OU's Bosworth ineligible for NFL draft

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma linebacker Brian Bosworth did not make contact with the NFL by Monday's deadline and thus is ineligible for the April 28 draft, a league official said. Joel Bussert, director of player personnel for the NFL, said shortly before his office closed that Bosworth had not submitted the required written statement saying he wished to be included in the regular draft.

"We don't have anything, and it has to be in writing," Bussert said. "A phone call would not be sufficient."

Had he heard from Bosworth at all?

"No," Bussert said. Earlier Monday, Bosworth said he had not made up his mind. Efforts to reach him in Norman, Okla. and at his parents' home in Irving, later in the day were unsuccessful.

Bosworth may now choose to enter a supplemental draft to be held later this year, or he can return to Oklahoma where he has one year of eligibility remaining.

If the two-time All-America returns to school, however, it likely won't be to play football. Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer has said Bosworth will not be back, and the linebacker has not taken part in spring drills.

Bosworth, 6-foot-2 and 240 pounds, was expected to be one of the top five players drafted. His reluctance to enter the draft centered mainly on his wish not to play for the Indianapolis Colts or Buffalo Bills, who have the second and third picks.

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers, who pick first, will take Miami quarterback Vinny Testaverde. The Heisman Trophy winner has already signed a contract with the Buccaneers.

Bosworth has said he prefers to play on a grass field instead of artificial turf, and that he wants to play with a winner or in a high-profile city such as New York or Los Angeles.

He was interested in playing with the Philadelphia Eagles and their coach, Buddy Ryan. The Eagles play on artificial turf and won only five games last year, but Ryan is recognized as an outstanding defensive coach.

"He has said he'd like to play here," said Joe Wooley, the Eagles' player personnel director. "I think our situation would be very good for him. We play a 4-3 defense, and that features the middle linebacker. With a 3-4 team, he's just the other inside linebacker."

The Eagles, who pick ninth, made what Wooley called "a very substantial offer" to Indianapolis in an effort to acquire the Colts' spot in the draft. The Colts refused.

While Bosworth was being chosen by the Colts or Bills in the regular draft, there is a guarantee a poor team would get him in the supplemental draft.

In that process, Tampa Bay will get to toss 28 slips of paper into the hopper. Indianapolis will get 27, Buffalo 26, etc., with the Super Bowl champion New York Giants getting one slip of paper.

UT will contest some of NCAA's allegations

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas plans to contest less than half of the 62 allegations the NCAA made against the school's football program, a school lawyer said.

The final report to the National Collegiate Athletic Association will include denials of allegations made concerning excessive entertainment money for student athletes during recruits' visits, attorney Knox Nunnally told the Austin American-Statesman.

Nunnally said the report, which is about 70 pages, was being sent by special delivery to the NCAA Monday.

The report is broken down into four areas. The school classified the allegations as those it considers substantially correct, those considered correct but with mitigating circumstances, those involving conflicting evidence and those UT denials.

"A lot of those on the entertainment expenses are denied," Nunnally said, citing six charges that UT made at least 10 payments to UT athletes ranging up to $80 more than the $20 per diem.

"There is also conflicting evidence on the legal assistance given by (Austin attorney) Albert Walker," Nunnally said. "We're not sure the athletes got something that wasn't also available to other student-athletes."

Walker was alleged to have provided legal assistance to 26 Longhorn athletes, but the lawyer also was found to have assisted 190 other UT students.

Mitigating circumstances were discovered on some of the allegations involving 15 loans to athletes totaling $670, Nunnally said.

Nunnally and UT officials will meet with the NCAA Infractions Committee for a preliminary conference before the school's official hearing at Hilton Head, S.C., April 24-26.

The NCAA sent a letter to UT officials in March alleging rules violations in 19 categories in the Longhorns' football program from 1980 through 1986.

The allegations included loans and gifts of small amounts of cash to athletes, the loan of automobiles, and entertainment cash in excess of that allowed by NCAA rules for athletes who host recruits during visits to the campus, Nunnally said in March.

K.C.'s Jackson starts season on right foot

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Bo Jackson's double off the wall was more impressive to Dave Winfield than the home run he hit into a strong wind.

"That ball was PAST him," the New York Yankees right-fielder told teammate Rickey Henderson. "That ball was already past him in the strike zone. It should have been a swing and a miss, or a foul ball."

"You mean the shot he hit over your head?" Henderson asked with a grin.

Just 17 months ago, Vincent Edward "Bo" Jackson was capping a brilliant college football career in which he rushed for more than 4,000 yards and won the Heisman Trophy. In baseball, which only close friends knew was his favorite sport, he had only about 200 at-bats in college games.

After spurning millions of dollars from the NFL's Tampa Bay Buccaneers, he holds or shares the Royals' team lead in runs, hits, total bases and RBI. Including 25 games he played in Kansas City last September, the muscular 225-pounder has hit the longest home run in Royals Stadium history and legged out eight infield singles.

