.

One change from previous spring practices is there will be a spring Maroon and White game to conclude the drills end April 23.