"I'm enjoying myself. I'm having the time of my life," he said. "And the more I play, the better I'll get. I feel like I'm 100 percent better than I was last September."

The Royals shocked a lot of baseball purists by deciding to start the unpolished tailback-turned-outfielder in left field this season. But after three games against the White Sox and three against the Yankees, he's hitting .417 with an on-base percentage of .714. He punished the Yankees

"I'm enjoying myself. I'm having the time of my life. And the more I play, the better I'll get. I feel like I'm 100 percent better than I was last September."

— Bo Jackson

to the tune of 8-for-12 with a home run, five RBI and an opposite-field double that Winfield feels should never have happened.

Jackson did strike out seven times in the first six games. He's also been guilty of a couple of judgment errors in the outfield. But the good has far outweighed the bad.

"I said this spring that it was remarkable the progress he had made from last year to this year," said John Schuerholz, Royals general manager. "But it is even more remarkable the progress he's made this first week."

Norman says Masters to serve as motivator for future tournaments

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Greg Norman attempted to think positively about the biggest disappointment of his golfing life.

"It makes me more determined than ever to go ahead and make 1987 a better year than 1986," he said after a miraculous shot by Larry Mize had made him a loser again in one of golf's major championships.

So Norman, beaten by Bob Tway's bunker shot in the PGA last fall and by Mize's playoff, 140-foot pitch-in Sunday in the Masters, will go about his business as usual this week, heading to Hilton Head Island, S.C. for the $650,000 Heritage Classic.

Did he consider skipping the Heritage tournament, which begins Thursday, to recover from what he called "the toughest loss I've ever had?"

"No," Norman said. "If I stayed home, I'd just be slamming things off the walls."

"This doesn't change anything on my schedule. I'm going to play as much as I can between now and September and try to make this a better year than last year," said Norman, who won 10 tournaments, including the British Open, and about $1.2 million during his remarkable 1986 season. "There are three majors to go."

"This is the toughest loss I've ever had because Larry's shot was harder than Bob's," Norman said. "I guess it wasn't meant to be."

"You feel 'Why me?' You wonder when it will change. You've got to fight for everything and then you get beat by shots like Tway and Mize made, 140-foot chip shots."

Last year, Norman led each of the major tournaments — the Masters, U.S. Open, British Open and the PGA, but won only the British Open.

Meanwhile, Mize has no some changes in his schedule. "I really haven't had a chance to think about it yet," Mize said of possibilities opened by his first triumph in a major tournament.

Mize, who had scored only two previous professional victories in a year PGA Tour career, now has

try to such elite events as the Open, the World Series of Golf, the invitational tournaments, and the year's Tournament of Champions and a spot in the 30-man field will compete in the season-ending million Championships of Golf.

The first inkling of the race came when Jack Nicklaus slipped Masters green jacket over his shoulders Sunday.

"Jack said, 'This will open a door for you.' I tend to think knows what he's talking about," said Norman.

Mize, who was born and grew in Augusta, who worked on the Masters scoreboards as a boy, who peek over the fences when he couldn't get in to the Masters, will be an honored guest at the gate of the exclusive Augusta National Golf Club.

NHL playoffs in full swing as action resumes tonight

From the Associated Press
After upsetting the powerful Edmonton Oilers in a tough seven-game playoff series last year and losing only once to them in eight regular-season NHL games this year, the Calgary Flames were looking forward to a postseason rematch with their provincial rivals.

But the Flames may not get that chance if Winnipeg continues to have its way in their Smythe Division semifinal series. The Jets rallied from a 2-0 deficit Sunday night to beat the Flames 4-3 in Game 4 and lead the best-of-seven series 3-1. The Jets can clinch the series with a victory tonight at Calgary.

At Quebec, the Nordiques rebounded from two losses at Hartford to tie their Adams Division series at 2-2 with weekend triumphs. The Nordiques failed to win at Hartford during the regular season, and Game 5 is there tonight.

Teams needing only one more victory to advance to division finals are the Washington Capitals, who beat the New York Islanders Sunday night in the Patrick Division and the Oilers, 6-3 winners over the Los Angeles Kings in the Smythe Division. Those series will continue tonight at Washington and Edmonton.

In the other series, the New York Rangers defeated the Philadelphia Flyers 6-3 in the Patrick Division and the Toronto Maple Leafs nipped the St. Louis Blues 2-1 in the Norris Division. Those series will resume tonight at Philadelphia and St. Louis.

Defending Stanley Cup champion Montreal beat the Boston Bruins in the 18th consecutive time in possession play with a four-game sweep of the Adams Division, and the Detroit Red Wings swept the Chicago Blackhawks in four games in the Norris Division. The Canadiens will be the winner of the Hartford-Quebec series, while the Red Wings will be either the Maple Leafs or the
